PRESIDENT HITS JINGO IN EULOGY OF WASHINGTON

Decries Hatred of Alien Nations.

Envy, malice, uncharitableness, class jealousies, race prejudices and international enmities are not realities. They do not abide. They are only the fiction of unenlightened comprehension.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

[To 6,000 school superintendents last evening.]

BY JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—"There was nothing about him of the small American."

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE.
[Hartzook Photo.]

President Coolidge gave that sentence to 6,000 American school teachers this evening, as his key word about George Washington.

The wave of applause that rolled toward him from seats in Washington auditorium that were a whole city block away from the desk at which he stood, must have convinced the President that he had struck the right note.

And it was that note—the note of the noble spaciousness of Washington's character and views—that the thirtieth President of the United States emphasized in his birthday tribute to the first President.

Represent 700,000 Teachers.

The immense assemblage that greeted Mr. Coolidge was one of the most significant he has addressed since he came into the presidency. It represented an American teaching body of 700,000 American men and women and it was drawn from every state in the Union by the opening of the fifty-sixth annual convention of the department of superintendence of the National Education association.

And so the President made his greeting to the teachers center around the thought of Washington as a teacher. He called him "a prince of teachers," and said that "if to set a mark upon men's minds that changes the whole course of human events is teaching," then is George Washington veritably a teacher.

And who, the President asked, who, save a few of the great religious teachers, has ever "so thoroughly impressed himself on the heart of humanity as has Washington?"

Washington, the Tolerant.

What Calvin Coolidge especially loves is the grand tolerance of Washington as a teacher.

"No man," he said, "clung more tenaciously to what he believed was right, or was prepared to make greater sacrifices in its support. But he viewed the right as a universal principle, to be applied, not only to himself, but to others, not only to his own state, but to the nation, not only to his own countrymen, but to foreigners. There was nothing about him of the small American."

The speaker extolled Washington as the antithesis of the jingo and the chauvinist, saying:

"He believed our political institutions were the best in the world, but he never preached hatred of things foreign."

Here the President gave significant emphasis to his warning against those who do so preach. "They are not safe advisers," he said. "They are not sound leaders, and nothing but discord and disaster at home and abroad can result from following their policies."

Concessions to Others.

The President told how practical and genuine he thought Washington was in the application of his doctrine of international give and take, how in the negotiation of treaties he had "made large concessions which were to the advantage of foreign nations." He told how Washington believed that "what we expected to receive we should be ready to give, both in the field of citizenship and in the larger domain of international relations."

That passage in the birthday oration was instantly interpreted as Mr. Coolidge's reaffirmation of his war debts policy. He tapped the passage home with these words:

"Washington believed that obligations are mutual. He clung to the [illegible]. That was his greatness. . . . He always knew what he was doing. He was not a sentimentalist."

The President took up Washington's [illegible] that document which he said was in a very special and [illegible] the testament of a teacher

INDIANA RUSHES TROOPS TO MINE STRIKE REGION

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Indiana National Guard troops tonight were ordered to the mining district in southwestern Indiana to assist local authorities in preventing any disorder that may arise in connection with the reopening of nonunion mines tomorrow.

The troop movement was ordered by Adj. Gen. William H. Kershner after a conference with Gov. Ed Jackson. The adjutant general said the troops were being sent for service only if civil authorities are unable to control the situation.

The southwestern Indiana mining district has been the scene of sporadic outbreaks for several weeks. Recently several nonunion mines were closed after they had been visitd by several hundred union sympathizers.

The troops ordered to the district comprise units from Indianapolis, Greensburg, and Kokomo. They include the 113th observation squadron from Kokomo, Company B, 151st Infantry, from Greensburg, and Company D, 151st Infantry, from Indianapolis.

"Last reports from the mining districts," said Adjutant General Kershner, "were to the effect that the situation is quiet. However, it is possible that civil authorities may not be able to handle disturbances that may arise with the reopening of the mines."

DOES WHIP MAKE BETTER CHILDREN COURT TO DECIDE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Feb. 22. — Five hundred and thirty witnesses and eight scientific experts will testify at a trial which centers on the momentous human problem, "Do children improve with beating or not?"

Baron von Lustzow, head of the Buckow private school for boys, is charged with cruelty, severe whippings, and possibly sinister designs in seventy cases before the court. The baron asserts the charges are not justified and that the only way to handle the wild boys intrusted to him is to beat them.

Pathologists, pedagogues, and psychologists will be called as expert witnesses by the court. The accused baron is placing his main hope in the parents of the pupils themselves.

Pope Demands Mussolini End Vatican Bonds

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, Feb. 22.—Pope Pius XI. tonight informed Premier Mussolini's government through the medium of a letter to Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, that he would not recognize the forthcoming church reform laws, soon to be passed by the Italian parliament, unless an official accord was reached with the Holy See. The pope added that no such accord can be reached while he is kept a "prisoner in the Vatican" by the "iniquitous conditions" imposed on the pontiff when the Italians occupied Rome in 1870 and destroyed the temporal powers of the pope.

The papal letter was more than a notification. It was an invitation to the Fascist government to begin negotiations for a settlement of the entire Roman question, according to a spokesman for Sig. Mussolini.

Objects to Fascist Training Youth.

The ecclesiastical legislation, which the pope admits greatly improves conditions for the church and clergy, has been drawn up in the presence of the prelate's acting observers, but without direct mandates of the Vatican. The Holy See also objects to recent Fascist laws.

The Vatican objects in particular to the suppression of Catholic workers' unions and to the "balilla," a new Fascist organization for training the Italian youth. THE TRIBUNE learns from a high authority that the church will oppose to the last any attempt to take the training of Italian children from its authority.

Experts in Vatican diplomacy see in the papal letter a wonderful opportunity to settle the whole Roman question.

The Pope's Letter.

The papal letter, in part, follows:

"It has been announced that the proposals of the ministerial commission on ecclesiastic legislation in Italy are about to become laws. They concern, as your excellency well knows, reforms in ecclesiastic legislation often discussed by the press. The circumstance that ecclesiastic experts were invited to take part in the commission to study the preparation of these reforms caused it to be thought that they were studied and prepared in accord with the Holy See, the highest church authority. On many occasions it was clearly pointed out that no accord existed, as the experts received no mandates.

"Now that the proposals are about to become laws and that this legislation touches the affairs of persons who, at least in principle, are subordinate to the holy power of God, delegated in us. The duties of the apostolic office, for which we are answerable before God and only before God, commands us to say that we cannot recognize that any others have the rights or powers to give laws concerning such affairs and persons, except after detailed and proper negotiations and legislative accords with the Holy See and with us.

"Certainly no one in the world will easily be led to believe without these negotiations and accords with the highest Roman pontiff that there exists a Catholic individual in Rome who would presume to grant new legal status to the Catholic church of Italy.

"Not one proper negotiation nor legitimate accord has been reached or will be reached so long as the iniquitous conditions toward the Holy See and the Roman pontiff continue."

U. S. BETRAYED IN LEAGUE TRAP, BORAH WARNS

12,000 Cheer Old Washington Policy.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Washington's birthday had a new kind of celebration yesterday, a protest meeting against surrender of the principles bequeathed by the Father of His Country. Senator William E. Borah, in the forum of the middle west, "where no cloture rule can be pulled to choke off debate," opened the fight to snatch America out of the world court and to hold fast to the policies of the immortal George as laid down in his farewell address.

Before one of the greatest audiences that ever filled the historic Coliseum, Borah stripped what he denounced as the disguise from the world court, pulled away all the ambush and colored signboards, and revealed it as, in his judgment, the back alley entrance of the league of nations. Time and again the great hall rose to its feet in bellowing approbation, and on occasions burst into demonstrations of the kind heard at national political conventions.

12,000 at Coliseum Rally.

The protest rally, which drew more than 12,000 hearers, in addition to hundreds of thousands who listened in over W-G-N and other radio stations, was under the auspices of the Crowe-Barrett home rule ticket. On the stage sat the leading candidates of the Crowe-Barrett organization. The appeal was widespread—in the audience were delegations from Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Colorado.

Charles V. Barrett was introduced as chairman after the meeting had been called to order by former Mayor William Hale Thompson.

At night Senator Borah spoke at a banquet of the Crowe-Barrett Republican group at the Rainbo Garden. In his post-prandial remarks he declared the program to land America in the mixup of European affairs was "more indirect and subtle" than seven years ago when the league of nations covenant was before the senate.

Borah to Invade Wisconsin.

Tonight Borah invades Wisconsin, home of Senator Lenroot, a leading advocate of the world court, with a meeting at Milwaukee.

The campaign against the court brings into the limelight the McKinley-Smith contest in Illinois over the Republican senatorship nomination. Senator McKinley voted for the world court, and Col. Smith has made anti-world court and anti-league of nations the great plank in his platform. He was a visitor at the bungalow on top of the Sherman hotel where Borah made his headquarters.

The next Chicago protest meeting is to be at the Coliseum on St. Patrick's day, when Senator Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota will speak.

A 150 Year Old Fight.

"Strange as it may seem," said Borah in his Coliseum speech, after reading passages from Washington's utterances against political entanglements with the Old world, "and extraordinary as it is, after 150 years we are assembled here in Chicago to inaugurate a fight for the preservation of the policies of the father of our country."

Borah brought them out of their chairs with a reference to the 1920 landslide when the league of nations was snowed under by more than seven million majority. He declared league proponents then switched to a flank attack that is taking America into the imperialism and militaristic domination of Europe. But, he promised, the fight will be carried into every precinct in the country.

"Today," he said with a solemn gesture, "for practical purposes we are in the league of nations in violation of the pledges we made to the American people."

League Proponents Challenged.

He challenged league advocates to come into the open, lay all the facts on the table, and give the American people a chance to judge. With a sentence he stripped the buncombe from the pacifist propaganda.

"We are asked," he said, "to surrender the policies of Washington, which have come near dedicating this continent to peace for 150 years, and take in exchange for them policies which have dedicated Europe to warfare for a thousand years."

It was a dramatic sight. With sledge hammer blows, Borah laid down the issue whether Washington's precepts are to be exchanged for the hatreds and turmoil of old world politics. He was vehement in his denunciation of cloture in the senate. The Idahoan

Stillman Gives $20,000 a Yr. to Jay Leeds

New York, Feb. 22.—[Special.]—James A. Stillman has made a settlement upon his son, Jay Ward Leeds, whose mother, Florence Leeds, was the "other woman" in the famous Stillman case, according to a copyrighted story sent out tonight by the United News. Mr. Stillman, according to the United News story, some time before his reconciliation with his wife and their sensational trip to Europe, established a trust fund which gives the Leeds youngster $20,000 a year until he is 21 and nearly $150,000 upon his becoming of age.

Flo Leeds to Wed.

The story further asserts, on the authority of Mrs. Leeds, that she will be married in Paris on June 17 to "a prominent New York business man." The Stillmans are now in Paris.

Announcement of the settlement was made by William M. Sullivan, who for five years has acted as Mr. Stillman's personal attorney, "to silence false rumors concerning Mrs. Leeds." The settlement, it appears, was made last November and has been kept secret since. It was made voluntarily and payments began immediately. Stillman's paternity became known some years ago while he and Mrs. Stillman were at outs.

Made Before Reconciliation.

Mr. Sullivan said "moreover, the matter was concluded before there was any suggestion of a reconciliation on the part of Mr. and Mrs. Stillman, and has nothing to do with the latter eventuality."

Mrs. Leeds, according to United News, left town last night for Florida.

FIND CLEW TO A NEW TREATMENT FOR DIABETES

Transplantation of a portion of the pancreas into the mammary glands of the dog was announced as a successful experiment yesterday by Drs. A. C. Ivy and J. I. Farrell of Northwestern university, who have been making a special study of diabetes.

It was found that the pancreatic transplant functioned to such extent in producing a sufficient amount of insulin that diabetes would not occur when the remainder of the pancreas was removed. The secretion of important digestive juices was continued by the grafted portion.

Methods of transplanting, they said, are not yet sufficiently practical to be used for the cure of diabetes in man. The chief value of the experiment, it was asserted, was that more was learned about the physiology of the glands that has heretofore been known.

REPORT DICTATOR OF ROUMANIA IS READY TO QUIT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Feb. 22.—A telephone message tonight from the Roumanian frontier reports that Premier Jon Bratiano, the virtual dictator of Roumania, has written the king declaring that he is willing to resign with his cabinet. He leaves the date for his resignation at the king's option. The Bratiano party was defeated in the elections just ended. It is reported from Bucharest that Crown Prince Carol has leased a flat in Paris, where he will remain in seclusion.

SWEEP HAUNTS OF GANGSTERS; U. S. HOLDS 21

Begin Deportation Hearings Today.

Strongholds of Sicilian gangsters were crashed without warning last night in a sudden concerted hunt for deportable aliens. It was the zero hour for the city police and United States immigration inspectors, and their drive resulted in 121 arrests.

Deputy Chief John Stege of the detective bureau commanded the selected squads which within a few minutes after the order was given had brought in seventy-five prisoners.

The raiders swooped down on the warehouse of Antonio Lombardo, who is said to be the successor of the late Mike Merlo as Sicilian boss of Chicago.

They raided the political headquarters of Diamond Joe Esposito, boss of the 25th ward for the Deneen-Small-Lundin faction, and entered many other known gathering places.

Seize One of "Quarto."

In the roundup the police seized the long hunted Don Peppino, alias a half dozen names, and there was surprise when he was singled out as "Tony Russo, one of the feared "Quarto," which is the inner government of Sicilian killers in Chicago.

Not only were the raids successful from the government viewpoint, but the police learned with satisfaction that scores more of the alien gangsters were fleeing from the city. Halsted street was filled with men carrying carpet bags within a half hour after the police had marched through Little Sicily.

Take First Train Out.

The ticket agent of the New York Central railroad telephoned to Deputy Chief of Detectives John Stege that three Sicilians had asked for tickets to Buffalo "on the first train." They were obviously in a great hurry, the agent said, as they were not completely dressed. They had shirts hanging from their pockets, socks stuffed in overcoats and extra clothing wrapped in paper, but not tied.

The train left before police could arrive, but word was forwarded to have them arrested en route. The same thing was reported on the Pennsylvania road. Six Sicilians were just in time to get a train to Brooklyn where they will find police awaiting them at the request of Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker.

Turned Over to U. S.

As the prisoners reached the detective bureau, Inspector Jeremiah Hurley, in charge of six inspectors sent here from Washington on orders of President Coolidge and Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, was there to greet them. Hurley and his aids questioned every man brought in.

When their labors were over for the night the United States inspectors had designated twenty-one men as government prisoners, all of them to stand trial for their right to remain longer in this country. It was said most of these probably would soon be on a boat Sicily bound.

Chiefs Schoemaker and Stege had outlined plans for the raids, which they later said were entirely satisfactory. Ten squads were used in the sortie on fourteen places simultaneously.

Raid Favorite Hangouts.

The favorite restaurants of the Italians and Sicilians of the west side were among the places visited.

Amato's, where a few weeks ago Henry Spingola was marked for death and executed as he left; Citro's, well known for the numerous dinners served to politicians; The Annex, formerly owned by Orazio Tropea, "The Scourge," who was shot to death last week, and finally the place formerly owned by Diamond Joe Esposito, which he called Bella Napoli.

Guns at Lombardo's.

Lieut. Charles Egan, who the night before had arrested a friend of Tony Lombardo and thus uncovered a $1,000,000 wine syndicate, was tolled off to raid Lombardo's warehouse at 1102 West Randolph street. Among the first things he found there was a sawed off shotgun, recently fired, and a quantity of slugs for it.

"That's an instrument for just one purpose—murder," Lieut. Egan observed. "That's the favorite weapon of the gangsters. Possession of one should be made a penitentiary offense, or a deportable one. Most all the Sicilian killers of today use them. They're deadly. The charge spreads so that even a poor marksman can hardly miss a human target."

Two pistols and many letters also were found in Lombardo's place. His card index was seized and it was to contain the names of many Sicilian gangsters. A canceled check, with the name of the maker almost undecipherable but indorsed by Tony Aiello, was found. It was for $800 and of recent date.

At Diamond Joe's.

Lieut. Christy Hughes, who had taken six prisoners from the headquarters at 848 South Halsted street where Esposito is carrying on his campaign for county commissioner for himself and his allies on the Lundin-Deneen-Better Government ticket, then went to the restaurant at No. 850 Halsted street.

Diamond Joe, himself, was present, but denied ownership of this place, which was closed for a year when he pleaded guilty to violating the prohibition law there. Five prisoners came from the restaurant and Diamond Joe drove to the detective bureau "to see that everything was all right."

Doubt His Story.

Giuseppi Caruso, who gave his address as 1041 West Taylor street, was found in Lombardo's store. He is said to have been secretary of the Genna brothers in their lifetime of gang fighting, alky running and power seeking. Now he is said to be confidential man and bookkeeper for Lombardo.

He insisted he came to this country in May, 1922, on the S. S. George Washington, but government agents doubted his statement. They said he has a deformed arm and would have been rejected at Ellis Island.

Lieut. Leopard Burch arrested the supposed "Quarto" member, Russo. He found him at 1750 West Taylor street, where he took two prisoners. They gave their names as Muzogna and claimed to live at 2002 Stagg street, Brooklyn.

Pin Russo Name on Him.

The Muzogna who gave his first name as Giovanni was the one later said to be Russo. It was found he had an automobile license issued to an address at 934 Townsend street in 1925. That contradicted his claim to a Brooklyn residence, and caused him to undergo a general "showup," during which the name of Russo was pinned to him, Russo of the Quarto.

Lieut. Burch also arrested Ralph Cavalleri, 727 De Koven street, who was driving a Cadillac automobile, the license of which was issued to Gnolfo Fillipi, 1119 South Racine avenue, the man now known as Cavallero, the one who lured Sam Genna to his death by an assassin said to have been Orazio, "The Scourge."

Cavallero, called sometimes the Schoolmaster because that was his vocation in Sicily before the Genna brothers brought him here, escaped the net, but his automobile is being held and will be held until he calls for it.

Fail to Get Abbate.

Another who escaped was Philip Abbate, wanted with Don Peppino, alias Russo, the Quarto member, and another for the Spingola murder. Traps set for him failed. Another try for him is to be made this morning.

The government agents who questioned every one of the prisoners said many of them were lying as to the time and method of entry into this country. They found one faked passport among the lot. Others had possessed themselves of passports legitimately issued and had changed their names to fit the passports, the agents said.

A sifting process was applied to all. Those proving themselves to be citizens or rightfully in the country for more than five years, were allowed to go after questioning by the government men and when police found they had no criminal charges against them.

Linked to Scalisi.

The man believed to be Russo had papers in his pockets connecting him with John Scalisi who is now on trial for the murder of a policeman.

It was during the questioning of men called for jury service in this trial that it was learned citizens in general fear to act as jurors where Sicilians are defendants. One talesman said he would be fearful of his life ever after if he served on that jury and found Scalisi and his co-defendant, Albert Anselmi, guilty.

It was that statement that set in motion the machinery of the government resulting in last night's raids. Immigration Commissioner Ebey notified the department of labor in Washington of his need for help, and when President Coolidge and Secretary of Labor Davis learned of the Sicilian situation in Chicago they promptly sent six men here.

The six inspectors were at it last night. As patrol load after patrol load of Sicilians came to the detective bureau they were greeted by immigration employés under Chief Hurley. After the police had searched the suspects the government agents took the Sicilians in hand.

Deputy Stege had obtained old polling lists and when a prisoner said he was a voter the police looked up the records to see if the name was on the lists. Where it was the prisoner was released.

Many of the prisoners were asking "Call Diamond Joe [Esposito]; he'll tell you I'm all right," "Call So-and-so, he's my cousin and will prove I'm a citizen." One said, "Why, every one knows me. I'm a fighter and my ring name is Freddy Welch."

TRACE JEALOUSY CLEW

The tangled love affairs of Vito Bascone, the Sicilian whose career was ended by bullets Sunday, may have furnished the motive for his killing.

This information was given to Lieut. Leroy Davidson of the county highway police last night by Walter O'Leary, 4846 Lake Park avenue, whose estranged wife, Nina, admits that she had been for some months the sweetheart of Bascone.

O'Leary told his story at the Willow Springs station of the highway police, where he went voluntarily. He said that when Bascone became overfriendly with the 21 year old Nina, who has been living at 3527 West 59th street, Mrs. Bascone learned of the matter and protested. He added that a brother of Mrs. Bascone, whose name he did not know, had threatened Bascone if he did not treat her with more consideration.

After an hour's questioning O'Leary was permitted to go home on his promise to appear at the inquest, which will be held in Summit today. He indicated that if Louis Williams, 6752 Lowe avenue, were questioned he could tell more. Mrs. O'Leary, he said, often met Bascone at the Williams home.

Mrs. Anna Bascone and Mrs. O'Leary both told the New City police what they knew of the slain man's possible enemies. Both knew of his friendship for the Genna brothers and for Tito Schipa, the operatic star. Schipa, in St. Paul, said that he knew Bascone as an enthusiastic patron of the opera.

Mother Acts Epileptic Role to Show Sam Vinci Crazed

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Mrs. Angelina Vinci climbed to the witness chair in Judge William N. Gemmill's court yesterday afternoon to save her son, Salvatore (Sam), 23 years old, from the gallows.

In black dress, black crepe shawl over her smooth hair, she looked the classic mother of the poor, the figure that kneels before comforting saints in dim cathedrals the world over.

Of the ten children she has brought into the world only three have survived the environment of tenements and darkness in this promised land. Five died during babyhood.

Two Die in Gang Feuds.

Mike was shot down on the street last July. Jim, the driver of the Mossy Enright murder car, also was the victim of gangland bullets. Now there are Joe and Charlie, hanging around this court, and Sam, who sits beside watchful bailiffs, his face like chalk, his dim eyes peering hopefully at his mother.

After repeating the oath, sentence by sentence, after an interpreter, she was permitted to tell of Sam's babyhood. He was born in Calabria, Italy, and brought here when he was 6 years old. He had measles when he was six months old and "it make his eyes sick," she said. And then, when he was two years old he "got the fits."

Portrays Epileptic Frenzies.

Energetically rocking her plump body and working her lips she tried to show the symptoms of epilepsy. She showed how he grabbed things and shook them during raging tempers which came and went like thundershowers. She wiped her eyes occasionally with the edge of her black shawl. Her face is not grief lined or frightened. It is strong, lightly touched by the years, intensely vital.

"Was he like other boys?" asked Attorney Frank McDonnell.

"Sometimes he play, but soon he be sick with his head. He put his head in his hands and lay still on the table. He was never happy."

She told of an effort at suicide, when he turned on the gas.

Sam went to work when he was 16 as errand boy, Postal Telegraph boy, printers' helper.

Stresses Fear of Gangsters.

When questioned about Big Joe Giograsso, who remains as a shadowy figure in the evidence of this case, Charles Vinci, 18, when placed on the witness stand, showed fear.

It is to be the defense argument that in addition to his physical and mental handicap Sam was driven crazy by fear of the gangsters who had marked him because he had told the police what he knew of his brother Jim's death. The defense contends Sam was living in terror of his own life when he shot and killed John Minatti at the inquest over the death of Mike Vinci. Mike was lured from a west side restaurant and killed.

Minatti's Brother Watches.

Minatti's brother, Dominic, was in court yesterday, sitting behind the chairs of the prosecutors, Harold Levy and Louis Blumenthal. Objection was made to this and he was moved back among the audience. Other members of the family, relatives and friends, testified glibly as to Sam's poor physical condition, but when it came to anything involving others in this network of Sicilian murders they became of poor memory and evasive.

The defense will present testimony of alienists this morning. The state will combat this in rebuttal and the case will end with insanity as the point that the jury will have to decide.

Anselmi Trial Pushed.

Unexpected progress was made in the Anselmi-Scalisi trial in Judge Brothers' court. Four more jurors were found satisfactory to both sides and were sworn. This makes eight in the box, with the chances good for getting the other four within a week or ten days.

PUT EYE DOC IN JAIL AFTER INJURY TO VET

Franklin O. Carter, an advertising eye doctor who boasts of twenty-seven years on State street, was cast into a debtor's cell at the county jail last night. He had failed to pay a $12,050 judgment awarded to a war veteran who lost an eye under Carter's knife.

Charges of malpractice have been made from time to time in the civil courts against Carter, whose office is at 177 North State street, and who lives at 6712 North Ashland avenue.

State Wakes Up.

He is the first registered physician against whom the state department of registration and education has begun action since the opening of THE TRIBUNE's campaign against quacks. S. L. Antonow, assistant director of the department, has announced that Carter has been ordered to appear at the next meeting of the medical examiners' board, to show cause why his license to practice medicine should not be revoked.

The $12,050 judgment was awarded to Max Schreiber, now a patient at the state hospital at Elgin, where he is in a ward for war veterans with nervous diseases. After his return from France Schreiber developed a slight cross-eyed condition. Reading the ad of Carter in a Racine newspaper, Schreiber made arrangements to go to him for treatment. One of the stock advertisements of Carter, it was brought out, is a guarantee to straighten crossed eyes.

Infection Gets In.

After an operation on Schreiber's eyes, an infection set in, and it was necessary for him to employ another physician. This second physician was forced to remove the optic, inserting a glass eye in its place. That was the charge made in court.

For several weeks Schreiber's attorney, Max Gilbert, has been striving to lead the defaulting eye doctor into a debtor's cell. Once Attorney Gilbert and Deputy Sheriff A. J. Ledgerwood searched a hospital on the north side from roof to cellar for Carter, but failed to find him.

Last evening the lawyer and Deputy Ledgerwod went to Carter's office. A flunkey at the door said the doctor was not in. Pushing past, the deputy searched the suite of three offices, found Carter in one, and dragged him over to the jail.

The doc jumped into the jail routine easily, his first act being to mooch a package of cigarets. Then he turned into a spirited discussion with his cellmate, another debtor, Theodore C. Brockman, 2336 North Western avenue, jailed for kicking over a $500 showcase and not paying for it.

Stroking his bristly red chin whiskers, Carter suavely assured reporters his incarceration was a frameup. He said Schreiber had himself to blame for his misfortune.

The department of education and registration acted, according to Assistant Director Antonow, on the complaint of Elino Mencino, 2848 Milwaukee avenue, who bore almost the same tale as told by Schreiber. Mencino's left eye socket bears a staring glass ball, placed there by a specialist who rescued Mencino after he had undergone an operation by Carter.

PHANTOM SNIPER CAUGHT; ADMITS OMAHA KILLINGS

Just Got Inclination to Shoot, He Declares.

Omaha, Neb., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Frank Carter, 46, who was arrested at Bartlett, Ia., early today, admitted to local officers that he was the perpetrator of the murderous activities attributed to the "sniper maniac." His confession was substantiated, the police said, by the fact that a .22 caliber automatic pistol found on him was identical with the type of gun used in the shootings.

Carter, cool and unperturbed, talked freely of his actions. He explained that they were the result of a career of crime which he wanted to hide by killing. His complete confession to Henry Beal, county attorney of Omaha, covered twenty-five pages. He appeared to be entirely sane and the county attorney said that he would ask for a speedy trial and the death penalty.

Captured Without a Shot.

C. C. Bruce, a railroad section foreman, was responsible for the capture by which the combined police forces of Omaha and Council Bluffs have worked incessantly eight days. Bruce, riding on a hand car, saw Carter walking the railroad tracks near Bartlett, just after he had crawled from a haystack hiding place. Rushing to Bartlett, Bruce got a four man posse together, which took Carter without the firing of a shot.

Carter's explanation of the shooting was:

"I shot because I didn't want to get caught. I just get the inclination to shoot."

William L. McDevitt, a dairyman, shot a week ago last night on the street, and Dr. A. D. Searles, shot two nights later in his office, were Carter's death victims. He used a .22 caliber automatic pistol, fronted with a silencer.

Shot From Ambush.

He used the same weapon to fell Ross Johnston, Council Bluffs railroad detective, from ambush Friday night, because he feared Johnston might impede his escape. Johnston is slowly recovering from four bullet wounds in a Council Bluffs hospital.

Carter, in his leather coat, was easily recognized by the section foreman. It was from under this coat and two shirts that the gun, encased in a rubber hose holster, was taken.

Taken into Bartlett on a hand car Carter was jovial with his captors. In each case, Carter said, he shot his victims to prevent his own capture. However, McDevitt's slaying was in vain, because after he had fired at the fleeing victim, he ran from the body he had felled with a shot behind the ear when a pedestrian appeared.

Doctor Refused Him Money.

Although Dr. Searles' body was not found until Wednesday morning, Carter shot him about 6:30 Tuesday night. He killed when the doctor refused him money, he said, and took the physician's watch. He had the timepiece when caught, police said.

Carter also admitted having fired into the Thompson drug store last Tuesday night, shattering a plate glass window, and putting bullets through neighboring residence windows. No one was injured by these.

"I wanted to keep the cops thinking some one in the neighborhood was doing it so they wouldn't look for me somewhere else," he said. So well did his ruse work that constant patrol of the neighborhood was maintained almost all week, night and day.

Carter claimed Ackley, Ia., as his home. He expressed regret that he had shot Johnston, but again reverted to his excuse of self-protection.

"I thought he was after me, so I shot," he stated.

Bought Gun in Chicago.

Carter used a .22 caliber weapon, he explained, because it was easy to carry, easy to silence, and "sure." He had carried it for two years, purchasing it in Chicago. He boasted of his shooting eye.

The town of Bartlett declared a holiday this afternoon. The $750 in rewards offered by Omaha newspapers probably will be paid to its citizens. Carter was brought to Council Bluffs and there turned over to Omaha police.

CITY DEDICATES DAY IN HONOR OF WASHINGTON

Pupils in Medinah Temple Pageant.

Little children marching automatically to and fro, tiny flags clasped by damp fingers, and ancients, their beards trembling and eyes shining, and all the men and women of Chicago's giant roll call that range between the years of eight and eighty—all these did obeisance yesterday to the memory of George Washington.

The spirit that hovered above the cradle in Virginia 194 years ago yesterday has grown to overwhelming proportions as the children of the nation did homage to their founder's natal day, and every type of Chicagoan merged into one patriotic voice that spoke the praises of the first President.

Day's Chief Events.

These were outstanding features in a day of doing honor:

The Union League club staged a pageant in Medinah temple in which thousands of school children held the attention of 5,000 spectators. Boys' bands and orchestras, youthful orators, and childish songs were heard. James A. Patten, Maj. Gen. William S. Graves, 6th corps area; William J. Jackson, president, and Brig. Gen. Michael Lenihan, Fort Sheridan commandant, spoke.

The American Irish Historical society, Judge Daniel F. Cohalan of New York, the guest of honor, dined at the Hotel Morrison last night. Michael J. O'Brien addressed the gathering with timely words.

The annual review, military ball and presentation of medals took place when the 131st infantry, 33d division, met at the armory, 16th and Michigan. A birthday supper preceded the dancing and the celebration recalled the scintillating soirées of the early '80's when the old "Dandy First" was wont to meet.

Warning from McQuigg.

"America cannot remain rich, weak, and safe at the same time," was the warning given by Brig. Gen. John R. McQuigg, national commander of the American Legion, at the Washington birthday banquet of the Combat Medal Men's association at the Hotel Sherman.

Gen. McQuigg assailed pacifistic propaganda which, he declared, aimed at doing away with military instruction in the public schools.

"We do not ask for a powerful standing army," he said, "but we do insist that the present national defense act, the best that the nation has ever had, should be maintained."

Walter Dill Scott, president of Northwestern university, proposed that the citations of the winners of the congressional medal of honor and the distinguished service cross be engraved in bronze and placed in the public schools.

Keep Open House.

The Chicago Historical society, 632 North Dearborn street, kept open house, as is its annual habit. Interesting exhibits recalled the Father of His Country—his last will, proclamations he issued, his spyglass, sword, camp dishes, Martha Washington's sewing box, and his personal seal.

Arthur C. Lueder presided at the postoffice employés' fête in Guyon's Paradise—dancing by the mail carriers nad office aids. The attendance was so unexpectedly large that police were called to control the crowd at the doors.

Iroquois Club Luncheon.

The Iroquois club, at a luncheon, heard former Senator Lewis denounce the world court and league of nations.

In the Hotel Sherman the Advertising Men's post, American Legion, held a jubilee.

Ex-Gov. Edwin P. Morrow of Kentucky, spoke at the Chicago chapter of the D. A. R. dinner at the Hotel Drake.

Other festivities to commemorate the holiday were held throughout the city and suburbs in churches, schools and private homes.

RUMMERS USE HORSE TO BRING IN BOOZE, BUT HE IS CAPTURED

St. Clair, Mich., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—A horse and cutter, riderless and leaderless, coming across from the Canadian border on the ice of St. Clair river startled federal prohibition officers today. They headed off the wandering nag and confiscated 25 cases of old Canadian whisky besides the horse and cutter. Officials think it was a new "gag" to get liquor across. The horse and cutter had not been long in the stables where he was placed by the officers before he was missing. Some one had taken him away.

YANKS IN PARIS TOAST MEMORY OF WASHINGTON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Feb. 22. — The American club of Paris gave a Washington's birthday dinner tonight at the Hotel Quai d'Orsay, which the father of his country might have liked very much himself. With good French wines, American business men and French notables drank toasts to the memory of the first American President.

Ambassador Herrick said: "The victory of the last campaign before Yorktown was made possible by the help of the French, just as Marshal Foch's triumph a century later was made possible by American assistance."

Paul Painleve, former premier, called Washington "one of those great men of state who are heroes in other countries as well as their own."

Jules Jusserand, former French ambassador to the United States; Marshal Joffre; M. Leygues, marine minister; Consul General Skinner; Dr. Joseph Cochran, pastor of the American church of Paris, and Dean Frederick Beekman of the American Pro-cathedral were present.

When you mix it with Apollinaris you make a blend more delicious than you can get in any other way.

CHILEANS BEAT YANKS TO HONOR OF WASHINGTON

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ARICA, Chile, Feb. 22.—The Americans worked throughout the day, with Gen. Lassiter presiding over the plebiscite commission, and approved the elections reforms. They have worked nights, holidays and Sundays.

The harbor and naval vessels of the Americans, Chileans and Peruvians, as well as other ships, are dressed with flags.

This evening Gen. Lassiter received the Cleveland's officers at the American colony, and toasted to Washington's memory. Gen Lassiter asked Capt. Wainwright which naval unit dressed their ship first.

Capt. Wainwright replied, "The Chileans were just ahead of us."

The national salute was fired at midday from the Cleveland.

WOULD LET ARMY LEADERS ACCEPT FOREIGN MEDALS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—A number of present and former army officers of high rank would be granted permission to receive foreign decorations for war service under a bill passed today by the senate and sent to the house. They are:

Maj. Gen. Patrick, chief of the army air service, to be a "grand officer of the Crown of Italy."

Maj. Gen. Clarence R. Edwards, retired, to be a member of the order of "Hallers Sword [Chevalier] Polish."

Maj. Gen. J. G. Harbord, retired, "cross with star of commander of the Order of the Regeneration of Poland."

Maj. Gen. Roy W. Berry, Belgian Croix de Guerre.

MEXICO SEEKS NEW OIL WELLS TO AID INCOME

Mexico City, Feb. 22.—The department of industry announced today that it will do everything possible to help the development of the petroleum business in conformity with the laws of Mexico and invited the exploration of Mexico's rich oil zones. Two representatives of European oil interests are here seeking exploration concessions.

The government depends largely on the oil industry for sufficient income to meet expenses. Oil production taxes represent one-third of the government income.

SAVE U. S. FROM LEAGUE WAR PIT, BORAH'S APPEAL

12,000 Cheer Dramatic Coliseum Speech.

shook his mane, and from a crouch fairly sprang at the manipulators of the senate gag.

"We were given ten to twelve days," he said, "to defend a policy which it took George Washington and his soldiers seven years to make possible."

He analyzed the motivation of the gag appliers.

"They were afraid of the stampede which took place in 1920," he said. "They were afraid to find out the facts, and you are going to find out.

"I am here to continue the debate which they stopped in the United States senate, and they cannot put on cloture here."

U. S. on Haiti's Level.

He then gave a warning that in electing the judges of the world court Great Britain will have seven votes and America but one. "We'll have the same vote that Cuba or Haiti or Liberia has," he said. He referred to the significance of the day.

"This is the birthday of the most massive figure in the political history of the world. He will dominate the coming centuries as he overawed the era in which he lived.

"If there was any policy peculiarly the policy of Washington as distinct from all other leaders of his time it was the policy of nonentangling alliances. At that time, and in every decade since that time, there have been those who were determined to make us a part of the imperialistic scheme and the dynastic domination of the old world, and there are those who would abandon Washington's policy and surrender his principles.

"It is now claimed that the policies and precepts which he bequeathed to us in his last political testament are to be exchanged for the imperialistic exploitation and the turmoil of the old world. I am not mistaken, my friends. That is the issue. That is the problem.

"We have many great problems, but the problem most vital to the happiness and to the perpetuity of our American institutions, the policy most essential to peace and justice throughout the world is the preservation of the policies bequeathed by George Washington."

No Apology for Washington.

The senator read passages from the farewell address, with the remark that "while there may be places where one would need to apologize for reading the farewell address of George Washington, thank God, it is not in Illinois."

"This," he said, "laid the foundation of the foreign policy of this government. It brought us to our leadership and power, made us a great people, united in aspiration, single in purpose, and seeking a common goal. It is this policy which it is now deliberately proposed to cast aside.

"Seven years ago there was an open proposal to abandon the policies of Washington and to join what was called a league of nations. The Democratic leaders were generally in favor of it; the Republican leaders halted and shambled and finally determined to join with reservations. A reservation is a scheme gotten up by the politicians who think it is impolitic to stay out and dangerous to go in.

"But we began shortly to hear from the country, and finally the Republican party in convention declared against the policy, and it was indorsed by Democrats and Republicans alike, seven million majority strong.

League Flank Movement.

"Then the league's friends began a flank movement, and immediately there began a campaign to join the league court. Instead of joining the league, we were to become a member of a court. That court is an inseparable part of the league, is the advisor and counsellor of the league.

"Its main jurisdiction is absolutely controlled by the league, its decrees are enforced by the league, and yet they say to you today that we have only joined a court and are not a part of any of the internal turmoils of all Europe.

"I challenge any advocate of the court to point to a single instance in which any advocate of the court ever claimed that this was not a part of the league of nations until the time they hatched up this scheme to take America into the court. After that it was thought wise to tell you people that this is not a part of the league."

Senate Cloture Assailed.

The senator sailed into cloture, saying:

"Cloture was an incident which has no precedent in the history of the senate. We have our international problem, we have the agricultural problem and many other problems and we debate them interminably, but nobody suggests cloture. Cloture only comes when foreign powers are undertaking to undermine America.

"But, they said, we must take up the tax bill. The world court did not stand in the way of the tax bill, because everybody in the senate, including those in favor of the court, were willing to take up the tax bill. Why didn't they do it? Ah, they would be afraid you would be thinking about this matter while they were discussing the tax bill. They were afraid of the stampede which took place in 1920."

League Elects Judges.

"The council and assembly of the league elect the judges of the world court. We must participate in that election if America joins the court.

"When we enter into that election contest we will sit down side by side with Great Britain. We have one vote in the assembly and one vote in the council and Great Britain has her seven, but they say that we can always depend upon Great Britain. She has always been our friend.

"You remember when we settled the British debt we gave Great Britain an advantage over the American taxpayers. We did it for the same reason that they say we must take one vote and give her seven votes; she would treat us all right. When we settled the debt raw rubber was 17 cents a pound. Within a year, under manipulation of the British government, it went to $1.01 a pound; and Mr. Hoover says that Great Britain is gouging us to the extent of $200,000,000 a year by manipulation in the price of rubber.

"Now, if we cannot trust Great Britain to look after our rubber, do you think we can trust her with the welfare, with the policies which involve life and death to this republic?

American Proposals Rejected.

"Then when Elihu Root formed this court he provided in the first place for a codification of international law. The league of nations rejected that. He provided in the second place that a nation, however humble, might have its day in court.

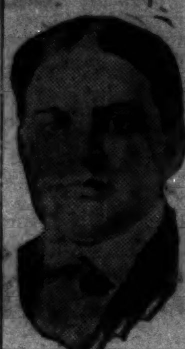
"Mr. Balfour and his associates said that they would not consent to be drawn into court by the small nations. He must have had Ireland in his mind.

"I ask what principle of peace has America offered to Europe which Europe has been willing to accept?

"We asked for peace and they gave us a program of imperialism and exploitation. We asked for a court and they gave us the league and advisory council of the league. Until they are willing to build their scheme upon peace instead of imperialism, in the name of our common country, let us stand by the policies of George Washington."

CONGRESSMEN NEARLY COME TO BLOWS OVER PORK BARREL DEBATE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Representative La Guardia [Soc., N. Y.] and Representative Wingo [Dem., La.] enlivened the house proceedings today with a verbal clash over pork barrel legislation and their respective war records that narrowly escaped ending in a fight outside.



FIORELLO H. LA GUARDIA.
[Central News Photo]

The fireworks came when Representative Wingo referred to his antagonist as a "thing like that." La Guardia was instantly on his feet with the suggestion that a more suitable place to finish the affair might be found outside if the gentleman wished to use "language like that."

Other representatives intervened and hostilities were ended when Representative Wingo hastened to withdraw his remarks.

La Guardia charged that Wingo had sponsored a munition bill during war time which was designed to aid slackers. Mr. Wingo remarked that the New York representative had been engaged in "dress parade duty in Italy" during the war.

"Well, I was 3,000 miles nearer the front than you were," retorted La Guardia.

Chicago Cheers Stir Borah with Stronger Victory Hope

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

"Thank God for Chicago. Here in the center of our great nation you have started a magnificent fight in a magnificent way. The spirit you have shown will radiate through the nation from here and to Chicago will come the great honor of starting this movement when we meet in Washington to undo what the senate has done."

Those were the parting words of Senator Borah [Rep., Idaho] when he ended his two day opening battle against the world court here last night. He spoke at Fred Mann's Rainbo gardens, where Crowe-Barrett Republican home rulers, under whose auspices he visited the city, held a banquet in his honor.

Delighted by Reception.

"I appreciate this great two day reception and I want to thank the men who invited me here to open this fight," he said. Senator Borah was cheered for ten tumultuous minutes before he had spoken a word after his introduction by former Mayor William Hale Thompson.

And Big Bill, master political showman, received a ten minute round of tumult himself when George F. Harding presented him as chairman. It was more like a love feast after a great victory than the opening of a campaign.

Senator Borah was late for the banquet. Candidates on the Crowe-Barrett ticket were at the speakers' table and the 2,300 guests were in the midst of their dinner when he arrived and was escorted to the platform by Joseph P. Savage, candidate for county judge.

Again Attacks World Court.

When the cheering was over Senator Borah made a final smash at the league of nations court before leaving for Milwaukee to invade the bailiwick of Senator Lenroot [Rep., Wis.], leader of the Republican pro-court senators.

"To mix this way in Europe would be to change our republic," he declared. "Instead of a republic we will have a gigantic bureaucracy and the head of that bureaucracy will not be in Washington even; it will be in Geneva."

Twenty-eight imperialistic wars for exploitation since the treaty of Versailles, secret treaties, and broken pledges are best evidences that the league of nations and its court are not instrumentalities for peace, he declared.

"We must either come out of this court or go further into Europe," he said. "I propose to do all I can to bring us out entirely. And don't forget that your congressmen will take part in the business of getting out. There is one thing we respect in Washington. That is public opinion. We either obey it or hide from it until it passes."

HER BLACKMAIL PLOT A JOKE, SO GIRL, 16, IS FREED

Frightened and thoroughly subdued by her blackmail "joke," which ended in her arrest, Helen Britt, sixteen year old high school student, sat in the Shakespeare avenue station yesterday and tearfully promised Capt. Patrick Harding that she would be good if allowed to return to her home at 3343 Clifton avenue.

Convinced that the girl really had no intention of extorting money from George Givot, actor, whom she threatened with death, through telephone and written messages, and that the whole affair really was her idea of a joke, the police finally released her under condition that she appear in Juvenile court when summoned, to be paroled to her parents for two years.

Givot declined to place charges against her.

BUY GREATER CHICAGO
ACRES
Acres today—city lots tomorrow
Priced at $350 Per Acre
Terms: $10 a month

This land is located near stations, on rapid transit; near schools, stores and churches and right in the path of Chicago's greatest future development. You can make big money by purchasing these acres today that can be subdivided into city lots tomorrow. Such land should pay you big profits on every foot you buy and in this way you can profit by the tremendous growth of Chicago.

All titles guaranteed by the Chicago Title and Trust Company

Every acre of this land will divide into eight city lots. You can live on this land now and pay for it with your rent money—or you can cultivate it and make money by raising fruits, poultry and vegetables. Later you should be able to cut up this land into city lots and each lot should then sell for as much as you now pay for a whole acre. In the last few years hundreds of our purchasers have made big money by the increasing values of their land, which was bought with a few dollars down, balance like rent.

A few years ago one of our customers bought five acres of such land for $1,800 and recently refused $12,000 for a lot one hundred feet wide off this land.

Another customer, who paid us $1,800 for five acres of land a few years ago, sold a one hundred-foot piece off this land for $8,000 and still has left over 4½ acres.

Acres on the Northwest Side that we sold a few years ago for $300 each are now selling for as much per lot as the purchasers originally paid for an acre.

We have hundreds of other such instances of profit-taking on our lands sold only a few years ago.

You can make similar profits—and you need only a few dollars to start with.

WASHINGTON NOT AN ISOLATIONIST, BECK DECLARES

Defends Personal Life, Explains Policies.

JAMES M. BECK.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Assailing the critics of the character of George Washington, James M. Beck, former solicitor general, today praised Washington as the "world's noblest citizen," and asserted that his foreign policies are as applicable today as they were 130 years ago.

Mr. Beck asserted that critics had not only misunderstood Washington's character but had misinterpreted his foreign policies. He asserted that Washington's foreign policy was one of preparedness, just dealing with all nations and freedom from entangling alliances, but by no means a policy of "isolation." Instead of isolation, Washington's foreign policy meant entrance of the United States into "temporary alliances justified by emergencies," Mr. Beck said.

His Foreign Policies.

"Washington never intended to commit his nation to a policy of isolation," Mr. Beck said. "When he strongly advised his country against having permanent 'alliances' or 'political connections' with other countries, the precise meaning which he gave to those terms must be steadily borne in mind. Civilization was then a community of detached and isolated states, between whom there was no cooperative effort for the maintenance of international law and the preservation of peace. Alliances were offensive and defensive, and always selfish in purpose.

"There is nothing in Washington's words or deeds which justifies the assumption that he did not intend his republic to realize its full destiny in the councils of civilization as a great, masterful, and beneficent nation. Would he today deny that as our people have derived from civilization inestimable rights and privileges, and that we owe a corresponding duty to be a potent and beneficent force in the councils of mankind?

Not an Isolationist.

"Independence, and not isolation, would be his policy today. Washington knew there might arise extraordinary vicissitudes in European politics which would involve the welfare of civilization itself, and as to these he was careful not to exclude the interest and duty of the United States to have a voice."

Alluding to the disparaging statements made about Washington's personal life, his reported gambling, excessive drinking, and cursing, Mr. Beck said Washington needed no eulogium, "for dirt may cling to a mud wall, but not to polished marble."

BADGER SINGERS DECLARED THE BEST

WISCONSIN AGAIN WINS IN COLLEGE GLEE CLUB SING

Illinois Is Second and Iowa Third.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

It is getting to be a habit for Wisconsin to win the Intercollegiate Glee club contest, almost as much as for Rollin Pease to step out in front of the massed clubs and sing "The Bells of St. Mary's" after the competition is over. The fourth competitive concert was held at Orchestra hall last night. After the auditors had added up the judge's figures, President Charles M. Holmes announced the result in reverse order: University of Iowa third, University of Illinois second, University of Wisconsin first. All of which scored Wisconsin three firsts in four starts.

It was an interesting and by no means unexciting evening, chiefly because each club had its own group of as enthusiastic adherents as though it had been an athletic instead of a musical event. Each club was marked on three songs, one general, or "prize" song, which was Horatio Parker's "The Lamp in the West," another number of its own selection, and finally its own college or university anthem.

Then the College Yells.

At the close of the third a volunteer cheer leader leaped to the front, either from the audience or from the ranks of the chorus, requesting the appropriate college yell of the occasion, and obliging with the muscular, but boneless, dance which is a necessary incident of all cheer leading.

The yell was not considered a basis upon which to give markings, but in the interval the judges, D. A. Clippinger, Glenn Dillard Gunn, and Edgar Nelson, were busily putting down figures for tone, enunciation, ensemble, interpretation, pitch, sub total, and grand total. The clubs that they marked, in addition to the three winners, were Beloit, Chicago, Grinnell, Knox, Lake Forest, Michigan, Millikin, Northwestern, Purdue, and Wabash.

Much Improvement Shown.

There has been considerable improvement in the situation since these contests were originated, and I, who was a judge in one of the earlier ones, had reason to notice the betterment. The improvement has been in both matter and manner, better choice of songs, and better style in their performance. Next year there will be a further improvement, for Mr. Holmes announced that the two that received the lowest marks last night will be dropped from the next contest, though permitted to rejoin in two years, thereby taking an extra year to improve its singing. Being a merciful person, he did not announce the two unlucky organizations. You will be able to check out the pair next February.

RUSSIA OFFERS FRANCE OIL FOR BONDS OF CZAR

Concession to Cancel Debt of $3,600,000,000.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Feb. 22.—The Russian soviets will offer France the concession for the exploitation of the Grosnyi oil fields in Ciscaucasia, when the conference for the settling of the czar government's debt begins Thursday, THE TRIBUNE was informed today.

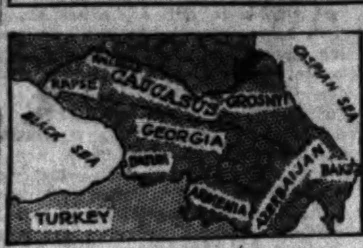
The Grosnyi oil fields are the most important in Russia, yielding nearly half of the petroleum produced in the soviet republics, and developed since the revolution to a capacity nearly 25 per cent greater than before the war.

Russia owes France approximately 18,000,000,000 gold francs (about $3,600,000,000), composed principally of bonds issued by the czar's government to about 4,000,000 French holders. If the oil arrangements are adopted, these holders would receive shares in the Grosnyi enterprise and participate in the eventual profits of the exploitation in return for cancellation of the debt. The financial group taking over the concession would act as an intermediary between Moscow and the French government with the bondholders.

Gives France Oil Independence.

A project for the construction of a pipe line from the Grosnyi field across the isthmus to the Black sea is included in the scheme. The Russians estimate that the operation of the Grosnyi fields will enable France to be independent of the rest of the world for its petroleum supply, in addition to leaving a comfortable surplus for sale abroad.

OILING UP DEBTS



This shows the location of the rich Grosnyi oil fields, which the Russian soviets propose to trade to France, under a concession for exploitation, in return for cancellation of the czarist debts. French citizens hold $3,600,000,000 worth of the czarist bonds. It is planned to give them stock in the proposed oil deal in exchange for their bonds. The deal may cause international complications.

Another offer the soviets consider making to France provides for a monopoly on the Russian oil export sale throughout Europe, and a commercial treaty, making France the most favored nation.

A powerful French financial group of great importance and wealth is said to be ready to take over the concessions and grant long term credits to Moscow.

Expect Bondholders to Protest.

Opponents of the Russian scheme are expected to base their fight against it on five points:

1. They contend there is danger in accepting the bolshevik concessions and granting credits when it is impossible to guarantee the good faith of the soviet government.

2. The cancellation of the Russian debt on the basis of securing such concessions would result in violent protests from 4,000,000 French holders of Russian bonds.

3. International complications. The Dutch Shell company in 1922 organized "an international group of oil corporations in Russia" for the protection of the rights of all the petroleum companies whose properties were sequestrated by the soviets. These companies are expected to fight the Russian scheme because the group claims vast holdings in the Grosnyi field. Sir Henri W. Deterding, director-general of the Royal Dutch Petroleum company, strongly opposes dealings with the Russians, and prophesies the collapse of the soviets within a year.

4. The close relationship between the British government and Dutch Shell company renders it nearly impossible for the corporation to make any arrangements of which Downing street does not approve. The Grosyni concession by Russia to France would require an entire change in England's policy toward Russia.

5. The collapse of the deal, once it had been consummated, would be a blow to French world prestige and its failure would do considerable harm to French citizens who hold Russian bonds, as well as the bankers who grant credits.

French Buy Russian Crown Jewels.

MOSCOW, Feb. 22.—[U. N.]—The process of turning the Russian crown jewels into tractors, plows, and other articles useful to the workers of Russia has begun with the sale of important gems to a French jewelers' syndicate headed by Frankiano Friedman. M. Friedman outbid a competing Anglo-American syndicate by $150,000. The Americans were represented by Rudolph Oblatt and Adolph Bressels of New York.

PRESIDENT HITS JINGO IN EULOGY OF WASHINGTON

to teachers. In it, Mr. Coolidge finds the affecting bequest which the master of Mount Vernon left for the education of the slave children whom he had set free and the bequests to two academies, and the bequest for the founding of a national university.

Sees National University.

That last bequest led the speaker into prophecy and he said that, although the failure of congress to cooperate had rendered the bequest inoperative, he believed the time might come when the spirit of it would be fulfilled by the establishment in Washington of a national university for "post-graduate and original research work."

The eduactional policies of Washington, his successor described as his "policies of peace." He declared that, even more than his victories and his statecraft, they represent his greatness.

"Through and through," said the President—and these were his closing words—"Washington is the great example of character. And he sought to bestow that heritage upon his country. He did it when he helped to build a church. He did it in his will. He did it in the farewell address that emphasizes the spiritual values of life. He was a great teacher."

Lowden Is Apprehensive.

In greeting the convention in the morning, former Gov. Frank O. Lowden of Illinois struck precisely the note of character building which the President struck this evening, but while the President's outlook was sunny and confident, Mr. Lowden's was apprehensive. His plea was for the creation of sound and ample educational opportunities in the country and for the enrichment of life there until it shall be comparable to the life of the cities. This was his warning and his prophecy:

"We shall be unable much longer to maintain a double standard of living in the United States as we have in recent years. If the inequalities which now exist shall continue we shall not much longer be able to keep the normal boys and girls upon the farm. The trek cityward is already under way. If it shall go on as rapidly as it has in the last five years, the next generation will witness a farm population largely composed of the physically and mentally unfit."

United States Commissioner of Education John J. Tigert, in welcoming the teachers, was also pessimistic and said that what the American people need is "a real invasion of culture." They will continue to need it so long as "so many people prefer jazz to music, books of the hour to literature, and trashy shows to drama," he declared.

Pope Rejects Yank's Plea for Golf Links at Vatican

[Copyright: 1925: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Feb. 22.—Although he says he introduced golf in the United States, Arthur Findlay, one of the managers of Wanamaker's store in New York, now visiting London, could not introduce it at the Vatican. When in Rome recently he tried vainly to have the pope build a six hole golf course on the grounds of the Vatican, he said today.

How to Have Soft, Pretty White Hands

Many women will undoubtedly be glad to know how they may have beautiful, white, soft, pretty hands regardless of the work they have to do. The secret lies in rubbing a little Ice-Mint into the hands occasionally preferably just before retiring at night. In the morning you will be agreeably surprised at the pleasant transformation that has been wrought by even a single application. Ice-Mint is made from a Japanese product that is simply marvelous for its beautifying properties whether used on the hands or face. Regardless of what kind of work a woman does she should have pretty hands as they are really the true marks of refinement. A few applications of Ice-Mint will actually make any woman proud of her hands and skin. It costs little and is sold and recommended by good druggists everywhere.

THE TAX BILL.

The conference committee, composed of senators and representatives, has agreed upon the terms of the new tax law. The original house bill, it was estimated, would have reduced the nation's income $326,000,000; the senate bill would have lopped off $456,000,000. The compromise has favored the house rather than the senate. The total reduction under the conference bill is estimated at $381,000,000. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon thought the reduction this year ought not go beyond $350,000,000.

On the whole, the new tax bill is a good one. Individual items in it may be attacked as unjust, but it is unfair to view it in the light of particular items. It must be viewed as a unit. Seen in that way, it appears to place no back-breaking burdens. It releases hundreds of thousands of those with small earnings from any income tax payment whatsoever, and it reduces the payments of others from 25 per cent to 70 per cent. The highest taxes are not confiscatory. A man with an income of $1,000,000 gives up less than $250,000 to the government.

No one will ever frame a tax bill which will please everybody. Taxes are an unfortunate necessity, but some one has to pay them. A tax bill is good if, broadly speaking, it places the burdens where they can be borne most easily and at the same time does not slow up the nation's productivity. The present tax bill from that viewpoint is a good one. Congress has managed to make a fair compromise between many conflicting opinions and theories, and unless unforeseen opposition develops it will finish its work with time to spare before the March 15 returns must be filed.

1,800 MILES FROM COW TO BABY.

A tank car filled with fresh milk at Marshfield, Wis., on Wednesday arrived in Miami, Fla., on Saturday. The milk was in perfect condition. Soon, it is announced, ten of the new kind of tank car will be in service between Wisconsin and Florida. The tanks are glass lined and equipped with refrigerating machinery and a device to keep the cream from separating.

Cows do not thrive in Florida. Before the great migration led thousands southward, it was possible to supply the demand for milk by sending fresh cows from northern dairy districts to Florida, where for a time they produced a fair quality of milk, but the supply was costly and unreliable. Then milk was shipped down from Ohio in refrigerator cars, but that method, too, was expensive. Milk of indifferent quality sold in Miami for as much as 35 cents a quart. Now the problem appears to be solved to the satisfaction of the consumers and the health authorities of Miami.

The standard of living in our country is high. We think of fresh milk as a necessity and we will have it if we must go 1,800 miles to get it and invent a new kind of car to make the trip.

There is no delay anywhere along the road. It is farther by railroad from Marshfield to Miami than from Paris to Vilna, but there are no boundaries to be crossed and no diplomatic negotiations are required to establish trade of a new sort. Surely one of the great reasons for our prosperity is the freedom of commerce across our continent. A merchant in Chicago knows he can supply his customers in Idaho without interference or interruption. We look forward to the time when the hindrance to trade at our northern boundary will be minimized.

There can be no permanent agricultural depression in our country so long as communication is uninterrupted and mechanical inventiveness remains. If our farmers find it is unprofitable to grow wheat on their land, they can turn to dairying or something else more profitable. The market for so highly perishable a commodity as milk is already 1,800 miles from the source of supply.

THE FRIGATE CONSTITUTION.

The navy department plans to send the frigate Constitution to all accessible ports as soon as Old Ironsides has been reconditioned. Secretary Wilbur asked for public subscriptions to restore and preserve the warship, and a good deal of the response, if not most of it, came from the school children of the country. A sight of the ship is to be given to as many of them as possible. The frigate will sail down the Atlantic coast and up the Mississippi to visit the valley and the lakes.

Secretary Wilbur is planning a wise thing, the usefulness and inspiration of which will not be confined to the young Americans. The Constitution entering any American port will be important in the experiences of all adult Americans who can visit it. The American past already has impressiveness. Its soil is getting deeper, and consequently the root growth is deeper. The sense of the past is a profound influence. It is a significant part of what the people of a nation have in common and it motivates them spiritually. Tangible evidences of the past should be preserved, and particularly when the history of great events surrounds them. They are the shrines of national consciousness. Responsive people live more lives than their own in a nation of illustrious deeds of which they are more than a product, of which they are a part.

The Constitution should be preserved forever, or for so long as affectionate provisions can keep it intact, on land and under roof, if it should become impossible to keep it afloat. In many ways this generation can play fair with the future, which cannot remedy neglect and indifference and could only reproach the people who permitted a heritage to be destroyed.

AMERICAN REPUBLICS IN THE LEAGUE.

Brazil is persistently urging its desire to have a permanent seat in the council of the league of nations. It was accorded one of the chairs filled by periodic choice, and in its demands represents a South American claim for recognition with the more important powers.

Many Americans have viewed with apprehension the willingness of South and Central Americans to expose themselves to European intervention in their own affairs. It is only a little more than a hundred years since the predecessor of the league, the Holy Alliance, planned to suppress the newly acquired independence of these states and restore them forcibly to their European connections as colonies and dependencies. The Monroe Doctrine was announced to prevent that.

It is certain that their desire for independence has not lessened. The cultural pull is toward Latin Europe and not toward the United States, but their governmental interests have a great deal in common with this country, asking for a cordial understanding and a recognition of common aims.

No country in this hemisphere, neither the United States nor any other, should delude itself into thinking that it can determine or help determine what Europe will do. There is no masterful place for the new world in old world councils. If there were the doors of the league would be closed against such an invasion. The statesmen of Europe can afford to indulge the assembly of the league as a junior debating society, but if the council is to act at all it must be under management. It is organized for the purposes of the major nations of Europe, and if it threatened to disturb them it would be abandoned.

Consequently, the only purpose other nations can have is that of serving and promoting such programs as the major nations of the council want advanced. It may be a dangerous, but it is not a dignified position.

As the Americas point toward Europe with their political stakes they are submitting themselves to countries which have regarded the western hemisphere since its discovery as a field for exploitation. It is a place for colonization and colonies. It was in the beginning and it remains as such.

The Pan-American program which has been promoted by the United States in efforts to remove distrust and clear the vision to the real needs of all the American republics has as its basic principle the doctrine that these countries shall be free from the interference of powerful European imperialists. It is virtually the only part of the world which is free from this, and elsewhere the range of interference has increased under the league of nations. The scheme of the league contains a formula by which expansion may proceed, the mandate system.

The trustful experiments which many of our southern neighbors are making with a European imperialistic scheme the works of which are apparent on the maps of Asia and Africa may bring a costly experience which may involve the United States.

The maintenance of peace, good feeling, and stability in the two Americas is a sufficient contribution to the world welfare, and the nations which succeed in that have done about all that any nations could do. In trying to do it they are dealing with conditions they know and with problems in which their decisions can be determining. When these nations transfer the conduct of their foreign affairs to Geneva they have gone where their opinions are unimportant, their decisions ineffective, and their own welfare endangered, and not promoted.

SELL THE AUSTIN SCHOOL LAND.

It is the plan of the buildings and grounds committee of the school board to sell 280 acres of school fund land located in the Austin district and valued at $1,932,369. We believe the contemplated action a wise one.

The administration of property is never as efficient under the direction of a public body as it is under private ownership. An official board is a notoriously poor landlord, not for the lessees, but for the people, the lessors, whom it represents.

Sale of the Austin school property will mean more money in the public treasury, because the land will become subject to taxation as soon as it passes into private hands. It will also mean an increase in property values in Austin; for the land should be attractive to home builders.

The school board committee realizes these things, for it plans to retain property which has promise of becoming valuable for business purposes. It will keep other plots as sites for future schools. Provided there are enough of these school sites retained, the board of education should go ahead and sell the land.

Editorial of the Day

CHICAGO VS. SICILY.

[Milwaukee Journal.]

Chicago has noted that many of its gangsters and gunmen are of Italian birth. Good citizens of Italian stock and the police make known the further fact that these are for the most part Sicilians. That suggested asking federal aid in rounding up aliens and deporting all who fall under the ban of the law.

Chicago has here a very proper cause for asking federal aid. It is a better approach than Philadelphia's request for a marine general to clean up her wickedness. For that experiment showed that even a marine general was ineffectual unless Philadelphians wanted the rottenness cleaned up. Chicago has a right to invoke federal aid where a federal function is involved. But it won't do much good unless Chicagoans realize that it is only a beginning.

For Sicilians aren't doing it all. They aren't the only lawbreakers, and they aren't breaking laws without help and protection. To say that they are used to other than American standards and insist on bringing their methods over here is to admit that they found a place where there were ways of going about to break the laws and commit crimes of violence. You cannot transfer a plant to a new soil that is wholly hostile to it.

Not by asking federal aid can any community excuse itself from the business of maintaining order. The federal government can do something about alien lawbreakers, but it cannot end the lawbreaking of politicians whom Chicago votes raise to place and power.

BLUE-WHITE EYE PEOPLE.

MRS. B. R. writes: I have a slip of paper that came from one of the papers you write for. This piece came to me a few years ago from my sister in Albany. In it you tell about finding, or of others finding, people with blue-white eyes.

Now I belong to the blue-white eye people. This blue-white comes from my mother's family, and from her mother's family. How far back this runs I don't know.

And I don't know much about the broken bones of those in my grandmother's family except two, an uncle and my mother, who both had the blue-white eyes. Both my uncle and my mother had some broken bones. In my mother's family were seven children, and three of us have blue-white eyes. My sister is 57 and she has had seven breaks that I know of, and I think more. My brother is 52, and he has had fifteen, and I don't know how many sprains, most of these happening when he was young. I am 48. I have had only one break, but I guess dozens of awful sprains which were worse than breaks. Now I have had five children, and three of them were blue-white eyed children. One of them, a baby, died when he was 19 months old and he had had one green stick fracture. My son living is 26, and he has had three breaks and several green stick fractures and a number of sprains. My daughter, 21, has had several green stick fractures, most of these happening to both of them when children.

My son has a baby born in December and he has the blue-white eyes, too. Now, the children of my mother and her mother were short people except one of my sisters, and my children are short except my elder daughter, who is not a blue-white eyed girl.

I think we have all the characteristics except the deafness. That we did not get. We all had enough without. I have never seen another family with blue-white eyes. I don't know as this will interest any one but you, but I wanted you to know about our family.

REPLY.

Thank you.

Several have written me about people of the blue-porcelain eye type, how it runs in families and how easily the bones break. Deafness is not quite so frequently found in these people.

The experience of your family is a little out of the ordinary, in that you have had so many green stick fractures.

COLD AND WARM ROOMS.

Miss T. B. writes: Will you please let me know which is the healthier, sleeping in a cold room where fresh air is circulating properly, providing one is covered sufficiently; or sleeping in a warm, steam heated room?

Kindly let me know the good and bad effects to a person sleeping under each condition.

REPLY.

Sleeping in a cold room where the air is fresh and circulating.

When one sleeps in cold air the metabolic rate is higher; his nutrition is better; his resistance is increased and he is not poisoned by bad air.

A NOTE TO THE MOVIES.

J. S. writes: Our theaters are not averse to throwing a suggestion on the screen to the effect that "whispering and talking during the picture annoys your neighbor. Patrons are asked to report such annoyance to the ushers."

Could they not be persuaded to flash another suggestion? "When it is necessary for you to cough or sneeze, do so in a handkerchief." Your office could probably frame a better suggestion, and it seems logical to suppose that theater owners would be anxious to promote good health among their patrons. Such a suggestion would surely be helpful and would be beneficial in helping to keep down the start of many serious cases which originate in common colds.

REPLY.

A good suggestion.

Will movie houses please note.

Please do this to help them.

HEIRS BALK AT SALE.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—An estate was left to five heirs, one a minor. The administrator made a verbal agreement with a real estate broker to accept a given price on some real estate, which he did, taking a deposit. Some of the heirs objected later and would not sign a release to the property. Can the real estate broker collect his commission? J. I. R.

An administrator does not, merely by virtue of his office, have any power to deal with the real estate. Where a person who lacks power assumes to act for other persons the officious agent is commonly held to damages for breach of his implied warranty that he was authorized. We cannot advise more specifically without knowing more of the surrounding circumstances.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NOTE MIGHT BE OUTLAWED.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—About ten years ago my husband signed a note which I have never seen. My name is not on the note, and I did not even know my husband borrowed the money at the time. He died last month and I received a small insurance, so this note holder is demanding I pay the note. Do I have to pay? I will have very little left after paying for my husband's illness and funeral. E. M. C.

The Illinois limitation period on contracts in writing is ten years. If the period has not run the creditor would probably be entitled to collect by probate proceedings if there is a surplus after paying widow's award and preferred claims.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

NO DEDUCTIONS.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I bought sixty feet of vacant property in 1923, for which I paid $4,400 in cash. Am I entitled to deduct 6 per cent interest on this amount in my income tax. The lots are now sold. 2. Can I also deduct for two and one-half years special assessments paid during this time? T. S.

1. No. The profit on the sale takes the place of interest on your money. You would have had to pay on the interest as income if you had placed the money at interest.

2. If, as is probably the case, the assessment was for a permanent improvement, the amount should be regarded as an additional investment rather than as an expense. It would not be deducted in the year when you paid but would be figured in when determining possible profit when you sold.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 23, 1861.

CHICAGO.—Washington's birthday was celebrated by a large parade of police, civic societies and military organizations. At the Wigwam a mass meeting was held at which Thomas Drummond presided, and Joseph Knox and ex-Gov. E. W. McComas spoke. At the Briggs house a banquet was given at which Judge John M. Wilson, J. P. Clarkson, I. N. Arnold, T. B. Bryan, Stephen W. Dana, Van H. Higgins, J. H. Bowen, and Francis A. Eastman responded to toasts in a patriotic vein.

PHILADELPHIA.—Washington's birthday was celebrated here in truly patriotic style. Early in the day, as cannons roared and throngs cheered, President Elect Lincoln hoisted a flag containing 34 stars from a platform at Independence hall. Throughout the day similar patriotic events occurred.

HARRISBURG.—Mr. Lincoln and his party arrived here from Philadelphia and he was escorted by the military to the Jones house. There he was introduced to a crowd of 5,000 by Gov. Curtin, who welcomed him in the name of the state. Mr. Lincoln declared that he hoped a resort to arms may never be necessary, but to avert that calamity he must be sustained by the people.

MONTGOMERY.—The confederate congress confirmed President Jefferson Davis' nominations of Toombs for secretary of state; Memminger for secretary of the treasury, and L. Pope Walker for secretary of war. The congress also passed a bill declaring the establishment of the free navigation of the Mississippi.

WASHINGTON.—Advices from Montgomery indicate that the southern confederacy will regard the attempt of the United States to maintain authority in the seceding states as an act of war which will be followed by instantaneous reprisals.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 23, 1901.

SAN FRANCISCO.—The steamer City of Rio de Janeiro was wrecked in entering the harbor and 122 of the 201 persons on board perished. The big Pacific mail liner struck on Fort Point ledge, just outside the Golden gate, in a fog. The vessel sank within fifteen minutes after it struck, carrying down the lifeboats. Among those lost are Rounseville Wildman, United States consul general at Hongkong, his wife and two children. One report is that Capt. Ward locked himself in his cabin and ended his life when he saw his ship was doomed.

OMAHA.—E. A. Cudahy received a letter from Pat Crowe in which Crowe denies all complicity in the kidnaping of Eddie Cudahy for the ransom of whom the packer paid $25,000, and says he will soon give himself up. Crowe asserts the reason he has not surrendered before was that he feared he would be lynched. William A. Pinkerton, the detective, is convinced the letter is genuine.

NEW YORK.—Gov. Odell signed the bill abolishing the bipartisan board of four police commissioners and the office of chief of police, and substituting for them a single commissioner to rule the force. Mayor Van Wyck appointed Col. Michael C. Murphy as the commissioner and Murphy's first official act was to name ex-Chief Devery as his first assistant.

WASHINGTON.—Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks was elected president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution over Mrs. Donald McLean by a vote of 333 to 268.

LONDON.—Lord Salisbury, in the house of lords, deplored the anti-Catholic oath King Edward took on his ascension to the throne. He said, however, legislation to abolish it should start in the house of commons.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

FEBRUARY 23, 1916.

CHICAGO.—George Washington's views on preparedness were galvanized into new life in Chicago celebrations of his birthday. The day was made the occasion of a composite demand for adequate national defense. At the Coliseum 10,000 persons cheered the unfurling of 100 flags and passed preparedness resolutions addressed to the leaders in congress. At the Union League club's banquet the speeches were along patriotic lines and in favor of preparedness.

MADISON, Wis.—Senator La Follette announced at a dinner of 300 Progressives that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination for President this year.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—David R. Francis, secretary of the interior in President Cleveland's cabinet, told President Wilson he would accept the post of ambassador to Russia made vacant by the resignation of George T. Marye.

WAR NEWS.—The Germans continued their successes against the French on the western front in heavy artillery actions. After a vicious assault they captured Haumont wood on the Champagne. Petrograd reports that 40,000 Turks fell in the fighting around Erzerum and that the Moslems are in wild flight across Armenia. London reports that the retreating Turks are now menaced by large bodies of British reinforcements moving up the Tigris toward Kut-El-Amara. The Turks are said to be evacuating Trebizond on the Black sea.

PETROGRAD.—The presence of Emperor Nicholas at the opening of the duma is hailed by the press and public as one of the most important events in the whole political history of Russia. It is the first time a Russian emperor has ever visited the legislative body or in this formal way recognized it as one of the parts of government.

THE LOST APRIL.

Helen lingered while the moonlight lasted.
Her mantle rippled o'er the moonlit lawn.
Her bright hair left a shining light behind it.
You looked on her, and looking, she was gone.

And even the moon, who knows there's nothing constant
In lovers, felt his chilled heart lift and stir.

That April fell around us in a shower,
But even April's elves are stilled in June.
I have forgot, except for little moments,
That Helen walked beneath an April moon.

CAMPASPE.

GEORGE WASHINGTON is the most satisfactory father of his country we've ever had. Looking over the speeches made on George's birthday yesterday we note that all the friends of the world court quoted George to prove their side and all the opponents of the court quoted George to establish their claims. All the drys cited George to justify the Volstead act and all the wets read George's recipe for making beer and said he owned a still and made whisky.

And Not So Dumb Either.

R. H. L.: Who said Gentlemen Prefer Blondes? The other day a dashing gadder hung around the beautiful but blonde telephone girl at the Sherman for an hour. Finally he said:

"How about having dinner with me tonight, kiddo?"

"No, thanks," said she briefly.

"Aw, why not?"

"Blondes prefer gentlemen," snappy comebacked the b. but b. t. g. as she answered another call. T. G. A.

BOTTLES.

Bottles is one of those oddities of life that the Little Town first looks upon with amazement and then accepts out of a feeling of necessity. In his younger days, so Bill Crabbe will tell you, Bottles was a flash of genius on the horizon of a great career . . . then vagrant desires quenched the flame, and now there remains but a drab stain across the misspent years: his mark in life the trail of a damp cloth across a rough, back room bar. Bottles is old, now—and the drawn lines and partly revealed thoughts sunk deep in unshaven gray remind one of a wood cut by Brangwyn. Life to him has been a clown, and in turn he has been made tragic.

• • • • •

There are nights, though, especially if the back room is empty, when Bottles draws aside the curtain of the years and the charm of vanished things comes down upon him. . . . And then Bottles speaks of his childhood days along the cliffs of Cornwall—"far below us a harbor chuck-full of naked riggin'";—of the sting of the salt laden winds that come in from the sea—"savage, but friendly like, if you know 'em";—of the time his father took him to the Bodleian—"around you all the greatness that has gone before you";—and of those moments when he sat in Samuel Johnson's great pew—"feeling like I was sitting in his lap through the silence that follows benediction"—and ever upon Bottles' words is a touch of wistful futility; a desire, it seems, to blot out the regrets of long lost years and what has gone between—a desire that perishes in the depths of its own utter vainness. A LITTLE PRAYER.

A little prayer, a soft prayer . . .
Oh, Duvel, let me see Things within her eyes that night
Selina danced for me;
The light upon her black hair,
The gold coins in her ears . . .
A little thing, a dear thing,
To carry through the years.

For I once loved Selina
(When we were very young),
But how, then, was I to tell
The words upon my tongue?
A little prayer, a soft prayer . . .
Oh, Duvel, grant me this—
Love in dear Selina's eyes
And one small gypsy-kiss.

WRITE TO THE IMMIGRATION OFFICERS AT ELLIS ISLAND.

R. H. L.: I am desirous of interpellating some one. I thought that if I put it up to you in the right way you might deign to help me out.

You see, A is a bachelor. B's opinion is, in effect, that so was his old man. A, taking umbrage at this point of view, demands satisfaction. B names broadswords and expresses a warm desire to proceed at once with the decapitation of any moron, idiot, or imbecile such as A. The latter, interpreting this as an unfavorable reflection upon his own character, demands a second life from B. C lives in Hackensack and D is also married, with a wart on the third finger of the left hand. The rest of the alphabet is uncertain as to the accepted procedure in demanding two lives from one man.

What is the answer. VOX CLAMANTIS.

ABOUT the only thing that G. Washington wasn't quoted on yesterday was in regard to the Countess of Cathcart and whether professional football is as good a game as croquet. We suggest that in the future we have Safe and Sane George Washington birthdays. R. H. L.

A HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE ON GRADUATION EXPENSES.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—I have just graduated from high school. In many ways I regret it, but if the proposed ideas for graduation are approved, then I am certainly glad I graduated in time to escape them.

No rings or pins, no annuals. That would not be a graduation! All the things included in my graduation I had looked forward to with eagerness during my entire time in high school. The annual, with autographed photographs of my classmates, will furnish enjoyment for me in the many years to come, just as it does now. My pin will last forever—a symbol of the class with which and the school from which I graduated. Memories of class night will ever be present. And the class flower which I received that night is pressed in my high school memory book with other mementoes of high school days.

The step taken to reduce expenses by wearing caps and gowns did not succeed very well in my graduation class. In fact, it only added the rental of the gowns to other expenses, for new clothes were purchased anyway. Although I purchased an annual, class pin, paid a class night fee, and bought two new outfits, announcements, and cards, I can truthfully say that I think none of the money unwisely spent, for I can look back with enjoyment to class night and graduation.

I sincerely hope the proposed ideas for graduation do not succeed. Removing annuals, pins, rings, and flowers would also remove enjoyment from the entire affair.

AUSTIN HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATE.

LINCOLN DAY IN FLORIDA.

Lynn Haven, Fla., Feb. 17.—In your issue of the 13th your Miami special correspondent states that this year Miami for the first time had observed Lincoln's birthday and it was thought this would apply to all of Florida.

Now, Lynn Haven resents this misrepresentation of facts. For many years this day has been loyally observed by the people of Lynn Haven in meetings largely attended, where music, readings, and patriotic speeches were offered in honor of the Great Emancipator, and on two occasions the writer had the honor of addressing the assembled people. CYRUS N. GRAY.

ART PRIZES.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 20.—There may be some injustices committed in awarding prizes at the Chicago Art show, as THE TRIBUNE's art critic pointed out, but the practice of allowing one artist to plaster five of his pictures over the limited wall space to the exclusion of some younger or less known artist is more unjust. Limiting each exhibitor to two pictures would provide space for fifty more painters to be represented at this show. It would also prevent a weak kneed jury from allowing a few favored artists to hog the show.

WILLIAM MACY.

PHONE CHARGES.

Chicago, Feb. 19.—Who's to blame for the way the telephone company holds up the public while the public has no alternative if it wants to talk? Each of the four parties on my line must guarantee to make enough calls to aggregate 9 cents per day. This 9 cents per day makes $2.79 for a 31-day month. I ascertained what each party on my line paid last month. I made 8 calls, and the others used 21, 32 and 63. All said they used the 'phone more than necessary just because it was coming to them; one underestimated and had to pay 5 cents each for 7 calls. I made up for the till deficit of $3.39 in cash. No allowance is made for long distance or suburban calls, where the guarantee is not reached.

I use the electric light, gas, "L" and surface service, and occasionally the telegraph and the steam trains, but I pay for just what I use without being told how much I must use or pay just the same. I believe the gas and electric companies have a minimum charge of fifty cents, which is merely nominal and is really of no importance, since every one knows that there is some investment entailed in being ready to serve him.

There must be thousands who do not have the telephone who use the other public services simply because their limited requirements do not warrant the large guarantee required. I saw in the paper some months ago that the commission reduced this 4 party guarantee to about $2.25, but even that is an outrage of about the former proportions.

R. E. EVANS.

MEDITATION OF A BUTLER.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—I have been a butler in the homes of quite a few of the afternoon risers. When a butler, cook or maid goes to interview one of these dear, sweet society folk he must have references from the day he was born, but could we, when we apply for a situation in their wonderful homes which they never worked for, ask them for a reference about their character? I doubt if they could give us one, and the help that worked in their homes would not.

I could give some wonderful references about some of these dear, beloved citizens, our wonderful rich upstarts. They want the cooks, maids, butlers, housemen, nurses and chauffeurs to work from six o'clock in the morning till ten or twelve at night. They don't want to pay any wages to talk about, but Mr. or Mrs. So-and-So, who has a large house or an expensive apartment, wants his large check every week. For what? Going to the office for two hours a day while his secretary does his work and swells his already large bank account. The other part of the day he is home sleeping till dinner is served.

Then the idle family sit down and eat as if they had labored for it. Go to any labor office today and ask the women and men of the domestic help how many rich Chicago homes they can work and stay in for one year and they will tell you none. I have been in as many as ten homes this year and could not stay if I wanted to. Why? Worked to death or half starved by these idle crabs.

DEATHS BY AUTO 110 IN 53 DAYS; TWO YESTERDAY

C. & N. W. Called Lax by Inquest Witnesses.

Automobiles killed two persons yesterday. The motor toll for Cook county since Jan. 1 is now 110. Yesterday was the 53d day of 1926.

Among the list of injured was John B. Fergus, 82 years old, leader of the fight for redistricting of Illinois. Mr. Fergus was knocked down last Saturday at Wabash avenue and Monroe street. He was confined to his bed, one leg being badly injured. The name of the driver of the automobile is not known.

Auto Hits Street Car.

James Frederickson, 38, of 3030 North Kilpatrick avenue, died of injuries received when his automobile collided with a street car at North Ayers and Fullerton avenue.

Mrs. Lovey Weems, 46, of 5780 South Wabash avenue, was fatally injured when she was struck by a taxicab at 57th and State streets. George Kellog, 3460 West 62d street, took the woman to a hospital where she died.

After evidence was given indicating that both Northwestern railroad and Illinois commerce commission officials had been lax in protecting the crossing at Harlem avenue in Norwood Park, Chief Deputy Coroner Adolph Herrmann ordered all officials to appear tomorrow at the continuance of the inquest over the body of Max Weichelt, 6067 Northcott avenue.

Killed by Mail Train.

Weichelt, who was president of the Mutual Construction company, was killed Saturday night, when he drove his automobile over the crossing and was struck by a Northwestern mail train. Just a few minutes before the accident, which occurred at 10:25 o'clock, the crossing watchman had left duty.

Ald. Thomas J. Bowler attended the inquest and told Deputy Herrmann of the efforts made by Norwood Park citizens to obtain proper protection at the crossing. Several people have been killed there in recent years. It is charged the crossing lacks proper gates. Investigation by the state commerce commission is likely.

Child Hurt by Auto.

Bernard Oliff, 7 years old, 3831 Wilcox avenue, was seriously injured when he was struck by an automobile as he was crossing Springfield avenue at Harrison street. Max P. Manns, 4453 North Rockwell street, driver of the car, was arrested and charged with reckless driving.

Ronald R. Boswell, investment banker connected with Hallgarten & Co., 105 South La Salle street, member of several clubs, was arrested in Highland Park and charged with driving while intoxicated.

ALIENISTS CALL COWBOY INSANE AT ARSON TRIAL

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 22.—(AP)—A strong insanity defense was made in the case of Frank Litts, cowboy, who went on trial in Circuit court here today, charged with arson and dynamiting.

Litts attempted to blast the Chappel Brothers' Packing plant early in December, claiming his love for horses slaughtered there prompted his act.

When Dr. Ralpt T. Hinton, manager of the Elgin State hospital, said he would have to say the man was insane, the state's case was thought practically doomed.

R. F. Leger, attorney for Litts, tried strongly to point out the insanity evidence in Litts' actions. This angered the prisoner greatly, and he jumped up and repeatedly asked to be allowed to address the court. He said William D. Knight, state's attorney, was his only friend and that his attorney and Dr. Sidney Wilgus, local alienist, who testified he was insane, were double crossing him.

2 WOMEN HURT IN CAR ACCIDENTS; ONE MAN DIES

Two women were in a serious condition last night as the result of street car accidents.

Mrs. Robert Slick, 986 Marquart avenue, Des Plaines, was the victim Sunday night of a peculiar accident when the wheels of an Irving Park boulevard car, in running over a piece of pipe, forced it up through the car floor, piercing her thigh. Firemen worked for half an hour before she was freed by an acetylene torch.

A Wentworth avenue street car last night struck Mrs. Esther Stone, 37 years old, 7433 Perry avenue, as she crossed West 72d street. At St. Bernard's hospital it was believed her skull was fractured.

Harris Bechmer, 50 years old, 2024 Potomac avenue, died last night from injuries received Feb. 2 when hit by a street car at North avenue and Robey street.

MARVIN B. POOL OF BUTLER BROS. WEDS IN FLORIDA

Announcement was made last night that Marvin Bemis Pool, general manager of Butler Brothers, was married last Saturday to Berenice B. Pierce at Orange, Fla.

The ceremony was performed in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Kiron J. Bemis, and was attended only by members of the immediate families. Mr. Pool and his bride are taking a West Indies cruise before returning to Chicago early in May.

Mr. Pool is 57 years old and lives at 512 Barry avenue. He was a leader in the suppression of the loan shark evil in Illinois.

ROCKFORD POLICEMAN SUICIDE.

Rockford, Ill., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Edwin A. Williams, policeman, shot himself in the head at his home tonight and died at a hospital two hours later. He had quarreled with his wife, according to the coroner, and struck her when she reproached him for drinking.

The Right Breakfast for Workers

Eat Food that Supplies "Balanced" Ration After Night's Fast

IF YOU feel tired, hungry, "fidgety" hours before lunch, don't jump to the conclusion of poor health. Thousands have unenergetic mornings because they start days with breakfasts lacking in certain food elements.

To feel right, you must have a well-balanced, complete breakfast ration. At most other meals—lunch and dinner—you get it. But breakfast is a hurried meal, often badly chosen.

Thus Quaker Oats, containing 16% protein, food's great tissue builder, 58% carbohydrate, its great energy element, plus all-important vitamines and the "bulk" that makes laxatives seldom needed, is the dietetic urge of the world today.

It is food that "stands by" you through the morning.

Quick Quaker cooks in 3 to 5 minutes. That's faster than plain toast. Don't deny yourself the natural stimulation this rich food offers you.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—With the Democratic party in search of an issue and Republican insurgency augmented by new recruits, another struggle between President Coolidge and rebellious elements of the United States senate is about to claim the attention of the country. This time the fight is centered chiefly on these four matters:

1. Ratification of the Italian war debt settlement, advocated by the administration and the war debt funding commission and approved by the house, but opposed in the senate by a large proportion of the Democrats, by the radicals and independent and some regular Republicans.

2. Resolution in the senate aiming at prosecution of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon's Aluminum Company of America for alleged violation of the anti-trust laws, this move being supported by most of the Democrats and by the irregular Republicans and resisted by the regular Republicans and by the administration on the ground that the charges of restraint of trade by the aluminum company have been found by the department of justice to be without foundation.

3. Confirmation of the appointment of Thomas F. Woodlock to be a member of the interstate commerce commission, which some regular Republicans have joined the insurgent Republicans and the majority of the Democrats in opposing.

4. Confirmation of the appointment of Wallace McCamant of Oregon for a federal judgeship, on which party lines in the senate are completely shattered.

Forecast of Possible Outcome.

It would seem to be a reasonable expectation that the President will win the fights over the Italian debt settlement and the aluminum trust prosecution, but that he will be defeated on the McCamant and possibly on the Woodlock nomination.

Having reversed their attitude of 1924 and supported the Mellon tax reduction proposals this time, and even subjected themselves to the charge of trying to out-Mellon Mellon, the Democrats are still without a major issue. Encouraged by rumblings of dissatisfaction in the corn and wheat belts with the Republican party's cardinal principle, some of the Democratic leaders are seeking to revive the tariff issue, though with indifferent success in their own ranks, it seems. One reason advanced for the lack of enthusiasm for this proposal is the growth of protective tariff sentiment in the Democratic solid south hand in hand with the industrial expansion and unprecedented prosperity of that region.

Looking for an Issue.

Agricultural relief legislation was recognized early by the Democrats as offering a possibility of making political capital at the expense of the administration. The President is against the Dickinson bill and other schemes of manipulating the crop surplus so as to go over the prices of farm products on the domestic market. The Democrats are now considering measures combining Carl Vrooman's export credit plan and the export bounty scheme.

But both the tariff and agriculture represented future possibilities in the line of issues. There was a current need of taking the curse off the Democrats for supporting the President on the leading question of the hour—tax reduction. Some of the Democratic leaders thought the Italian debt settlement offered the opportunity they desired. But when they came to count noses they found the Democratic side badly split on the proposition and were unable to make a party issue of the matter.

Walsh's Suggestion Hits Snags.

Then Senator Walsh of Montana, looked upon as a potential candidate for the Democratic nomination for President in 1928, undertook to rehabilitate his party as an effective opposition by pressing the charges against the aluminum company. The senate is now considering his resolution directing the judiciary committee to investigate the charges. Already, however, Mr. Walsh's program of action has been repudiated by his own side of the chamber and Senator Robinson of Arkansas, Democratic leader, announced today he would offer a substitute resolutoin directing that the charges against the aluminum company be brought before a grand jury by special counsel without further investigation by the senate.

The Fight on Woodlock.

On the Woodlock and McCamant appointments the President has encountered unexpected opposition. Woodlock was appointed to the commerce commission as a Democrat, but later it transpired that he voted for Coolidge and had been registered as a Republican voter for five years. Democratic senators began remarking that a "Coolidge Democrat" was being put over on them.

Then progressive, radical, and insurgent Republicans came out against him, characterizing him as a reactionary and dwelling on his Wall street connections and his indorsement by Matthew Brush and George F. Baker. He was tagged as a "Morgan man" by this group of opponents.

But the biggest stir was caused by the opposition of Senator Reed [Rep., Pa.], ordinarily a stanch administration supporter, who is the Mellon spokesman in congress, and is regarded by the insurgents as a limb of Wall street himself.

Reed Off the Reservation.

Senator Reed went off the reservation as a result of the interstate commerce commission decision on the rates for hauling coal to lake ports, which he pronounced a discrimination against Pennsylvania mines in favor of West Virginia and Kentucky mines, as a result of which the Pennsylvania soft coal mines are shut down. The commission rejected the recommendation of its examiner that the rates on Pennsylvania coal be reduced and on West Virginia and Kentucky coal raised.

The decision was made by a 6 to 5 vote and Woodlock, who has been a member of the commission for a year under a recess appointment, made the majority against the Pennsylvania contentions. Mr. Reed took the warpath against Woodlock, asserting that the commission has been deciding rates long enough in deference to the interest of the railroads and the time had come to take the interests of shippers into consideration. He complained that of the 100 appointments to the commission in thirty-nine years not one had gone to Pennsylvania, which originates 20 per cent of all rail traffic.

In the course of the decusson of the Woodlock appointment it also was asserted that the railroads profiting from the discriminatory rates approved by this decision are "Morgan roads," which was dwelt on in connection with the charge that Woodlock is a "Morgan man."

McCamant's "Break" Over Roosevelt.

McCamant was the delegate to the 1920 Republican national convention who precipitated the nomination of Mr. Coolidge for Vice President just when the bosses were preparing to name Senator Lenroot [Rep., Wis.]. McCamant leaped on a chair and proposed Coolidge, and the slate went to smash. If it had not been for McCamant Coolidge would not have got to the White House when he did. Consequently there was no surprise when the President appointed McCamant a federal judge.

Senator Hiram Johnson [Rep., Cal.] had a grudge against McCamant, however, dating from that same convention, accusing the delegate of bolting his Johnson instructions, and he stirred up considerable opposition to the appointment. Then McCamant appeared before the judiciary committee in his own defense, but made an unfortunate remark to the effect that President Roosevelt was not a good American.

UPSHAW, DRY LEADER, WILL RUN AGAIN FOR SEAT IN CONGRESS

REP. W. D. UPSHAW [P. & A. Photo.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Aroused by the cry of the wets that the real fight for the modification of the Volstead act will be fought in the next congress, Rep. William D. Upshaw [Dem., Ga.], ardent spokesman for the drys announced today that he had reconsidered his pledge not to run for congress again.

When confronted with a letter written in 1924 stating he would not be a candidate again, Representative Upshaw replied that he had changed his mind.

"At that time my health was poor and the salary of a representative was a miserable sum; now it has been raised by $2,500 a year. I feel I can stay in congress on that salary," he said.

Police Seek Two; Fear They Are Amnesia Victims

Search was being made yesterday by the police for two people who disappeared from their homes and are believed to be suffering from amnesia. Robert Emerson, wealthy St. Paul commission merchant, left home recently following a fall on the ice. He is supposed to have started for Chicago. Mrs. Mary Ford, 35, of 4448 Gladys avenue, mother of seven children, all under 12, disappeared last Friday.

TOO EARLY TO WED; SHE SUES HIM AS A JILT

Because the marriage license bureau isn't open at 5 o'clock in the morning, Miss Della Le Vine, pretty 22 year old stenographer, and Benjamin Bogeous, metal manufacturer, 3637 Lexington avenue, couldn't get married as soon as he proposed last summer.

Three hours later, when the bureau opened, Bogeous had changed his mind, according to Miss Le Vine's story, which will be incorporated in a breach of promise suit for $50,000 damages to be filed today in the Superior court by Attorney Charles E. Erbstein.

"We were at a dancing party when he wanted to marry me," said Miss Le Vine. "We couldn't get a marriage license at that time in the morning although we tried to get a justice of the peace in Wilmette to marry us without one. Then he suddenly changed his mind and told me he had ceased to love me."

Detectives Guard Gigli Following Death Threat

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—A number of detectives and friends guarded the Hotel Statler suite of Beniamino Gigli, Italian tenor, last night following a threat to take his life. Gigli is to appear in a concert here tonight. Yesterday this letter reached the police department: "If Gigli wants to adorn a slab in the morgue, let him try to sing in Detroit. We will cut this canary's throat." Information of the threat was kept from the singer, but he was evidently concerned about the large reception committee.

Health Beauty
from this magic food

Nature's easy way to rugged health and wholesome beauty is to keep the body well supplied with life-carrying vitamins.

Everyone now knows the health-giving qualities of full strength yeast, which is perhaps the greatest carrier of one of the essential vitamins. Good chocolate contains two others. So Choc-o-Yeast is Science's answer to civilization's crying need for vitamin food. It took six years of scientific effort to create this dry, palatable yeast with absolutely the same strength and none of the draw-backs of fresh yeast. Eat two pieces before each meal. Make the eating of Choc-o-Yeast a habit of the whole family. It is cheaper than poor health or medicines.

Try the new yellow dollar box for family use, from your grocer, druggist or candy store. It contains our Milk Chocolate coated Choc-o-Yeast. Also sold in 10c and 25c packages.

WOMEN, CLERGY, SENATORS SLAP VOLSTEAD LAW

Attend the Face-the-Facts Convention.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Defying the Anti-Saloon league to make good its threat of prosecution under the Volstead act, the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment printed George Washington's famous beer recipe upon the program and menu cards of the banquet at its second annual "face the facts" conference here tonight.

THE REV. JAMES EMPRINGHAM.

The more than 500 banqueters from all over the country were given an added thrill when Representative John Philip Hill [Rep., Md.], toastmaster of the evening, in the admitted hope that it would provoke his arrest, read the recipe aloud. Hill it was who a few months ago invited arrest and successfully defended in the United States Supreme court his right to make home made wine.

Keynote to Referendum.

The keynote of the conference, which included an all afternoon review of the results of Volsteadism, was sounded at the banquet by Senator Walter E. Edge [Rep., N. J.] with his plea for an early nation-wide referendum on proposals to legalize beer and light wines and tighten the law against distilled spirits.

The Rev. James Empringham of the Church Temperance society of the Episcopal church, whose recent report in favor of modification stirred up a controversy in his as well as other denominations, was given a boisterous reception when he admitted that for ten years "under my leadership the Church Temperance society has worked for prohibition in defiance of the constitution of our society which stands for temperance."

Epithets for Volstead Act.

Prohibition under the Volstead act was attacked as a "despicable mockery," a "demoralizing influence," as "immoral and indefensibly stupid," and a "complete failure" by the dozen speakers who appeared during the afternoon and evening.

More than 200 women were among the delegates to the conference, with Representative Mary T. Norton [Dem., N. J.], Mrs. W. W. Montgomery, president of the Philadelphia Molly Pitcher club; Mrs. Mortimer H. West, president of the Baltimore Federation of Democratic Women, and Mrs. Rufus M. Gibbs, a prominent Baltimore club woman, as their spokesmen.

"Any act which has brought in its trail," declared Senator Edge, "widespread corruption in public service, increased alcoholic drunkenness, insanity and deaths, homes transferred into barrooms, taught young boys and young girls the use of the flask, unknown before prohibition, and incited a general disregard for all law, cannot be successfully defended.

Dives Replace Saloons.

"Even the two or three major prophecies confidently made as a result of prohibition have, after six years of failure, been entirely punctured.

"First, the doing away of saloons.

"Second, that in a few years the younger generation would hardly know of the former custom or habit of drinking intoxicating liquors.

"As to eliminating saloons, yes, legally it has been accomplished. But in their place have arisen dives where poison liquor can be purchased, greater in number than were former legalized saloons.

"As to the second claim, there is more drinking among the younger generation today than there ever was in the history of the country, and every one who observes knows this to be an indisputable fact. Officials of schools and colleges throughout the country give appalling testimony of this condition.

"I would welcome a nation-wide referendum on modification of the Volstead act. Yes, and to amend the eighteenth amendment to a point of common sense, legalizing of spirits and liquors with all the safeguards which practically can be devised. In that manner and that alone can we solve the entire problem, if it ever can be solved."

"Back to Temperance."

"Under my leadership," said Dr. Empringham, "for ten years the Church Temperance society has worked for prohibition in defiance of the constitution of our society, which stands for temperance. But at the beginning of this year our society elected a new board, every member of which stands with Christ for moderation.

"Being only part of the church, we do not pretend to speak for the church. We hold that prohibition is wrong in principle, but so long as it is the law it must be obeyed. Laws, however, to be effective, must first be written in the hearts of the people."

The common advocacy of Volsteadism by extreme prohibitionists and bootleggers produces results, according to Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron of Baltimore, like "the teaming of a jackass and a bucking broncho."

"Don't let them make the issue one of obedience or disobedience to law," urged Rabbi Lazaron, "because that is not the issue. Since when has the law of right, of wisdom, of consideration given way to anything merely because it is legal? When does fundamental liberty give way to a mere technicality?

"I have not tasted a cocktail since the day prohibition became effective nor have I given a single permit to one of my congregation. Why? Because, I want the privilege without the challenge."

EVANGELINE BOOTH REPLIES TO ENEMIES OF VOLSTEAD LAW

New York, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Evangeline Booth, national commander of the Salvation Army, today issued, through the Anti-Saloon league of New York, a statement in which she characterized the agitation for modification of the Volstead law as "the clatter of noisy bootleg patrons."

EVANGELINE BOOTH.

"If prohibition has lifted up a new element of rum drinkers who can afford to pay bootleg prices for immature or poisonous liquor, then, indeed, it is but a passing condition that soon must disappear," Miss Booth said.

"The working man is not interested in liquor," she said. "When the saloon closed he became interested in his family, in the education of his children, in the acquirement of a home, and in the attainment of those fundamental things that make life attractive. It is the men and women higher up who do not have to work for the money they produce for the bootlegger who are doing the drinking and talking.

"I can even see, if the idle rich persist in making a sport of the prohibition law, that the day may come when the boulevardiers, vastly in the minority, may have to be salvaged out of their attractive places for secret drinking and rescued, if possible, by the Salvation Army and other agencies for relief just as the poor saloon victim used to be."

400 AT CHURCH PAGEANT SEE BOY FATALLY BURNED

While playing the part of an Eskimo in a Sunday night pageant at St. Mark's Methodist church, 5001 South Wabash avenue, it was learned yesterday, John Mason, 14 year old colored boy, was fatally burned when his costume caught fire from a match.

Four hundred spectators were thrown into intense excitement as the boy fled with his clothes ablaze down the main aisle. Several men caught the lad and threw overcoats about him to extinguish the flames. He died soon afterwards at the Wilson hospital. The boy had been reprimanded by a church worker for idly striking a match, and he tried to snuff it out by hiding the match behind his back, police were told. Cotton "snow" on his costume then caught fire.

The youth had been taking part with thirty other children in a pageant given by the Women's Home Missionary society.

Have Color in Cheeks

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-good feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—a substitute for calomel—were prepared by Dr. Edwards after 17 years of study.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. You will know them by their olive color.

To have a clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days, you must get at the cause.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like calomel—yet have no dangerous after effects.

They start the bile and overcome constipation. Take one or two nightly and note the pleasing results. Millions of boxes are sold annually at 15c and 30c.

Colds That Develop Into Pneumonia

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble, and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga. (Adv.)

"LET WASHINGTON DO IT"

AN IOWA shoe dealer writes—"There ought to be a law to limit the styles of shoes."

As a people, we have come to expect the Federal Government to perform economic miracles. "Pass a law" has become the national panacea.

If we think the price of wheat is too low, we say to Washington—"Please raise the price of wheat." If we think the price of sugar is too high, we say to Washington—"Please lower the price of sugar."

We ask Washington to lower the freight rates and in the same breath request higher wages for railroad labor. We haven't yet thought of a glorious third law compelling the railroads at the same time to pay higher dividends—and to pay them oftener.

Aren't we asking too much of our legislators? They are not supermen.

The cynic says that the trouble with representative government is that it truly represents. It does truly represent—and therein lies its great strength.

But it can no more repeal economic law than it can repeal the laws of nature.

WASHINGTON is just a great cross-section of American citizenry—hard-working, honest, doing its best under a deluge of instruction from all of us, the burden of which is—"There ought to be a law . . ."

Last year 100,000 new laws were proposed in this land of the free, where already there are 1,900,000 on the statute books.

We have come to ask Congress to do everything from enacting a maternity bill to running a three-billion-dollar merchant marine.

We forget that our forefathers who created the greatest form of Government of all time did not design that political mechanism to operate business enterprises.

The checks and balances, designed to protect political liberty, by their very nature prevent efficient operation of business projects. As Herbert Hoover puts it, "The Government lacks rapidity of decision." Which is proper. It can't cut corners. There must be debate. Even red tape. Business must make quick decisions.

Yet we go blithely ahead, asking Washington to enter new fields of business activity. We forget that every entry requires more laws, more office-holders, more expense, more taxes.

MORE important, every law which puts Government into business strikes at that which has made this Nation great—individual reward for individual effort.

Our national legislative mill will soon start grinding again. A large part of its grist, by far, will deal with business questions; your business and your neighbor's.

For this is an economic age—an age in which industry has become so interrelated that a law directed at one activity extends out and on, affecting a score of others in unlooked-for industries and localities.

AN IMPERATIVE need today is a better understanding of the growing relations between Government and business, and also a better appreciation of the dependence of every industry upon every other. NATION'S BUSINESS is a magazine devoted to this end. It is published in Washington by the largest business organization in the country, and is founded on the belief that anything which is not for the public good is not for the good of business.

That the value of NATION'S BUSINESS is recognized by American business men is attested by this publication's growth. The circulation of NATION'S BUSINESS one year ago was 160,890. Today it is 200,947.

GRANDMA HEARS MONEY, MURDER ROMANCE TOLD

State Opens Case Against Eliza Nusbaum.

Grandma Eliza Nusbaum yesterday celebrated Washington's birthday by getting her first taste of an actual murder trial, her own.

Grandma and James Walton Winn, the man she used to insist was her suitor but whom she now hates, or says she hates, sat in Judge Emanuel Eller's courtroom yesterday during the half day session and heard Assistant State's Attorney Louis Geiman tell the jury a few things about her romance.

Contractor Slain With Hammer.

Grandpa Albert Nusbaum, the prosperous contractor whose brains were beaten out with a hammer Dec. 29, was killed, Mr. Geiman declared, because he had a $50,000 fortune, and because Winn, his former employé, wanted the money, connived with Grandma Nusbaum to get it. To do so, he said, the old man was to be killed and Winn was to marry the woman almost twenty years his senior.

Grandma liked the love motif of the plot. She balked a bit at the murder part of it, according to Attorney Geiman's recital of the details.

"She said," the prosecutor declared in his opening statement, "O, I don't want you to do it. I could never love you any more if you did. Let your gang do it.'"

Those Called "His Gang."

This gang, is a trio, Edward Goff, Marion Stringham and Mrs. Delilah Martin, each of whom has admitted participation in the murder plot, and all of whom will testify for the state.

Two witnesses were on the stand yesterday, but they testified only briefly.

Roscoe Nusbaum, son of the murdered man, and of the woman on trial, was the first witness. He said his father was born in 1862, and that Winn, whom he had known since 1915, was employed by his father as a painter for a year.

Dr. Joseph Springer, coroner's physician, gave a detailed account of his examination of Albert Nusbaum's body.

Goff will take the stand this morning.

MOTHER SUES TO FREE GIRL BRIDE FROM MAN OF 49

When Charles P. Armstrong, 49 years old, a contractor living at 3221 Franklin boulevard, married Dorothy Clerske, 16 years old, 942 Hayes avenue, Oak Park, just twelve days ago, he remarked: "The disparity in our ages means nothing. We shall be happy."

Dorothy's mother expressed a different view yesterday as her attorney, Louis L. Cohen, filed suit in the Superior court for an annulment of the marriage. It was charged that Armstrong used fraud in inducing the girl to marry him.

Armstrong's first wife had been dead only three weeks when he married Dorothy. He met the girl through an introduction by his son, Donald, a student at Marshall High school.

TYROL LEADERS CHARGE AUSTRIA HAS FAILED THEM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VIENNA, Feb. 22.—Tyrol is up in arms against Chancellor Ramek's address of Friday, in which he referred to Tyrol as Alto Adige—its Italian name—instead of calling it south Tyrol. The Tyrolese chief, Dr. Stumpf. arrived in Vienna today to protest formally. Massmeetings will be held at Innsbruck and all the surrounding towns, where the population charges that the Austrian government has failed in its duty.

CONRAD KAHLER'S WIDOW, HERE 71 YEARS, IS DEAD

Her Husband Was Tribune Pressroom Foreman.

Mrs. Conrad Kahler, 88, widow of one of the earliest of THE TRIBUNE'S pressroom foremen, who was widely known as the inventor of machines for expediting newspaper printing, died yesterday afternoon at her home, 425 South Homan avenue, in the same block where she had lived for the last thirty-five years.

She was the oldest of a family of ten children, all of whom enjoyed exceptionally long lives.

Sister Acts as Nurse.

Mrs. Rosa Zitt, 69 years of age, youngest of the family, came from San Francisco to nurse her sister during her fatal illness, which began five months ago. A brother, Adam Benz, living in Chicago, is 78 years of age.

Mrs. Kahler was born at Buffalo, N. Y., July 31, 1837. Her marriage took place there in 1854.

In 1855, persuaded by his old friend, Joseph Medill, Conrad Kahler came to Chicago and became foreman of THE TRIBUNE pressroom, a position he held for twenty-five years. His death occurred in 1903.

An only son, John Kahler, died here several years ago. Surviving Mrs. Kahler are one grandson, John E. Kahler of 425 South Homan avenue, and a great-grandchild, Lois Kahler, four years of age.

Funeral Services Thursday.

Funeral services will be held from the home at two o'clock Thursday afternoon. Interment will be in the family lot at Rosehill cemetery.

EIGHT SMALLPOX CASES FOUND IN EVANSTON

Dr. Clarence T. Roome, Evanston health commissioner, in a public statement last night warned that the community is threatened with a smallpox epidemic. Eight people suffering from the disease for two weeks have been mingling with others at work and in public buildings until no estimate can be made, he said, of the number exposed.

The commissioner urged that all who have not been vaccinated within the last five years should do so at once. He intimated that if an outbreak occurs vaccination may be made compulsory.

All the stricken are Negroes. The entire family of James Johnson, 2007 Jackson avenue, is under quarantine. The eighth victim is Jip Moregne, 2024 Railroad avenue, whose room is above a grocery store. Johnson was employed by the Youngstown Sheet and Tube company, Evanston.

FRENCH ARMY IN RIFF READY; HAS NO PLACE TO GO

[Copyright: 1926: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Feb. 22.—With the approach of the end of the rainy season the time is drawing near for a resumption of the war in Morocco. The French problem is really more diplomatic than military. They have nearly 200,000 troops and no expert doubts they could wipe out Abd-el Krim and his army in three months if they could get at him.

The French have been seeking for nearly a year to get Spanish consent to cross into Spanish territory to get Krim, but they have not got it.

Therefore, the prospects are that if the diplomatic situation remains the same after the spring fighting starts the French will have a fine army in Morocco, with no place to go.

Bring Out the Hidden Beauty

Do you know that just beneath that soiled, discolored, faded or aged complexion is one fair to look upon? Mercolized Wax will gradually, gently peel off the devitalized surface skin, revealing the youthfully fresh, white and beautiful skin underneath. And the new complexion is a perfectly natural one, not to be compared at all with a make-up. The Wax leaves no trace but that of increased loveliness.

It Really Assists Nature

Isn't it better to actually remove a bad complexion than to attempt to hide or cover up the defects? This peeling method is painless, for the thin veil of outer skin has no nerves. Nature renews complexions in exactly the same way, constantly shedding tiny particles of the surface covering or scarf skin. But in time this process slows up. Then Mercolized Wax and hastens the skin shedding. This is the secret of its marvelous success.

Comes to the Rescue

So if your skin is old-looking, sallow, over-red, blotchy, parched, rough, oily—the stubborn scarf skin—just take it off! Have you pimples, freckles, moth patches, liver spots? Peel them off!

It's the Sensible Thing to Do

And simple. Just apply Mercolized Wax at bedtime, as you apply cold cream; wash it off in the morning. Fine, almost invisible, skin particles are flecked off with the wax. No harm. No detention indoors.

The lively, young, healthy underskin is brought gradually to view—you have the exquisite complexion of robust girlhood—the kind

Women Envy and Men Admire

—and you easily look from 10 to 20 years younger!

Obtain an ounce of Mercolized Wax from your druggist or department store, use as directed—and you will bless the day you made the acquaintance of this wonder-working treatment.

Gasoline and Milk

THAT the cost of living has increased in the last twelve years is beyond question.

It will be illuminating and interesting to review the facts and reduce them to terms of gasoline.

Let's base our case on statistics published by the United States Department of Labor in the Monthly Labor Review, dealing with the average retail price of food products in various cities during the period referred to.

We use 1913—the last year of normal, pre-war prices—as a basis for comparison with the latter part of 1925.

We select milk as a typical staple commodity and Chicago as a representative city of the Middle West.

On November 15, 1913, the average retail price of fresh milk, in Chicago, was 32c per gallon, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Chicago tank wagon price for gasoline was 14½c per gallon.

On that day, one gallon of milk would buy 2 1-5 gallons of gasoline.

On November 15, 1925, the average retail price of fresh milk, in Chicago, was 56c per gallon, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) Chicago tank wagon price for gasoline was 16c per gallon.

On that day, one gallon of milk would buy exactly 3½ gallons of gasoline.

In other words, one gallon of milk would buy nearly 60% more gasoline in 1925 than it would in 1913.

Stated another way—during this twelve year period, the price of milk has increased 75%, while gasoline increased but 10.3%.

The price asked for milk is in line with the price of commodities generally, but the fact remains that, by comparison, the price of gasoline is very low.

This is more remarkable when it is known that the consumption of gasoline increased more than 500%, while the production of crude, from which gasoline is made, increased only 190% during the period, while the average price of crude advanced from $.9438 to $1.80078 per bbl.

In no industry does the law of supply and demand operate more decisively than in the petroleum industry, and the balancing of these two factors is an accomplishment of which the industry generally, and the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) in particular, may be proud.

How was it accomplished?

Largely through advanced refining processes developed in the research laboratories of this Company.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) discovered and developed processes for cracking petroleum which doubled the yield of gasoline from a given amount of crude.

And, following its established practice, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has passed the advantages of its greater efficiency on to its customers—the consuming public.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has profound faith in the expressed appreciation of the public, both for the effort it has made and the success it has achieved, in keeping the price of gasoline so low.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. Then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid Arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid Arvon at any drug store, and four ounces are all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

U. S. MAY REOPEN VERA'S CASE FOR LAW OF HER LAND

She Committed Act, but Not Crime, Lawyer Says.

New York, Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Arthur Garfield Hays, attorney for Vera, Countess of Cathcart, asked the department of labor today to reopen the countess' case in order to consider evidence that adultery is not a crime in South Africa.

Mr. Hays and Emory R. Buckner, United States attorney, have agreed to adjourn for one week the habeas corpus proceeding which was to have been argued tomorrow before Federal Judge Goddard.

If the request is granted by the secretary of labor, a special board of inquiry will meet at Ellis island.

"The countess did not have a fair hearing before," said Mr. Hays. "If she had had legal advice, she would have put evidence regarding the South African law into the record."

Mr. Hays said that Mr. Buckner had cabled South Africa and learned that Mr. Hays' contention regarding the law there was correct. Mr. Buckner declined to discuss this development.

Disagree on Vera's Status.

A difference of opinion arose between Mr. Buckner and Mr. Hays as to the present legal status of the countess. Mr. Buckner asserted that when the countess signed a $500 bail bond at Ellis island on Sunday night she signed away her rights to a writ of habeas corpus, the purpose of which is to release a prisoner who is held in jail. Mr. Hays insisted that the countess had not waived any rights to have her case heard in court.

Other developments included a statement by Commissioner Curran urging that congress change the law under which the countess was excluded from this country and a letter sent to Mr. Curran by the National Women's party asking that women be appointed as immigration inspectors on Ellis island.

LEADERS TO RUSH REVISED TAX BILL PAST OPPONENTS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.] — Tax legislation will advance another step toward final enactment tomorrow.

The house is expected to approve the conference report as agreed to by senate and house conferees. Before doing so it is expected to vote down a motion to send the bill back to conference with instructions to eliminate the provision for a retroactive reduction in estate tax rates.

The conference report will be called up for action by the house tomorrow at noon. Representative Green [Rep., Ia.], chairman of the house ways and means committee, plans to ask that the debate on the report be limited to two hours.

Newton to Lead Opponents.

Representative Newton [Rep., Minn.], who will lead the move to send the bill back to conference.

Representative Tilson [Rep., Conn.], majority leader, will urge members of the house to approve the conference report in its present form in order that tax reduction in time for the filing of returns on March 15 may be assured.

Democrats in the house took the position that they could scarcely afford to fight the retroactive estate tax reductions as Senator Simmons [Dem., N. C.], ranking minority member of the senate finance committee, was chiefly responsible for getting this provision in the conference report.

Bill to Senate Wednesday.

The conference report will be taken up in the senate on Wednesday where some speeches in opposition to various features of the bill are in prospect. These will be made chiefly by the radical group, whose members regard the bill as having been drafted for the benefit of millionaires.

The expectation is, however, that the conference report will be approved overwhelmingly, and that the bill will reach the President by Thursday.

POLICE SEEK CLOTHES THIEF.

Police are looking for three men who early yesterday broke the glass in the front door of a store owned by T. F. O'Leary, 3242 North Clark street, and stole dresses valued at $1,800.

BOY SCOUTS WIN TEST OF QUICK MOBILIZATION

A practical demonstration of their motto, "Be Prepared," was staged yesterday by 2,500 north side Boy Scouts, who participated in a mobilization contest to determine the speed with which they may be assembled for duty in case of an emergency in the city.

Troop 862 of the Ravenswood Presbyterian church, Hermitage and Cullom avenues, was awarded the prize banner, seventy-five per cent of its members having assembled in uniform within forty-one minutes of the time the first mobilization call was sent out by telephone. Troop 814 of the Granville Presbyterian church was second.

Under the system employed in yesterday's test, which was entirely unexpected by the boys, the entire membership body of 16,000 Boy Scouts in Chicago could be mustered for action in three hours, according to G. B. Stephenson, Scout executive of the Chicago council.

INQUEST FINDS SUICIDE VERDICT.

A coroner's jury yesterday decided that Robert Porter, 39 years old, 59 East 68th street, committed suicide Sunday by drinking poison while despondent over lack of employment.

2 GREAT LAKES SHIPPING LINES CONSOLIDATED

122 Boats Involved; Long Competition Ends.

Montreal, Que., Feb. 22.—(AP)— A merger of the Canada Steamship lines and the Great Lakes Transportation company has been arranged after negotiations at Cleveland, it was announced today.

The Great Lakes company has accepted an offer from the Canada Steamship lines and will become an integral part of that organization. The two companies have been strong competitors for traffic on the great lakes.

Cuts Competition.

Toronto, Feb. 22. — (AP)—The merger of the Canada Steamship lines and the Great Lakes Transportation company, it was said at the Toronto office of the former concern today, will remove virtually all great lakes competition except that of the Mathews Steamship company, which operates twenty-five large vessels on the lakes.

The forty boats in the Canada Steamship lines fleet, being the largest, will be devoted largely to grain carrying from Duluth to the Atlantic.

122 Ships Affected.

Duluth, Minn., Feb. 22.—(AP)— Charles A. Skog, western agent for the Canada Steamship Lines, including the Northern Navigation company, said today the merger of the Canadian lines and the Great Lakes Transportation company has been pending for some time. Official announcement of the merger is expected here within the next day or so. Mr. Skog said 122 ships were involved in the merger.

The Great Lakes Transportation company has been operating out of Montreal, running boats mainly to Port Arthur, with an occasional vessel touching Duluth. Mr. Skog believes that the new merger will bring a larger number of the Great Lakes Transportation company boats to this port in the future.

Can't Verify Report.

Cleveland, O., Feb. 22.—(AP)—F. R. Shepard, general agent for the Great Lakes Transporttion company in Cleveland, was unable today to verify reports from Montreal of the merger of the Canada Steamship Lines with his company. T. J. Jaeger, agent of the Canada company, was out of the city, but W. R. Scott, chief clerk, said no word of the combination had been received here. Other officials could not be reached.

SPAIN FORBIDS HORSE SACRIFICE IN BULL RINGS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MADRID, Feb. 22.—Police today doomed bull fighting's popularity among the fans by prohibiting the use of horses by picadors. This marks a victory for the humane societies and has vindicated the protests of the foreigners and tourists who have long protested at the sacrifice of aged and decrepit horses at the horns of the maddened bulls.

From now on the toreadors will goad the bull to sufficient fury through implanting banderillas (small darts) along its backbone, then the matador will apply the deathstroke with his sword.

Heretofore, after the banderillas had been affixed, the picador deliberately held horses for the bulls to disembowel and the animals were frequently pitted against a second bull, when they were not killed immediately.

JEWELED CROWN OF CULT LEADER IN COURT PAWN

A diamond studded gold crown and a jeweled cross were glittering exhibits in a court battle before Probate Judge Henry Horner yesterday. They were in the possession of Joseph Abbate di Carmelo, self-styled celestial messenger, who founded a cult some years ago and held services in a church at 2021 De Kalb street.

Former followers of Di Carmelo told the judge the crown and cross, valued at $2,250, had been purchased with money they had advanced the cult leader and they wanted the gems sold so the debts might be paid.

But members of the congregation, represented by Attorney Bernard P. Barasa, objected on the ground that the crown and cross were the property of the church. Judge Horner continued the case for further investigation.

Di Carmelo was tried in 1923 on charges made by a 12 year old girl. He was found insane. Later he was paroled from the Elgin asylum.

Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

Better Than Soda

For fifty years genuine "Phillips' Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges this souring waste from the system without purging. It is far more pleasant to take than soda.

SUNSHINE'S RIVAL FOR HEALTH

"I have found you an argument; I am not obliged to find you an understanding."

Samuel Johnson could not have spoken more by the card if he were alive today and editor of the Forum. Finding arguments is the purpose to which we are dedicated, and have been for forty years.

What do you think about religion? about Fascism? about the Klan? about a separate air force? about any of the controversial topics of the day?

Was that opinion beheaded violently from a body of prejudice and laid before you on a platter? Or was that opinion of your own hunting?

"I have found you an argument"—that is the Forum. It's full of argument, pro and con, on a variety of subjects. Sample the March issue and indulge in the pleasant exercise of finding your own understanding.

The Catholic Church and Politics
Count Giuseppe Dalla Torre
A PRONOUNCEMENT FROM ROME

During the past year the Forum has opened its pages to an impartial discussion of the problems relating to the status of the Roman Catholic Church in America. Papers by Catholics and Protestants have expressed widely divergent views. The series included an independent report on the influence of Catholic groups upon the civil and political life of Massachusetts.

Thus far the charges of alleged Catholic interference in local American politics have gone unanswered. In accordance with the Forum's policy of strict impartiality in all controversial questions it seemed fitting to obtain from Rome itself a categorical statement of the position of the Church in regard to political affairs.

The present article presents this statement. Count Dalla Torre is editor of the Osservatore Romano, the only paper in the world directly dependent upon the Holy See. He speaks with the weight of authority.

THE PEDIGREE OF JUDAH, by Lothrop Stoddard. That a Jewish question exists is a fact that all sane men and women, whether Jew or Gentile, will readily admit. For centuries, and in many nations, the Jews have been subjected to separate treatment when not to open persecution. Even in our own land of freedom and equality there is ample evidence of anti-Semitism. What is its historical, racial, religious, economic or other cause? In the hope of dispelling misconceptions which cloud this question the Forum proposes to enter into a general discussion of the whole problem. In this first paper Dr. Lothrop Stoddard answers the question, "What is a Jew?"

THE VEILED FEMINISTS OF ATLANTIS, by Booth Tarkington. Mr. Tarkington takes one of his favorite subjects, women, and writes an ironic allegory about 'em.

THOSE WHO RUN MAY READ, by Carl Van Doren. Mr. Van Doren finds that we have grown in forty years from an effulgent romanticism in fiction, through the gentility of Howells and James to the more robust naturalism of Dreiser, Sinclair Lewis, Sherwood Anderson, et al.

WHY I AM A PRESBYTERIAN, by Henry Sloane Coffin. Dr. Coffin, minister of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church (New York) since 1905, finds breadth, adaptability, a tendency toward Church unity, and the sense of historical continuity through Apostolic Succession, in his faith. (Forum Confessions of Faith, III.)

BIG MUSIC, by Margaret Prescott Montague. A charming and fantastic episode in the recently discovered saga of American lumber camps. The Beowulf of this version is called "Tony Beaver."

DEFINITIONS CONTEST. What, for example, do you mean by Americanism? Success? Happiness? We all use abstract terms glibly enough, but obviously we do not interpret them alike. The Forum is about to open a "Definitions Contest," the object of which is to find out just what we do mean. Full details are announced in the March issue.

These are the major arguments in the March issue. Provocative, contradictory, conservative, liberal, they are waiting for you to find the understanding. Waiting, also, is the fifth instalment of "Chimes," Robert Herrick's novel of a university in the building; poetry, essays and other entertainment. MORE than 700,000 families have already discovered that, for the American Home, no magazine is quite equal to Better Homes and Gardens. They find that every month it is packed full of helpful, usable ideas.

The big March number has a very timely group of articles on flowers, gardens and landscape planning. "Give the Shrubs a Chance," by Prof. Franz Aust, will give you some new pointers. In "The Busy Woman's Garden," Florence Taft Eaton shows how a little time can produce big gardening returns.

You'll want to read "New Fashions in Furnishings," by Betty Barrett, "The Care of Wood Floors," by Lou Richardson, and "Our City Vegetable Garden," by George N. Kramer. And you'll enjoy the garden tips for the month; the needlework, music, and book departments; Dad's Practical Pointers, with new ideas for the handy man around the home—also the unit house series, with complete landscaping plans.

These and a score of other articles and features will all help make you feel that your March Better Homes and Gardens is the biggest thing that ten cents could buy. Get it today at your news stand.

DEFENSE TO QUIZ CO-ED; QUESTION STORY OF ATTACK

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Mason, Mich., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Trial involving the question of the modesty of the modern girl in the matter of dress will continue here at 9:30 tomorrow morning in the case of Arthur C. Rich, son of a Battle Creek dental man, charged with a criminal attack on Miss Louise King, Battle Creek college co-ed.

It will continue with Miss King on the stand and prepared to face a cruel cross examination by attorneys for the defense.

This is an unusual situation. Although it is young Rich who is actually on trial, the attorneys for the defense in their examination of the farmer jury, managed by implication at least, to place on trial with him the modern flapper of which Miss King is supposed to be a "type."

All the questions involving the habits and dress of the modern girl have been dragged in by the defense. Would the jury take into consideration the scanty summer costume which it would be shown was worn by the complaining witness? Would it consider that the girl were a "Teddy" and that she admitted she had at least once puffed on a cigarette and at least one time on the night of the alleged attack sipped a bit of wine from a big jar?

Would the jurymen consider a girl who would do such things, who rolled her stockings, and permitted necking or petting, as a model of modesty?

For it is not denied that there was misconduct between the defendant and the alleged victim of the attack. The lawyers for Rich admitted this in their opening argument; but they will attempt to justify it. They say they will prove that Miss King was not only acquiescent, but was the aggressor; that instead of being the attacker young Rich was, in fact, in a manner, the attacked.

The farmer jury, nine members of which have daughters, has listened to a convincing story of young Rich's attack from Miss King. The tall and slender college girl told most of her story last Saturday.

She told how young Rich lured her to the Battle Creek golf course, ostensibly to show her how he made a wonderful shot at the eighth hole, and how he beat her into insensibility, breaking her jaw in five places, and then attacked her.

That is the story the defense will attempt to wreck and in that attempt it is said an unusual onslaught on the character of Miss King will be made.

CATCH THIEF ON FIRE ESCAPE.

A chase by the police along the fire escape of a building at 323 West Van Buren street featured the arrest early yesterday of James Brady, 24 years old, 512 South State street, late of Kansas City. James had an armful of stolen furs valued at $1,000.

MAGAZINE AGENT DENIES HE'S ENGAGED TO CINDERELLA GIRL

MARY LOUISE SPAS.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 22.—(AP)—"Just friendship" was the way Herbert W. Singleton, magazine agent, characterizes his reported engagement to Mary Louise Spas, erstwhile "Cinderella girl" of Edward W. Browning, New York millionaire. Singleton denied that he was "formally" engaged to Mary, who is visiting her sister here.

Singleton met Miss Spas two weeks ago, when he sold her a magazine subscription. Since then he has taken her to dances and shows every night, he said. "I do not contemplate marriage within the near future at all," Singleton said. "It would injure my career."

Singleton is 22 years old. He said he was a graduate of New York university and that his home is in Rochester, N. Y.

Los Angeles Smallpox Cases Show Increase

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 22.—(AP)—A slight increase in the number of new cases of smallpox here was noted in reports received at the city health office today. Nine cases developed Sunday and one death was reported, bringing the respective totals for new cases and deaths for February up to 255 and 48.

A Nation-Wide Service of Speed and Convenience

John Hertz

Chairman of the Board, Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing Company

To render worthwhile service is to achieve solid success.

Guided by this time-tested principle, the Yellow Cab Company has grown steadily from a local taxi service to a great national manufacturing institution whose service today reaches the principal cities of an entire nation.

The conception of such a service, and its development on a national scale calls for business genius and executive foresight of the highest order.

It was careful comparison and sound judgment, then, which selected as standard equipment in the offices of the Yellow Cab Company.

The Easy Writing

ROYAL TYPEWRITER

For the Royal Typewriter, like the Yellow Cab Company, has achieved leadership in its field by rendering a needed service uncommonly well.

Wherever neatness, easy speed and unerring accuracy are important factors, to "compare the work" is to choose the Easy Writing Royal Typewriter.

Royal Typewriters are built to an ideal of mechanical efficiency that permits no compromise with quality.

THE WEAR IS IN THE WEIGHT

"14 Years Old"

Mrs. A. Loshot, Newark, New Jersey, purchased this LIFETIME Tea Kettle, illustrated, which was manufactured in the year 1912. At the end of 14 years of domestic service, defective material has unfortunately rendered the article unfit for further service and, in accordance with our LIFETIME Guarantee, the kettle was replaced without charge.

Fourteen years of service from LIFETIME Aluminum Ware is not enough—it must last for a longer period.

Cash Reward to Housewives

Now $5.00 Cash for Each Kettle of this Type Made in 1912

From the day in 1909, when the first utensil was manufactured by this Company, the Guarantee implied by the name has been in force.

This design kettle (illustrated) was manufactured of heavy 17-gauge aluminum sheets and was equipped with a cold Alaska round wire handle, unbeaded cover opening and cast aluminum spout swedged to the body.

If you have one of these kettles, send it to La Grange, Ill., or to No. 1211, Conway Building, our Chicago office. Phone: State 7312.

For advertising and display purposes we want 100 of these old LIFETIME Tea Kettles, for which we are willing to pay a total of $500.00 in cash or $5.00 each.

Some utensils are made to last a few months, others are made to last a LIFETIME.

Make the Lifetime Trade-Mark Your Guide in Buying

Any Aluminum Manufacturer who is not willing to put his Trade-Mark on his goods evades the responsibility for its service in the home.

The stamp, "Pure Aluminum," is not a Trade-Mark. Unfortunately, utensils so branded are deceptive, in that they render very limited service.

The LIFETIME Trade-Mark means lifelong service. Ask the merchant near you to show you these more serviceable utensils—and always remember, please, that heavy, serviceable Aluminum Ware always bears the manufacturer's established and advertised Trade-Mark.

In Beautiful Des Plaines

30 Minutes from the Loop · 52 Trains Daily

LET US SHOW YOU HOW

Why pay rent? Why live in congested Chicago? Why not live in your own modern home?—on your own lot?—surrounded by your own lawn and trees and flowers?

You easily can enjoy all this and more in Des Plaines Gardens. Here you can have the kind of a home you've always wanted. Here your children will grow up in a wholesome environment. And here you will find real people for neighbors.

Des Plaines is not congested. It is out in the fresh, pure air and sunshine, higher and healthier than Chicago. But Des Plaines is only thirty minutes from the Loop—north of Chicago and west of Evanston. There are 52 fast trains daily, and no "strap-hanging"!

Des Plaines is not a proposed new suburb. It is a substantial, thoroughly established community of 85 retail stores, 3 grade schools, high school, 6 churches, lodges, theatres, etc. For all its atmosphere of picturesque suburban life it is modern with every convenience of living.

Best of all, you can own your own home in Des Plaines. A few newly-built homes are now available. Beautiful homesites are ready and waiting. We will build a home to suit your needs. Terms can be arranged that are less than rent. And the money will be going into your own pocket instead of to a landlord. Ask for particulars today. Simply mail the coupon

YANKS ESCAPE FROM SHELLED CITY IN CHINA

8 Pastors Tell of Murder and Pillage by Armies.

HANKOW, China, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Eight American missionaries reached here today from Sinyangchow, 125 miles north of Hankow, where a group of Americans has been under the fire of the contending Chinese armies. They tell a grim story of pillage, looting, and murder in connection with the strife of Marshal Wu Pei-Fu's Hupeh army and the Kuominchun, or national army, of Feng Yu-hsiang, which supports the Pekin régime.

Other members of the Sinyangchow American community, which totaled thirty-one, have been moved from the danger zone and are now at Chikungshan. C. C. Skinness remained in Sinyangchow to care for wounded Chinese, while H. M. Nesse also is still there, too ill to be moved.

Many Civilians Slain.

Those who reached Hankow say many civilians have been murdered by the soldiers. The troops have confiscated much of the food supply, and many civilians are dying of starvation.

One American mother escaped from Sinyangchow only after she had lived in a coal bin for three days with her three small children. They were without water during that time.

Report Gen. Wu Murdered.

PEKING, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Chinese newspapers today published a report from Kuominchun sources that Marshal Wu Pei-Fu, leader of the Hupeh army which is fighting the Kuominchun, or national army, in Honan, was assassinated at Hankow during a memorial service for Gen. Hsiao Yao-Nan, governor of Hupeh, who died a few days ago.

Port of Canton Closed.

HONGKONG, Feb. 22.—(AP)—The commissioner of customs at Canton has closed the ports of Canton and Whampoa. No steamers left here for Canton this morning, except one, which is sailing for Shameen, the foreign colony there, with provisions, under the protection of the British ensign. The cargoes of ships of five nations are delayed.

The action follows an alleged violation of treaties by the Canton strike committee in seizing and selling cargoes.

MAYWOOD FOLKS WANT THEIR OWN SCHOOL DISTRICT

Feeling that they are not receiving an adequate return for their school taxes, residents of Maywood have started a petition to create a new township and school district.

Prompt action has been promised by the village board, it said, if the petitioners get the necessary eight to ten thousand signatures. The matter will then be presented to the county commissioners for settlement.

J. H. Hartman, president of the Proviso board of education, said yesterday that Melrose Park, which shares the school with Maywood, spends $35 annually for each pupil and receives approximately the same as Maywood does by spending $51 for each pupil.

Ft. Atkinson Woman Dies, Leaving 87 Descendants

World Leadership brings Lower Prices

On January 7th, Graham Brothers announced a substantial reduction in the prices of their complete line of trucks and motor coaches.

This was their third reduction in eight months.

It reflected again Graham Brothers pledge and determination to pass on to the buyer the full economies of rapidly increasing production.

The year 1925 was the greatest in Graham Brothers history.

It saw them advance to World Leadership in the 1½-ton truck field, and brought them the added distinction of being the largest exclusive truck manufacturers in the world.

Such positions are achieved only by enormous demand for a worthy product.

Tuberculosis Patients
Find Ideal Year-Round Climate in Pikes Peak Region
Mild Winters—Cool Summers—310 Days of Sunshine

The arrest or cure of tuberculosis lies in prolonged rest, proper food, dry clear air, abundant sunshine and the supervision of physicians who have made an intensive study of tuberculosis in all its forms.

Colorado Springs and Manitou, nestling at the foot of Pikes Peak in the American Rockies, offer every one of these requisites. The winters are mild, the summers cool, and there is an average of 310 days of healing sunshine annually. The sanatoria and medical equipment represent the latest in scientific research.

At the proper stage of recovery, one may enjoy motoring, horseback riding, hiking, fishing and golf—all in the most beautiful natural surroundings—also music and drama, public and private schools, colleges and up-to-date shops.

El Paso County, in which Colorado Springs is located, and adjoining counties offer good opportunities for farmers and their families who need a change of climate.

At the first sign of tuberculosis, you should consult your physician, then, if practicable to make the change, seek climatic conditions favorable to the cure.

Write E. E. Jackson, Secretary of Colorado Springs Chamber of Commerce, Colorado Springs, Colo., for booklet, "Winning Health in the Pikes Peak Region," and for information as to housing facilities, farming and any other desired data; also, if interested, copy of booklet on agriculture.

THE population of Greater New York is 6,059,444. The population of the Metropolitan area is 9,444,000. These added millions live in New York's great suburban zones — Northern New Jersey, Westchester County, Southern Connecticut and Long Island.

These people are as closely linked to New York City as though they actually lived on Broadway. Over 350,000 of them travel to New York every weekday to business. As many more come to BUY! They represent the prosperous and substantial element of the Metropolitan area—the home owners, the housewives, bankers, brokers, business executives. More than 32% of the men listed in the Directory of Directors live in the suburbs.

Department stores recognize the value of suburban business and cater to it extensively. One store spends over $1,000,000 a year for suburban deliveries—and finds it profitable.

Over 56 percent of the total metropolitan sales of automobiles for the year of 1925 were for suburban delivery.

The Herald Tribune is the favorite newspaper of the suburbs. In the entire residential suburban district the Herald Tribune has, on weekdays, the largest circulation of any New York morning newspaper.

Hence the Herald Tribune must be the Keystone for any campaign which hopes to cover the entire New York Metropolitan market.

And here's a significant fact—The Herald Tribune was the only standard size morning newspaper in New York to show a gain in circulation in 1925.

90 FRATERNAL SOCIETIES HOLD CONGRESS HERE

Delegates Represent Over 8,000,000 Members.

BY SIDNEY SUTHERLAND.

Ninety fraternal insurance and welfare societies, with memberships of between eight and ten million men and women in Canada and every state in the Union are represented by the 200 delegates meeting in the Hotel Sherman for the midwinter sessions of the national fraternal congress.

Attesting the importance of the organizations thus represented is the fact that in less than fifty years they have paid more than four billion dollars insurance for death losses.

This congress embraces in splendid and harmonious coöperation fraternities of almost every known creed. Jewish, Catholic, Protestant, union labor and strictly secular organizations belong to the greater conference.

Woman Is President.

The president of the congress, the first woman to be so exalted, is Miss Bina M. West of Port Huron, Mich., supreme commander of the Women's Benefit association, whose 250,000 members make it the largest institution of its kind.

She is presiding over the separate sessions of the national presidents, secretaries, medical directors, actuaries and editors, and she is at once the busiest woman present and the one who has more time for details.

Today the executive committee meets to fix a place and day for the annual meeting in August at which officers will be elected. John C. Snyder of Crawfordsville, Ind., head of the Tribe of Ben Hur, is now vice president and probably will take the next step up at the voting.

Less Laws, Not More.

An interesting phase of the midwinter sessions is under the jurisdiction of D. E. Bradshaw of Omaha, chairman of the legislative committee. Interesting because the idea is to prevent legislation instead of nursing our traditional passion for demanding more and more laws.

At luncheon yesterday ex-Gov. E. P. Morrow of Kentucky spoke on "Greater Fraternalism, the Need of the Hour." Among the leaders present were Judge John C. Carroll of Milwaukee, W. A. Fraser of Omaha, Judge T. L. McCullough of Dallas, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Mehan of Milwaukee, and Thomas F. McDonald, secretary, of Chicago.

HAISH LEAVES BULK OF ESTATE TO INSTITUTIONS

De Kalb, Ill., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—The bulk of the estate left by Jacob Haish, inventor of barbed wire, who died here Feb. 19, was left to public and charitable institutions.

This became known today when his will was admitted to probate. Relatives of Mr. Haish were not mentioned in the will. The amount of the estate has not been estimated.

The sum of $150,000 was given to the board of directors of the De Kalb Public library to be used for a library building on a lot furnished by the city. The will requests that it be known as the Haish library. The Masonic lodge was given $25,000.

A large part of the estate is to be turned over to a corporation to be used for a hospital which will provide free beds for those who are unable to pay. Three old employés are taken care of by trust funds.

Other bequests included a trust fund of $1,000 a year to Anna Anderson, Mr. Haish's nurse for 20 years.

Rich Youth Crosses Sea to Get Cancer Cure, but Dies

[Copyright: 1926: By the New York Times.]

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 22.—An overseas journey of John W. Hussey, 26 year old son of the American millionaire banker, for treatment by Dr. W. Blair Bell, Liverpool's famous cancer specialist, ended in the youth's death on Saturday. Young Hussey, with his father, J. W. Hussey, his mother, and Dr. Lister King, and two nurses, arrived in Liverpool on Monday of last week. The youth was carried ashore on a stretcher.

UNIDENTIFIED WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN CANAL

The body of an unidentified woman about 35 years old was taken from the drainage canal about a mile east of Lemont yesterday. It had been in the water, apparently, about three weeks.

Bruises and cuts at first caused investigators to believe the woman had been murdered. Later, however, it was decided that she had probably committed suicide and that the marks were made while the body was being carried along the canal.

The woman was 5 feet 5 inches tall, weighed about 140 pounds, and had long brown hair. Three teeth were missing and there was an old scar over the left eye. There were no identity marks on the clothing.

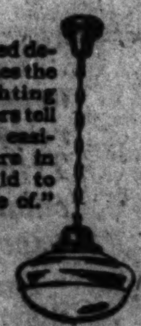
SWINGING on a frayed cord, many an ancient electric fixture lingers long after it has served its usefulness. If any like this one are still hanging on in your shop or office, give them decent burial in the junk heap.

In one typical instance improved fixtures were selected, and installed by an expert with an eye to right location. Result—gloom and glare were alike corrected, the operatives could now see what they were doing, and production increased 25 per cent.

For every item needed in an adequate lighting installation count on the Graybar line of quality supplies. Graybar is successor to the name, experience and reputation of a supplier half a century in business—Western Electric Supply Department.



A patented design makes the "99" lighting unit—users tell us—"the easiest fixture in the world to take care of."

Here is a fixture with a white glazed enamel plate which directs the light downward. Splendid results even where ceiling is dark.

RENEWAL ANNOUNCEMENT

TRIBUNE INSURANCE

READ CAREFULLY!

How to Renew Your $7,500 Tribune Insurance Policy for another year

The High Value of Policy increases from $7,500 to $8,250 on renewal

A YEAR ago, The Chicago Tribune offered to its readers a $7,500 Travel Accident Policy for the small registration fee of $1.00. The Policy issued was fully paid up for one year, all other expenses being paid by The Tribune. It is the most sensational insurance bargain ever offered.

These Tribune Policies begin to expire soon. So we announce that we will renew your policy for one year upon payment of the small registration fee of $1.00.

A tremendous service to the public has been rendered by these Tribune Insurance Policies. They have greatly helped to lessen the burdens of victims of unfortunate accidents.

$241,443.20 in real money paid to Tribune Policy holders or their beneficiaries in the past 11 months

A Few Typical Cases:

William K. Cary, 305 S. East Avenue, Oak Park, Ill. Sales Manager. Took out Policy No. W. G. N. 272948 on March 5th, 1925. On Sept. 28th, 1925, while driving near Detroit, Mich., his automobile was struck by a fast passenger train, completely demolishing his machine and killing him instantly. As a result of this accident, his mother, Nettie C. Cary, was paid $2,000

*Wm. E. Gower, 226 Jefferson Ave., Janesville, Wis. Taxicab driver. Took out Policy No. W. G. N. 334880 on March 9th, 1925. On March 30th, 1925, his cab was hit by a train, killing him instantly. As a result of this accident, his wife, Annie M. Gower, was paid . . . $7,500

*Conrad G. Quetschenback, 7952 Evans Ave., Chicago, Ill. Motorman. Took out Policy No. W. G. N. 429657 on March 14th, 1925. On August 5th, 1925, while on duty, the street car he was operating, ran into an open switch and collided with another car. As a result of this accident, he died. His wife, Mrs. Frankie Quetschenback, was paid . . $7,500

Arthur B. Smith, Whistler Bldg., Nappanee, Ind. Physician. Took out Policy No. W. G. N. 363974 on March 10th, 1925. On September 11th, 1925, lost his right eye as a result of automobile accident. He was driving his own car when the steering wheel came off and he ran into a fence, breaking the windshield, the flying glass injuring his eye. On account of this loss, he was paid $1,000

Helen M. Cornwell, Route 5, Box 109, Independence, Ia. School Teacher. Took out Policy No. W. G. N. 601340 on April 23rd, 1925. On April 28th, 1925, was attempting to board a street car in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, when an automobile ran into crowd, striking her and fracturing her leg. She was paid the weekly indemnity of $10.00 for 15 weeks, totaling $150

*Accidents such as this are not covered by the terms of policies issued by other newspapers. The insurance usually is restricted to "fare paying passengers." The Tribune policy covers you whether you are a fare paying passenger or not.

This is more money by far than has ever been paid on insurance issued through any other newspaper in America. It proves conclusively that accidents covered by The Tribune Policy really DO HAPPEN.

The Tribune Policy is the broadest of its kind ever issued. It was prepared expressly for Tribune readers and never has been obtainable anywhere else. Never before had any newspaper in America offered its readers such broad protection—nor has any since.

The Tribune Policy, when renewed, increases in value from $7,500 to $8,250. That is: the amount of money payable on specific indemnities increases 10%.

Use the Coupon on Page 3

To renew your policy, simply clip the coupon which appears every day on Page 3 of The Tribune. Mail it with $1.00 renewal fee to "Tribune Insurance Department," Federal Life Insurance Co., 168 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, as directed.

You do not have to send in your policy. A receipt will be mailed to you.

This offer of a $7,500 Tribune Policy to Tribune readers is still open. If you have not yet sent for one of these policies, get one for yourself and every other member of your family. Simply send the coupon on Page 3 of The Tribune, as directed.

NOTE: You are not insured unless your renewal is received before your policy time lapses. Do not delay. Renew your policy in time. To be sure, send coupon on Page 3 AT ONCE, as directed.

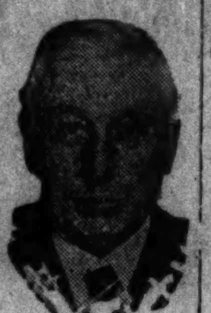
CREDIT, NOT GOLD, IS LIFE BLOOD OF TRADE—FORGAN

Banker Reveals Business Secrets to Illini.

Urbana, Ill., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Credit, not gold, is the life blood of business, David R. Forgan, vice chairman of the National City Bank of Chicago, told those in attendance at the University of Illinois engineering short course today.



DAVID R. FORGAN.

"Something like 95 per cent of all business transactions in a well organized community involve credit in some way or another," he said.

"Credit starts enterprises, mills, railways, wages wars, makes civilization. All stocks and bonds, all national and international debts, all accounts receivable or payable on all the ledgers in the world, and nearly all of what is called money may be considered various credit vessels afloat in the great sea of credit.

"When a corporation wants to borrow one million dollars on bonds," he explained, "or the government wants to borrow five billion dollars to carry on a war, it is a credit transaction accomplished by using paper forms and making figures on ledgers.

"Credit unites all civilized countries by unseen but very real cords of interest and mutual confidence. Every transaction of credit involves confidence of one man or set of men in other men or set of men. This confidence is based on character and no modern business can be permanently successful that is not built on a foundation of character."

Recover Nine Bodies from Ruins of Hotel

Hurleyville, N. Y., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Nine bodies had been recovered tonight from the ruins of the Schindler Prairie house, wooden hotel here, which was destroyed by fire early today. Seven bodies were recovered during the day and two more were found tonight. The bodies taken out of the ruins tonight were so charred as to make identification impossible.

KILLED SEEKING HOLDUP PARTNER, INQUEST SHOWS

Frank De Luca, 19 year old gunman, was out seeking a partner for a holdup expedition when he was shot and killed in a saloon at 326 West 26th street Saturday night, it was disclosed at a coroner's inquest yesterday.

Joseph (Cowboy) Campanzaro, sought as the slayer, has not been captured. His brother-in-law, Nick Lococo of 267 West 24th place, said Campanzaro went to his home after the shooting and explained he had to shoot to keep from being forced to help in a holdup.

De Luca, he said, called him yellow and threatened to kill him if he refused to go with him. De Luca had been released from the county jail, where he was held on a robbery charge on bonds of $35,000, only a few hours before he was killed.

Kills Self with Revolver Given Him in the Early '60s

When Ernest Beckman was a youth during the civil war his father presented him with a revolver, one of the newest things in firearms at that time. Yesterday, Herman Webber, a visitor in Ernest's home at 1122 Eddy street, heard a shot. Beckman was found dead in bed with a bullet through his brain. The old revolver had been fired again. Beckman, 73 years old, had been despondent over ill health.

POLICEMAN EXONERATED OF KILLING.

A coroner's jury yesterday exonerated Patrolman James Burns of the Woodlawn station from all blame for the killing of Edward Conley, 20 years old, 6646 South Peoria street, who was shot Saturday night while in the act of stealing the policeman's automobile.

ROSEHILL MAUSOLEUM

Crypt Interment and Small Incomes

Here and there the impression persists that the incomparable protection and dignity of interment in Rosehill Mausoleum is possible only at great cost. Investigation will quickly prove the inaccuracy of this belief. The cost of the smaller spaces at Rosehill is well within the limits of the most modest income. And the amount expended for a Rosehill crypt is not reflected by varying degrees of care; to all are given the same scrupulous, unrelaxing attention.

Single crypts in the new addition to Rosehill Mausoleum may be had for as little as $450; these, as well as the most costly, are doubly assured of perpetual, watchful care by a trust fund and the Mausoleum Building Special Reserve Fund. Inquiries, by mail or in person, will receive prompt and courteous attention, with no thought of obligation.

SAFETY CHASSIS

This is the revolutionary new car that is outselling all others in its price-class

THE public reception accorded The NEW STUTZ at the automobile shows has exceeded in enthusiasm, and in actual purchase of cars by motorists, anything known in automobile show experience.

It began with the first public presentation of The NEW STUTZ at the New York Show, where 175 cars were sold at retail during Show week, with a total value of $577,500.

The news of this truly epochal new car quickly spread to other cities, and in conservative Philadelphia retail sales of The NEW STUTZ during the week of the local Automobile Show reached a total of 177 cars, valued at $584,100.

By the time the Chicago Automobile Show opened word of the remarkably advanced NEW STUTZ had reached this city and retail sales at the Show came to 251 cars, with a total value of $828,300.

Thus in these three cities retail show sales reached a grand total of over six hundred cars, with a combined value of nearly two million dollars, breaking all retail sales records of these shows, individually and in the aggregate.

Furthermore, at the various local automobile shows held in other cities throughout the country, retail sales of The NEW STUTZ show proportionately sensational figures, likewise breaking all similar records.

In twelve such cities, retail sales of The NEW STUTZ during their Show weeks reached a grand total of 344 cars, with a combined value of $1,135,200.

To the acclaim of The NEW STUTZ by every division of the automobile industry there has been added so overwhelming an endorsement by the motorists of America as to put The NEW STUTZ beyond all comparison in the fine-car field.

Yellow Cab

Helps to Make the Streets Safe

Yellow Cab knows that accidents on the streets can be materially reduced by the application of common sense, common decency and consideration for the other fellow.

Yellow Cab is taking the initiative towards this desirable end by training its drivers to use all three of these human elements, and is paying daily cash prizes to those to best illustrate them in action.

Accidents are not caused by faulty cars or faulty traffic rules, but by too much speed—and by careless, flippant, selfish, smart-alec drivers—both men and women—who have no regard for the rights of others and think the laws were made for everybody else but them.

A view of the traffic in congested districts during busy hours, or idle hours, reveals a mad scramble for place—an evident desire to nose in ahead of everybody else and to take advantage of every opportunity to beat the signals.

A view on quiet streets in the outskirts reveals an overwhelming defiance of the laws of speed, the laws of consideration and the laws of common sense. Hundreds of motorists do not make the slighest pause at street crossings and jay-walkers continue to jay-walk—that's where the majority of accidents occur.

Yellow Cabs are seeking to set the example of saner driving and to that end will pause at all street crossings—will sacrifice a place in traffic lanes for the sake of safety—will give way to the other fellow whether it is right or not—and will follow the Golden Rule as closely as possible.

What will YOU do to help?

Flax-li-num Insulating Co.,
St. Paul, Minn.
Gentlemen:

When your Mr. Wetherill first told me about Flax-li-num several years ago, he proved enough then to cause me to line my houses with Flax-li-num.

Last winter at a time when I was alone in my new house I determined to give Flax-li-num a real test.

The temperature outside was 8 degrees below and 70 degrees above inside. I shut off the oil burner, disconnected the thermostat and awaited results. With no heat being generated, my rooms lost only one degree of heat the first hour. I kept the heating plant shut off 5 hours altogether and the total drop was only 5 degrees or one degree an hour.

I had heard a lot of engineering formulas quoted about the way Flax-li-num resists the passage of heat or cold but this simple experiment is conclusive enough for me.

Flax-li-num not only saves fuel bills for me but has eliminated the fear of sudden drops in temperature.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) Charles W. Martin

With no heat Mr. Martin's house stayed warm 5 hours

HOMES and apartments insulated with Flax-li-num stay warm! This is proved, conclusively, by the test which Mr. Charles W. Martin of Omaha, Nebraska, tells about in the letter which is reproduced in this page.

Mr. Martin's use of this thick, heat-resisting material in the walls and roof of his home eliminates cold and drafty rooms. It makes his home easier to heat. It protects him against sudden drops of temperature. It keeps the heat generated by his heating plant inside and prevents its loss through the walls and roofs.

Flax-li-num will prove itself equally in the home you plan to build.

In summer, it keeps houses cool by preventing the heat of the blazing sun from soaking through the roof and walls and heating up the interior.

Flax-li-num is absolutely essential for a year-around comfortable home. Homes without it can no longer be considered modern, for this effective barrier to heat loss and heat absorption is one of the most important materials that enter into the construction of a home.

Flax-li-num must not be considered an added expense. It is really an economy because its installation makes it possible to use a smaller heating plant and less radiation. This represents an immediate saving and the annual economy in fuel which it makes possible continues year after year, as long as the house is occupied.

A Flax-li-num insulated home is a more comfortable home in all seasons, a more healthful home, a more economical home to maintain and has a higher resale value.

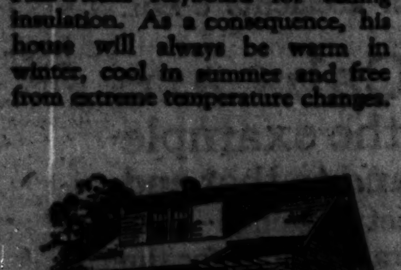
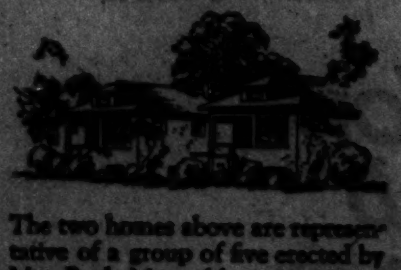
Whether you build, buy or rent, insist upon Flax-li-num. The coupon below, sent either to the distributor whose name appears in this advertisement, or to the Flax-li-num Insulating Co., Saint Paul, Minn., will bring you samples and complete information about this effective heat-resisting material.

Flax-li-num is used in these Chicago Homes

Mr. C. Reier, who built and owns this attractive home at 843 N. Oak Park Avenue, Oak Park, Ill., used Flax-li-num to insure year-round comfort. He used one-half inch Flax-li-num in the side walls and Flax-li-num Keyboard for ceiling insulation. As a consequence, his house will always be warm in winter, cool in summer and free from extreme temperature changes.



When Mr. Werts of Forest Park, Ill., built this home, he used one-half inch Flax-li-num in the side walls and ceiling and also between the roof rafters in the attic. He is assured a house that will be warm in winter and cool in summer.



The two homes above are representative of a group of five erected by Mr. Paul Maywald, a prominent builder of Maywood, Ill. Mr. Maywald realizes that with Flax-li-num in his houses, he can assure his buyers of low fuel bills in winter and cool interiors in summer. Prospective home buyers are always looking for the kind of homes Mr. Maywald builds.

Here are the Facts about Flax-li-num

Flax-li-num is a Correct Insulator

Flax-li-num is made of felted flax fibres. It contains millions of tiny "dead" air spaces. "Dead" air is a natural non-conductor of heat.

1" Flax-li-num equals 16" of Brick or 27" of Concrete

A one inch thickness of Flax-li-num is as effective in stopping the passage of heat as sixteen inches of brick or twenty-seven inches of concrete.

Flax-li-num is made in the Correct Thicknesses

Flax-li-num is made in three correct thicknesses. Full inch for roofs and ceilings; one-half inch for sidewalls and one-quarter inch, which is used with other thicknesses for sound control.

Flax-li-num is made in the Correct Form

Flax-li-num is neither limp nor board-like in form. It is semi-rigid, cannot be punctured or torn and will not warp, buckle, break, crack or pulverize.

Flax-li-num is Purified. It is Vermin and Rodent-Proof

Rats, mice or other vermin will not touch or nest in Flax-li-num. During manufacture it is chemically treated so as to be vermin-proof.

Easy and Economical to Install, Stays in Place Forever

Flax-li-num is made in sheets 16½ and 32 inches wide and in 8, 9 and 10 foot lengths. It is made in flanged sheets, so as to fit easily and snugly between side-wall studdings, and also in flat sheets for brick and tile construction, ceiling insulation and sound control.

Flax-li-num is a Time-Tried and Proved-Correct Insulation

Thousands of homes throughout the country are now correctly insulated with Flax-li-num. It is also used to insulate over 90% of the refrigerator cars now being built.

Flax-li-num is an Effective Sound Controller

Flax-li-num is a most effective controller of sound for use in the floors and party walls of public, commercial and industrial buildings, apartments and two-flat buildings.

Flax-li-num is an Essential Economy—Not an Expense

Flax-li-num cannot be considered an expense. It is an economy—and essential in every home. Its use enables you to save on radiation costs and lowers your fuel bill every year. It pays for itself in the savings it makes possible.

Insulate with Flax-li-num when you build—It cannot be done later

Unlike an extra which can be added later, Flax-li-num must be put in your home when you are building. Do not experiment. Insulation cannot be changed when once installed. Use Flax-li-num and be sure.

HUBBARD RACES TO WORLD MARK IN BOSTON MEET

Covers 65 Yard Dash in :064-5.

DE HART HUBBARD.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 22.—(AP)—A world's record that has stood for eighteen years was broken in the seventh annual running of the American Legion track games here today when De Hart Hubbard, Negro athlete, sprinted 65 yards in :064-5. The old mark was :07.

Hubbard, who is holder of the world's record in the broad jump, twice covered the distance in the new time, first in a preliminary heat and again in the final. His performance rounded out a strenuous day in which he won the 50 yard dash and finished second in a 50 yard low hurdles event.

One advantage granted the runners in the 65 yard dash was the use of starting blocks to prevent slipping at the start.

Mark Established in 1908.

The old record was established by Robertson on Mar. 2, 1908. Drew equalled it Jan. 25, 1913. Loren Murchison equalled it on Feb. 11, 1924, and Hubbard himself equalled the old mark last week in New York.

The New England A. A. A. U. 1,000 yard championship went to Al O'Neil, of Harvard, who led a big field to the tape in a stubbornly fought race. His time was 2 minutes 28 seconds.

Jimmy Connolly of the New York A. C., succeeded to the honors long held by Joie Ray, by winning the Massachusetts legion invitation mile.

TWO MORE MARKS FALL

New York, Feb. 22. — (AP) — Two world's indoor records were broken and a third equalled today in the track and field games held under the auspices of the 245th Coast Artillery in the Thirteenth Regiment armory.

Willie Ritola, Finnish-American iron man, tumbled the first record when he conceded big handicaps to a score of rivals in a 5,000 yard race and won in 13:22, seven seconds faster than his own former world's mark set at St. Paul, Minn., last year. Ritola today finished fully fifty yards in front of his nearest rival, A. I. Totten of Union college, who had a handicap of 100 yards.

Helffrich Clips 600 Meter Mark.

Alan Helffrich toppled the six hundred meter mark which Vincent Lally of New York had set less than a week ago. Helffrich, former Penn State flyer, now sporting the colors of the New York A. C., set the pace all the way, beating off a challenge by Lally to win by 10 yards in 1:22 2-5 seconds. Lally's former mark was 1:24.

Louis Clarke, erstwhile Johns Hopkins flash, now representing the Newark A. C., beat his club mate, Chester Bowman, by inches to win the 100 meter dash in record equalling time of 11 seconds.

University of Pennsylvania athletes carried off a fair share of honors with Russell Payne carrying the red and blue to victory in the 1,500 meter run, while a Quaker quartet romped to triumph over Lafayette and Fordham in a 2 mile relay.

Wachsmuth Wins Marathon.

Running over slushy and slippery streets, Fred Wachsmuth, rugged German-American distance star of the Millrose A. A., triumphed today over a field of fifty runners in the revival of the Brooklyn-Queens marathon, held in conjunction with the indoor athletic meet.

Wachsmuth ran a steady race in the exceptionally fast time of 1:52:11, despite conditions which handicapped many of the runners and resulted in twenty-five competitors, half the field, dropping out along the way.

FACULTY AT N. U. PLANS FAREWELL FOR THE HOWELLS

Richard Howell, internationally famous swimmer, and his bride, formerly Miss Elizabeth Ann Fletcher, probably will be expelled from Northwestern university, Dean James A. Armstrong, member of the faculty board of student activities, announced last night. The board decided yesterday that the Howells violated a university rule prohibiting secret marriages when they wed at Woodstock, Ill., Feb. 3.

Dean Raymond A. Kent of the liberal arts schools, in which Mr. and Mrs. Howell are enrolled, is out of the city, but announcement of their dismissal is expected to be made upon his return. The rule covering the case reads that a student who marries is expelled from the university unless a letter from the parents is received by the dean of men or the dean of women in advance of the ceremony.

Howell is captain of the Purple swimming team and holds several Big Ten tank records. He was a member of the 1924 United States team in the Olympic games. With Howell a sure point winner in the free style events, Northwestern was hopeful of winning its fourth straight conference championship.

NOW, FOLKS, ALL EYES SHOULD BE FIXED ON FLORIDA

For Florida, Folks, Is the Center of Sport.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BOBBY JONES.
[Und. & Und. Photo.]

New York, Feb. 22.—[Special.]—The Florida sport season has been something of a bust to date, but from this time on until May, when the casual inmates come home to see how coffee tastes with cream in it, the exercises will be important and continuous. Ten major league ball teams and several clubs from the high minors will be given prominent mention, but as a sport event the training rites of a ball club rank just below the preliminary trials for a junior varsity face-tag squad.

Net Stars to Invade Florida.

However, a distinguished squad of tennis players will move toward Florida one week hence to play in the American equivalent of the French Riviera season. Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen will kindle their real competitive fire in a series of matches and on March 12 Gene Tunney and Willie Stribling, the inveterate schoolboy, will fight somewhat in Miami, if convenient.

Vincent Richards is advertised as the ace tourist of the tennis squad which will play on both shores of Florida and in the usual boarding house tournaments of Virginia and the Carolinas. Francis T. Hunter, Howard Voshell, Manuel Alonso, and R. N. Williams are other names promised for the draws in the men's sections of these tournaments. The women's tournaments will be heightened by such capable entrants as Miss Mary Browne, Miss Elizabeth Ryan, Miss Martha Bayard, Mrs. Marion Jessup, and Mrs. De Forest Candee.

Tourneys at Miami, Tampa.

The tournaments in Miami and Tampa seem to be the more important ones, and it is trusted that the chuckaluck joints will refrain from laying the odds on the final matches lest there be a home grown scandal as noisy as the one that recently jarred the luxurious serenity of Cannes, France.

Without a full account of the golf tournaments played in Florida thus far this winter and an auditor's statement of the prizes awarded one holds the idea that California has produced more money for a single tournament and less conversation about it. However, the Florida open championship will be a $5,000 competition, and the $1,500 first prize will be large enough to arrest the interest of most the imported and domestic celebrities.

Practical Fight.

Mr. Railroad Cox, so-called because his passion for heavyweight plowjockeys has led him deep into the rural remoteness numberless times in the last six years, is resting from his travels in Miami and he forwards a long wire stating that the Tunney-Stribling fight is not one of those Floyd Fitzsimmons phantasies, but a genuine practical fight between two men who will bleed if cut and say "ouch" if hurt.

"Jess Baugh, the Tex Rickard of Florida, is staging the bout to decide Jack Dempsey's next opponent," says Railroad, using his poetic license to ignore Harry Wills. "Contest will be held at Hialeah stadium. Work on the arena, which is to seat 30,000, started Monday morning. Stribling and Tunney are on the grounds. Gate expected to go to $300,000. How is all the folks?

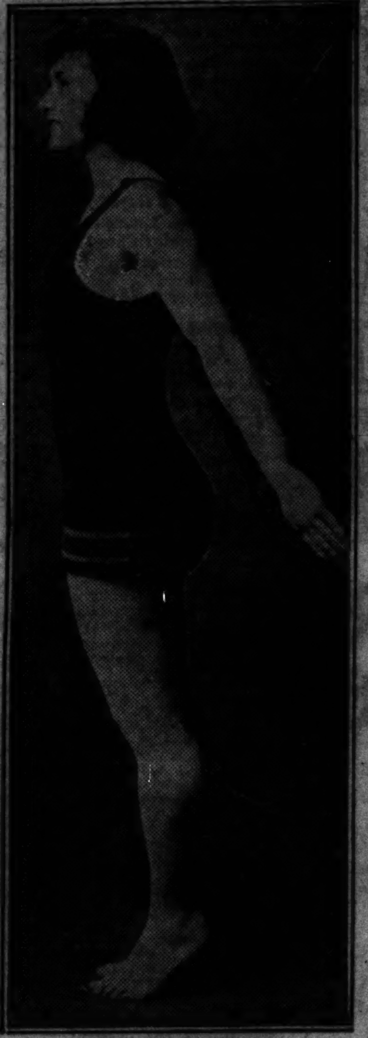
Indiana Basketball Player Dies of Injuries in Game

Logansport, Ind., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Darrell Bohny, 22, died here today from injuries received in a basketball game ten days ago.

WINS TITLE



[Miller Photo.]
BETTY BECKER PINKSTON.

Betty Pinkston Wins National Diving Crown

Tampa, Fla., Feb. 22.—(AP)—A mermaid from the west outclassed her eastern sisters here today to win the national women's amateur fancy high diving crown, while east and west divided honors in a series of exhibition swims, where one world's record was broken and another equaled.

With 100.62 points, Mrs. Betty Becker Pinkston of Los Angeles, Cal., easily left Evelyn Fehr of Detroit in second place for the national diving title. Kathryn Brown of New York was third.

Ethel Lackie Equals Record.

Martha Norelius of New York, who set three new world records at the St. Augustine meeting, flashed a new one today in the 500 yard free style swim. Clocked in 6:45 2-5, she clipped one-fifth second off the old record.

Eleanor Garatti's world record for the 50 yard free style swim, 27 2-5 seconds, was equaled when Ethel Lackie of the I. A. C., Chicago, splashed ahead of a fast field to win today's exhibition event.

Mariechen Wehselau, Hawaii, defeated Adelaide Lambert, New York, in the 100 yard free style swim. Her time was 1:05 3-5.

A mark of 2:58 flat was set by Lisa Lindstrom, New York, in winning the 200 yard free style junior handicap event. Her team sister, Eva Hobbs, was second.

Detroit battled Detroit for the national junior 200 yard relay crown, the Detroit Yacht club winning over the Detroit Women's Aquatic club in 2:08 2-5.

Ederle Wins Marathon.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Miss Gertrude Ederle, champion mermaid, won the first annual Miami marathon swim down the Miami river here today by negotiating the seven mile distance in 3 hours 3 minutes.

S. S. Howard, professional, who swam the stretch in 3 hours 10 minutes was second, followed a minute later by Fred Kamler, also a local professional. W. C. Jackson of Del Ray was fourth in 3 hours 35 minutes. Glen Davis of Coral Gables won over a small group of amateurs in 3 hours 36 minutes.

LA COSTE BEATS BOROTRA FOR U. S. INDOOR NET TITLE

Tilden and Anderson Win Doubles Crown.

RENE LA COSTE.
[P. & A. Photo.]

New York, Feb. 22.—[Special.]—The American indoor tennis championship passed from the hands of one Frenchman into the possession of another here today when Jean Borotra lost a hard fought four set final to Rene La Coste, his teammate, at the Seventh Regiment armory.

La Coste outmatched Borotra, who shares No. 1 ranking with him in France, not in aggressiveness nor skill but in stamina and control, and triumphed after two and a half hours of play, 15—13, 6—3, 3—6, 6—3.

Tilden, Anderson in Doubles.

It was an earnest, strenuous duel from start to finish, neither yielding a point without a struggle. Yet in spectacular elements it fell far short of the title doubles match earlier in the day, in which William T. Tilden and Frederick C. Anderson had beaten Vincent Richards and Francis T. Hunter in five stirring sets, 3—6, 6—3, 6—4, 3—6, 12—10.

For one thing, the rallies were rather brief in the main, and the speed and dash of the match did not come up to expectations. La Coste was too automatic and methodical to be thrilling, but he was deadly accurate and his judgment of shots was rarely in error.

Borotra Flashes, Tires.

Borotra forced the attack most of the way and contributed the sparkling features of the match, but he did not show his customary dynamic play. After the long twenty-eight game set that opened play, Borotra's speed flashed only on one occasion in the third set. He was too tired after the exhausting first set to carry the attack to the net in his customary style, and La Coste was not hurried sufficiently to lose control at any stage. The winner's nets and outs were surprisingly few.

Borotra looked dangerous when he checked La Coste's advance and won the third set, but his threat failed to materialize in the fourth, in which La Coste held the upper hand throughout. Borotra was too exhausted to offer much resistance in the last few minutes of play.

ANZACS OUT OF DAVIS CUP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 22.—The tennis association today decided not to challenge for the Davis cup, as James O. Anderson and Gerald Patterson, the tennis stars, are not available for the trip to the United States and the association considers it would be a useless waste of money to send a weak team. It is hoped that a team of six American players will visit Australia next winter.

Fast Time Made in Big Swedish Ski Marathon

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 22.—Vasa Run, Sweden's winter ski marathon of 90 kilometers, held Sunday and today, was won by Hedlund, who made a sensational run through the woods and hills in five hours, thirty-six minutes, and seven seconds. Utterstrom was second, in 5:51:55, and Lindgren third in 6:10:39.

Vasa Run is more than double the distance of the Greek marathon and the results are considered phenomenal. The run is held yearly in memory of the historic ski run made by Gustavus Adolphus, founder of the Swedish kingdom, 400 years ago, when he liberated Sweden from the Danish yoke.

Ring and Mat Tax Provides $159,302 Income for N. Y.

New York, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Boxing and wrestling earned a net income of $159,302.54 for the state of New York in 1925, according to the report of the state athletic commission, made public today.

The gross receipts amounted to $222,749.86, of which $179,739.81 constituted taxes on shows held by various clubs throughout the state. The sum of $43,010.05 was obtained on licenses issued to boxers, seconds, managers, clubs, and ring officials. Expenses of the commission amounted to $63,447.32.

The report shows that 1,739 boxers were licensed, in 29 clubs. Only 47 wrestling licenses were issued. Thirty-two referees, fifty judges, twenty-one timekeepers, and twenty-three physicians were licensed to conduct 2,624 bouts.

Morgan Boxes Goodrich Ten Round Draw

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Tod Morgan, world's junior lightweight champion, and Jimmy Goodrich, former holder of the lightweight title, fought ten rounds to a draw in the main event of the boxing show in the Auditorium here tonight. Morgan had the best of the milling in the early stages of the fight, but Jimmy evened up matters in the last half by pasting Tod around the ring in lively fashion.

At times Goodrich was guilty of holding. Tod tried hard to break loose, but the foxy Goodrich's experience saved him a lot of punishment.

Morgan's Punches Wild.

In the opening round Morgan staggered Goodrich with a left hook, but was unable to land it effectively after that. Tod also missed many hard right swings, after shooting in left jabs. Goodrich's straight left was good and when in close quarters often crossed his right to Tod's chin for scoring points.

With the exception of the first round there was not a semblance of a knockdown and little damage was done. Morgan weighed 129½ pounds and Goodrich 134¾ pounds.

Azzarella Comes Back.

After being knocked down three times in the first round, Joe Azzarella showed a wonderful recovery and defeated Frankie Burns in the four round semi-windup. Starting with the second round, Joe took the play away from Frankie and had him nearly out at the bell.

About 4,000 fans paid $8,000 to see the show. About 100 Chicagoans made the trip.

SENN HIGH GOLF TEAM WINS CITY INDOOR TOURNEY

Four young golfers of the Senn High school, shot their way to the team championship of the Chicago high schools yesterday in the third annual indoor championship. The tournament was played at Bob MacDonald's indoor course.

Playing on the Senn team were W. Stromberg, V. Marklund, R. Haldman, and A. Cohen. Their total score was 178 for the 18 holes. The standing of the teams follows:

Senn, 178; Lindblom, 184; Marshall, 195; Tilden, 200; Lane, 200; Lake View, 203; Hyde Park, 207; Crane, 210; Bowen, 214; Englewood, 232, and Morgan Park, 252.

The individual championship was won by Victor Marklund, whose score was 39.

George Lott and Mate Win Title at Buffalo

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Manuel Alonso of Spain won the singles championship in the Buffalo tennis and squash club's invitation tournament today. Paired with Eric Worm of Denmark in the doubles finals, he went down in straight sets before his opponent in the singles match, Arnold Jones of Providence, who had George Lott of Chicago as his partner. The singles score was 6—3, 6—4, 6—3. The doubles score was 6—4, 6—4, 7—5, 6—4.

HURLERS IN CUB CAMP REHEARSE ON RESIN BALL

But They Find It No Good on Damp Field.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., Feb. 22.—Spring conditioning for the Cubs reached a point today where the hurlers were told to line up and put a little stuff on the ball. With a couple exceptions, they did, but all the candidates seemed more interested in experimenting with the resin bag than in getting a hop or a hook on the ball without the help of the powder.

Fellows who never before had made use of a foreign substance to get results admitted that the resin was a big aid, but the workout divulged another thing, and that is that resin on a wet ball causes considerable embarrassment. The balls were dampened by heavy dew in the grass and became so sticky they almost hung to the palm of the hand.

Alex Takes It Easy.

The only hurlers who did not bother with their arms in the initial test this morning were Tony Kauffmann and old Alex; both contented themselves with chasing fly balls, and they'll continue on this diet for several more days. Alex reaches his thirty-ninth birthday next Friday, so naturally has to proceed with caution, and Tony has a trick wing that never loosens up until about a week before the opening of the season.

With the bulk of his hurlers rapidly reaching condition that will permit them to work for at least a couple of innings without fear of injury, Manager McCarthy is anxious to turn them loose against the outfield candidates who have hitting reputations. This part of the conditioning program will get under way about Wednesday.

Rookies Must Hustle.

McCarthy hopes to be able to save five or six men out of the outfield scramble, and his wish is to wind up with at least three right handed hitters. One of the right handers will be a regular, and the other two will be trotted forth whenever opposition offers southpaw pitching. Brooks, Jahn, Scott, and Wilson are the only right sided clouters in the outfield, and Jahn did pretty well as a hitter after he joined the Cubs last season.

It is the hitting feature as much as anything that is giving Red Shannon an edge on the struggle for the shortstop job. Cooney is by far the better fielder, but Shannon bats from both sides of the plate and Pilot McCarthy considers this worthy of consideration.

Oscar Reichow, business manager of the Los Angeles club, hopes to snare an infielder and outfielder from the Cubs, but it is a little too early to start chasing the candidates back to the sticks.

GIANTS START DRILL

Sarasota, Fla., Feb. 22.—(U. N.)—Sixteen athletes responded today when Rogers Bresnahan sounded the call for the first training drill in the New York Giants' camp. The sixteen who engaged in the practice session were Art Nehf, Jimmy Ring, Kent Greenfield, Fred Fitzsimmons, Fay Thomas, Harry Houlihan, Tim McNamara, Chick Davies, W. H. Clarkson, Jack Wisner, Gus Lindberg, Hugh McQuillan, Melvin Ott, Ethbert Slayback, Fred Hakbarth, and Al Moore. The boys played catch, fielded bunts, and pursued fungoes.

Eddie Plank, Once Famous Pitcher, Is Seriously Ill

Gettysburg, Pa., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Eddie Plank, for many years star pitcher for the Philadelphia Athletics, is seriously ill at his home here. No information concerning his illness could be obtained at the Plank home or from his physician, but friends of the family said he had suffered a paralytic stroke today which had affected his left side.

WIND SPLITTER

PETER DE PAOLO.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Peter De Paolo, maintaining an average speed of 129.29 miles per hour, won the inaugural of the 300 mile automobile classic here today over a field of 18 drivers and established a new world's record for the distance.

De Paolo finished two laps ahead of his nearest competitor, Harry Hartz. Bob McDonough was third, Frank R. Elliot fourth, Earl Devore fifth, and Bennett Hill sixth. De Paolo drove a Duesenberg, while all others in the money piloted Miller specials.

De Paolo will be awarded the Carl G. Fisher trophy and the major portion of $30,000 in prizes and a part of the added money. In winning he lowered Tommy Milton's former record of 109 miles set at Kansas City in 1925.

Devore set a new world's record for the 200 mile distance over a wooden bowl when he went the distance at an average of 131.04 miles an hour. The old record of 129.40 was set last Thanksgiving day at Culver City, Cal., by Earl Cooper.

De Paolo had a pair of his baby's shoes fastened to the steering gear of his machine. It was the second race the little Italian had won with these "pilots and mascots," as he termed them.

Youth Finishes Second in Big Dog Race Derby

Pocatello, Idaho, Feb. 22.—(AP)—The Ashton Derby, the dog classic of America, was won this afternoon by Bill Trude of Shotgun, Idaho, in 1:55:58. Warren Brown, the 13 year old boy who won this year's McCall race, proved the sensation of the Derby, taking second place in 2:02:40. Harry Kennedy of Lake, Idaho, was third in 2:03:21, and "Smoky" Gaston of Henry's Lake was fourth, 5 seconds behind Kennedy.

Champaign, Ill., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Illinois' basketball team defeated Chicago handily tonight, 24 to 16, the victory being the fourth straight for the Illini. Coach Ruby's men guarded the Maroons so closely that they were held to four baskets, while the Illini penetrated the tight Chicago defense for nine goals. The Illini, however, made several long shots.

The first half ended with Illinois holding the upper hand, the score being 15 to 10. In the second half the Maroons were held to one basket. Lineup:

MICHIGAN JARS WISCONSIN

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 22.—Michigan's basketball team defeated Wisconsin here tonight, 22 to 13, in a hotly contested game. Michigan took the lead in the first half and held it throughout the game. The score at the end of the first half stood 9 to 4 in the Wolverine's favor.

Michigan was on the offensive during most of the game, and, although they found difficulty in breaking through the Badger defense, the Wolverines outplayed and outshot Wisconsin consistently. Merkle of Wisconsin was taken out in the first half with four personal fouls, which weakened his team's defense. Lineup:

Hoppe Shades Jake, 500-498, in 18.1 Game

BY MORROW KRUM.

Willie Hoppe, world's 18.1 balkline billiard title holder, had the slender edge of two points over Young Jake Schaefer, 18.2 champion, last night at the end of the first two of six 250 point exhibition blocks at the 18.1 game, played in Mussey's 61 West Madison street amphitheater. The score was Hoppe, 500; Schaefer, 498. The two will play 250 points blocks this afternoon and evening and again tomorrow afternoon and evening.

The afternoon battle of yesterday was Schaefer's, who is making his first excursion into the 18.1 realm, by the score of 250 to 231. Schaefer left the afternoon game with an unfinished run of 180. After dinner he took up the game again and before his fourteenth inning had ended he had collected 212 points. The official high run for 18.1 billiards is 140, made by Frank Ives in 1897. The highest unofficial run was 210, made by Hoppe.

The battle of last night was brilliant and hard fought. Schaefer led most of the way, but when within 2 points of the goal, he failed twice and Hoppe forged through the loopholes.

Score by innings:

HOPPE — 0 0 1 10 6 16 62 72 1 [illegible] 7 1 0 7 24 1 23 50 [illegible] 0 [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] 31—500.

SCHAEFER — 0 15 12 [illegible] 1 10 [illegible] 0 7 18 16 5 2 13 5 0 11 8 [illegible] 1 0 19 0—498.

Average—Hoppe, 20 5-6; Schaefer, 21 15-23. High runs—Schaefer, 212; Hoppe, 72.

After their 18.1 play the players shot 25 points of three cushion billiards. Schaefer won the afternoon session, 25 to 19, in 33 innings, and Hoppe won the evening match, 25 to 18, in 22 innings.

MORTIMER BEATS C. C. PELL FOR RACQUETS TITLE

Boston, Mass., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Stanley G. Mortimer of New York won the national racquets championship on the courts of the Tennis and Racquet club here today, defeating Clarence C. Pell of New York, holder of the title for the last six years, 10—15, 15—8, 6—15, 15—7, 17—14.

In the last 12 years Pell and Mortimer have met in every American championship and Mortimer has been the only player able to defeat Pell. Twice in that period he broke Pell's sequence of victories.

MIAMI HOLIDAY STAKE TO SILVER SONG BY A NECK

Four Leaders Finish Race Closely Lapped.

Miami, Fla., Feb. 22.—The consistent three year old filly Silver Song raced to victory in the George Washington handicap, feature of the holiday turf program, here this afternoon. She scored in an exciting driving finish by the narrowest of neck margins from the outsider Bookbinder, while South Wind was another neck back in third place. Less than a length back in fourth place was the colt Chicago, owned by Frederick Grabner of Chicago.

It was one of the most exciting finishes of the season, and the good horsemanship of Jockey E. Barnes figured prominently in Silver Song's triumph.

In the secondary feature Postillion, running in Herbert Shimp's Chicago colors, beat a band of the best sprinters quartered here.

10 RACE HORSES DIE IN N. Y. FIRE

New York, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Ten race horses owned by Charles Moore were destroyed tonight in a fire which demolished two stables at the Aqueduct race track. Among the animals killed was Pettifogger, which won the Empire City derby two years ago. Another victim was Alchemy, which recently brought $7,500 at a sale. The other horses destroyed were Sarsaparilla, Sleepy, Daisy and five two year olds, not yet named.

There's a little bit of MURAD in nearly every cigarette —but only a MURAD is ALL MURAD

You've noticed that there's a little bit of Chaplin in many good screen comedians.

"X" has Chaplin's walk. "Y" has Chaplin's wistful smile. "Z" has Chaplin's mannerisms.

But none of them is Chaplin!

So it is with MURAD . . . and other good cigarettes.

One brand suggests something of MURAD's haunting and exquisite fragrance. Another gives a hint of MURAD's silky and caressing coolness. And still another reminds one faintly of MURAD's piquant and inimitable flavor.

But none of them is MURAD!

For the charm in a MURAD is like the charm of Chaplin. It isn't a fractional part. It is the sum and substance of the WHOLE!

In Chaplin, they call it genius. In a MURAD it is Turkish tobacco.

Nearly every cigarette—domestic brands included—have some Turkish. They can't get along without it. But MURAD is ALL Turkish—and the world's finest Turkish.

Its superior quality is not an ingredient or a percentage; it is the soul and sole of the cigarette.

In Turkish and in charm . . . MURAD is nothing else but!

HELEN WINS ONE CUP AND REACHES FOR ANOTHER ONE

Suzanne Prepares for Rest in Country.

BY DON SKENE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1926: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BEAULIEU, Feb. 22.—Helen Wills celebrated Washington's birthday with two fine victories in the Bristol tournament this afternoon.

Partnered with the English star, C. K. Kingsley, the American champion passed the semi-final round by defeating the strong combination of Mrs. Phyllis Satterthwaite, a first class English player, and Baron Kehrling, the Hungarian champion, 6—0, 6—2.

Then she added another glittering cup to her fast growing collection when she and Mr. Kingsley won the mixed doubles finals over Miss Eileen Bennett and Mr. F. M. B. Fisher, 6—4, 6—3.

Play Dazzles Fans.

Miss Wills today in both matches repeated the same superb play with which she dazzled the tennis followers yesterday.

After her two triumphs this afternoon Miss Wills prepared to move to Monte Carlo for this week's big international tournament at the La Festa club, while her arch rival, Mlle. Lenglen, was busy packing her trunks for her departure tomorrow to a secret secluded health resort.

Miss Wills, with her mother, will be installed in the royal suite of the luxurious Hotel de Paris at Monte Carlo, which is just across the street from the renowned casino gambling rooms.

Despite the absence of Mlle. Lenglen, keen international interest is being aroused over the women's singles in the Monte Carlo tournament. In the lower half of the draw, Miss Wills appears sure to meet Frau Nelly Neppach, the champion of Germany.

In the upper half, the outstanding contender is Senorita Elia de Alvarez, the Spanish marvel, who flashed across the tennis horizon three years ago.

May Clash at Nice.

The date for a return match between Miss Wills and Mlle. Lenglen is still doubtful today. One of the best informed tennis officials in Europe, George Simond, the popular referee and organizer of all the tournaments on the Riviera, expressed the opinion to THE TRIBUNE correspondent that the two mighty champions are sure to meet at Nice in the tournament starting March 8.

Among the most interesting entrants in the Monte Carlo tournament seen at the La Festa club this afternoon was King Gustave of Sweden.

5 INDEPENDENT BASKET CLUBS ORGANIZE LOOP

Leading basketball teams of the middle west have formed a new league to be known as the Midwestern Basketball league, Father Miller of St. Philip's announced last night. The St. Philip's A. C., Chicago Nationals, Kenosha A. C. of Kenosha, Wis.; the Indiana Clover A. A., and Capper & Capper have joined the association, which will take in a sixth team when a ruling of the Central A. A. U. on the status of the applicants is received.

A closed schedule is planned by the organization, the first games being set for Thursday night at the Boys' Brotherhood of the Republic gymnasium, the Chicago Nationals' home floor. The St. Philips will meet Capper & Capper, and the Indiana Clovers will face the Chicago Nationals.

The league is now seeking the official sanction of the Central A. A. U. All teams have submitted players' lists for approval, and strict observance of the amateur regulations has been promised.

FIRST NATIONAL WINS TITLE.

The First National bank five last night clinched the championship of the Chicago Bankers' Basketball league by swamping Illinois Merchants', 30 to 21, at Central Y. M. C. A.

Left arm sprained and ligaments torn

FELL FROM TOP OF BOX CAR

Sustains painful injury but gets quick relief.

A freight brakeman on the Chicago and Northwestern Railway fell off the top of a box car on his left arm, spraining it and tearing the ligaments.

"I suffered great pain," he writes. "Then I got a bottle of Sloan's Liniment and it relieved the pain right away. I have now no pain to speak of at all. The swelling has nearly all gone down." (Name and address given on request.)

What is the magic of this amazingly effective remedy? Sloan's sends an increased supply of healing blood right to the spot that hurts. That's what conquers the pain. No need to rub. Sloan's does the whole job. Just pat it on. Quickly and surely it kills pain, reduces swelling and inflammation, drives out stiffness from lame muscles. Get a bottle. All druggists—35 cents.

Judson Pinned by Steinke; 2 Out of 3 Falls

Hans Steinke, the giant German, was too big for Frank Judson, the ex-Harvard wrestling coach, last night, and won two out of three falls in the windup bout of the mat show at the Coliseum. The finish wasn't altogether satisfactory, for some of the fans apparently thought that Judson could have won if he had been more careful.

Applies Leg Split.

In the final fall Judson was applying a punishing leg split. Steinke's face was distorted with an expression of pain. He writhed and pounded the mat as Judson pried Hans' legs apart and tightened his grip. It looked as if Hans was about to roll his big shoulders to the mat. Suddenly Judson threw away his chance to win and the German turned defeat into victory.

Judson tossed the match away by stepping in too close to Steinke as he shifted his grip on the German's legs. Hans reached out and seized the ex-Harvard coach by the ankle and pulled him to the mat. Either Judson was too surprised or too tired to resist, for the second Frank's body hit the canvas Steinke jumped astride his opponent's body and applied a short arm scissors and Judson rolled over with his shoulders flat. The time of the final fall was 17:45.

Steinke Uses Headlocks.

When Judson won the first fall with a crotch hold and short arm scissors in 9:05 the fans thought he had a chance to win. But Steinke came back and took the second fall in 16:50 after a series of headlocks. The fans made the Coliseum ring with pointed references to the ability of the two principals.

Some ferocious faces were offered in the preliminary bouts for the approval of the 3,000 fans who turned out. John Freberg, the big Swede, pinned Paul Martinson with a flying mare in 31:10. Giuseppe Massetti, the latest Italian heavyweight to appear in local rings, went on with George Vassell of California and more comedy followed. Massetti won in 17:20 with a flying mare despite the handicap of a mustache.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

DAVIS CUP MENACE.

JEAN BOROTRA and Rene La Coste by their victories over Champion Bill Tilden and Vinny Richards, respectively, for the indoor tennis title become a distinct menace to Yankee supremacy in the Davis cup matches this summer.

Without in any way belittling those victories, however, there are other factors to be considered by those familiar with the situation. In the first place, Tilden, through theatrical work, was not in the form which we shall expect from him when his outdoor title or the cup is at stake.

Borotra is a spectacular player who likes to take the net. Ensconced there, he volleys sharply to the corners for placements. Unless his opponent has good control and can drive past him along the side lines as Jean comes to the net, his opponent is "gone." Tilden, with his strokes working, is a past master at that art. So is Billy Johnston. La Coste, less spectacular than Borotra, is steadier. Critics call his game sounder, but spectators prefer the "Bounding Basque," as Borotra is nicknamed.

These French boys did not win a match against our quartet last fall. They seemed such good sportsmen we had hoped they might. La Coste and Borotra carried the entire burden against four Americans. Brugnon was hardly in the same class with them. Playing in both singles and doubles, this pair endured the intense heat prevailing for three days, while Tilden and Johnston, singles representatives, had a day of rest between while the doubles were played. It was a severe strain. Billy Johnston told The Wake he lost seven pounds in his first singles match, and Billy only weighs 123 pounds.

Unless Brugnon has improved greatly, the challengers, if they defeat all other nations, will face the same handicap this season. It is unfortunate, but must be considered in forecasting the chances. So while the French now appear more formidable than a year ago, The Wake thinks odds still favor the Yankee defenders. More accurate estimates will be possible following the spring and national tourneys.

Nurmi.

Nurmi, the horse, won the New Orleans handicap just about as impressively as Quatrain, post favorite for the Kentucky Derby, did last year. Although beaten soundly in his second start by older horses, Nurmi was giving away weight on the scales to everything in the race. So we figured Nurmi a formidable candidate for the Louisiana Derby. Now we are informed he has been shipped to Miami.

Obstacles to New Highway Cleared Away

BY J. L. JENKINS.

In coöperation with the villages of Glencoe, Winnetka, Kenilworth, Wilmette, and Evanston, the Chicago regional planning commission has been making a study of the connected highway parallel to the Chicago and Northwestern railroad which will relieve traffic congestion on Sheridan road in the north shore suburbs.

Two joint meetings have been held, bringing in all interests concerned with representatives of the Cook county highway commissioners and the state highway department.

Three or four realignments in the proposed highway have been agreed upon in the joint meetings, according to official reports issued yesterday. In Evanston the McCormick road, Dodge avenue, Asbury avenue and Ridge avenue are being studied as connections for the continuous route, and each of the municipalities have been included in the coöperative scheme, which is expected to result in the first wide traffic artery leading north from the Chicago gateway.

Each section of the north through route is being planned as a local improvement by the various municipalities, and the cost is being spread by special assessment proceedings under the local improvement act. In Glencoe the wide artery matter is impending in court, preparatory to spreading the needed special assessment. Here the proceedings are concerned with the extension of Green Bay road through the center of Glencoe on a 106 foot right of way. Winnetka has two units actually completed and under traffic. A fourth unit is already good pavement, though not so wide as the final plans call for, and the fifth is ready for immediate development. Kenilworth is ready to go forward with court confirmation of proceedings on its entire section of the route. Wilmette has acquired practically all of the new right of way needed.

The new north highway, the first in Chicago's wide highway transport plan, will carry all types of traffic. It will aid passenger car operation as well as heavy truck traffic, according to officials of the Regional Planning association. The pavement planned for most of the new route is a forty foot slab, eleven inches thick and made up of reinforced concrete construction.

CHICAGO BOWLERS WIN TOP MONEY IN ST. PAUL MEET

St. Paul, Minn., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Efforts of bowlers to top high marks failed to materialize today and as a result Chicago and Milwaukee rollers hold the leadership of every event of the International Bowling association's eighteenth annual tournament, which came to a close this evening.

Underwriter Service Corporation of Chicago took first place in the five-man event with a score of 2,956, and was awarded $500 and five gold medals. The Pale Moon team of Fort Dodge, Ia., finished in second place and received $400 in prize money.

J. Fleger of Chicago, beside taking first place in the individual event, placed highest in the all-events with a score of 1,904. In the singles he knocked over 681 maples, 7 more than Walter Kjeldsen of St. Paul, who finished in second place. Fleger won $150 in the singles and $50 in the all-events.

Two teams finished in a tie for the lead in the doubles, C. Berterman and E. Keller of Racine, and J. Vana and H. Lavis of Chicago, making counts of 1,262. The four men, beside getting medals, will receive $75 each, a four way split of the $300 first prize. William Schmid and Sid Kemp of St. Cloud, Minn., finished right behind these men with a count of 1,251.

First Robin a Foolish Bird, Becker Says

BY BOB BECKER.

About this time of the year many heated disputes are carried on regarding the appearance of the first robin of the season. Contrary to general belief, these birds do not represent the first records of the robin migration, but they are a few stray birds that were foolish enough to stick around and buck old man winter's stiff snow and ice game when they should have gone south.

Sometimes these "first" robins of the season are crippled and could not make the fall migration. Whenever these or any of the foolish healthy birds have to cover considerable ground in their hunt for food they are seen and then comes the hue and cry of the first robin of the season.

With a few robins, as well as jays, chickadees, woodpeckers, cardinals, and other species on deck, suburbanites and farmers should not close up their outdoor feeding stations for the birds, as there are often many lean days during late February and March, when a handful of bread crumbs or a chunk of suet looks like a million dollars to our feathered friends.

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY
THE STORE FOR MEN

Your business sense tells you this is true

DID you ever stop to figure why so many real judges of cigar value, smoke long graceful Panatelas, when, for the same price, they can buy fatter and larger cigars?

This is because their inherent business sense tells them that they can only get so much for a given sum—if they demand the best. Any cigar can be made larger, regardless of price, by the addition of inferior tobaccos to add to size at the sacrifice of quality.

In Robt Burns Panatelas, selling at but 10 cents each, you have the same Full Havana filler that distinguishes the larger Robt Burns sizes—tobacco from the finest Cuban crop in years. The shape, itself, enables you to enjoy the mellowness, fragrance and aroma at the peak of its goodness. And more—Panatelas are so free-smoking, cool and mild, you can smoke one after another all day long with steady enjoyment.

Why not use your business sense in the selection of a cigar? We'll be glad to send you a booklet showing how—and why—we can give such unusual value in Robt Burns. It will be sent free if you'll send your name and address to: The General Cigar Co., Inc. 119 W. 40th St., New York.

Silent Night Broken Here; Elmer Angry

Gives Advice to WQJ and Announcer.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Another Monday night shot to pieces. This time by WQJ, Chi-KAW-go.

At 9 o'clock while more or less contentedly listening to Hadley's Philharmonic orchestra, WJZ, New York, a buzzzzzzzz, whang! and Announcer Jerry Sullivan of WQJ, Chi-KAW-go, burst violently and unannounced upon the air.

This "Chicago" announcing contortionist stated boldly and without any explanation that they would be on the air later with a speech by Senator Borah.

For ear protection, the 448 wave marking was carefully avoided until a further sounding of that tell-tale buzz.

Buzzzzzz—9:30 this station on the air, the "Chi-KAW-go" announcer introducing George F. Harding; Mr. Harding introducing the chairman of the evening, ex-Mayor William H. Thompson of Chicago (Jerry Sullivan please note spelling!).

Thompson followed with an address. Followed by the speaker of the evening, Senator Borah.

Radio is without many strictly enforceable laws. Secretary Hoover has, and to be hoped wisely, left this matter to mutual agreement among stations.

The Monday silent night agreement in Chicago is a gentleman's agreement.

Speaking of Senator Borah, we are pleasantly reminded of the really patriotically inspiring broadcasts of the senator's Washington day address yesterday afternoon at the Coliseum by KYW, WEBH, and W-G-N.

BADGER WOMAN WINS FIRST $50 RADIO AWARD

Today's first prize of $50 for correctly naming the three "Old Time Favorites," played last Tuesday from W-G-N, THE TRIBUNE radio station, goes to Mrs. Gertrude Millard, 631 Avon street, Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., who sent in the three correct titles, "Till the Sands of the Desert Grow Cold," "Love Me and the World Is Mine," and "Sweet Adeline," together with the winning sentence, "Of the three I like best 'Sweet Adeline,' because it carries, like the faint fragrance of a pressed rose or a sprig of lavender, the very spirit of the gentle romances of long ago, with which it is so often intertwined in the memories of our grandmothers."

Carolyn Boyd, 304 East Mitchell street, wins $25, second prize; R. J. Swartout, 1615 Park avenue, Racine, Wis., and Teresa Schutz, 4017 West 28th place, Chicago, win the third and fourth prizes of $10, and Frances E. Cameron, 451 Melrose street, Chicago, wins $5, the fifth prize. All five winners may obtain their awards by calling or writing to "Old Time Favorites," CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Every night three old time songs are played at W-G-N. To become eligible for the awards listeners must name them correctly and tell in a single sentence which one they like best and why. Awards totaling $100 are given daily. The first prize is $50, the second $25, the third $10, the fourth $10, and the fifth $5. Listen to W-G-N for "Old Time Favorites" tonight at 6:45 and 10:10 o'clock.

MEXICO SEEKS PAY FOR DAMAGE BY U. S. TROOPS

[Copyright: 1926: By the New York Times.]

Mexico City, Feb. 22.—The Mexican government invites Mexicans to present their claims against the Pershing expedition in the state of Chihuahua. The claims are divided into two groups. The first includes damages caused by troops in fighting on Mexican property and for claims for forage taken. The second covers damages caused to Mexicans by the Americans as a result of wounds or arrests. Attention is called to widows of Mexicans killed by American troops during the expedition.

THOUSANDS OF FILIPINOS SAY FREEDOM PRAYER

MANILA, Feb. 22. — While 3,000 American troops paraded in the streets of Manila, multitudes of Filipinos celebrated Washington's birthday by kneeling in supplication for independence. They thronged the churches, schools and public squares throughout the islands.

It is estimated that 100,000 natives participated in the giant demonstrations, which were sponsored by the Catholic church. The biggest mass meeting was held at Manila. Archbishop Michael J. O'Daugherty of Manila presided over the leading assemblage, with a prayer that "the covetous designs of a few interests would not prevail over the councils of the sovereign nation."

MATERNAL LOVE, OVERDONE, DEALS HARM TO CHILD

Overdevelopment of material love and protection sometimes results in underdevelopment of the self-reliance and character of a child, Mrs. S. T. Lawton, president of the Chicago Association for Child Study and Parent Education, observes in a report prepared for representatives of twenty leading civic and social organizations who will coöperate in the first midwestern conference on parent education, to be held at the Palmer house March 4, 5, and 6.

"The modern mother is all too frequently preoccupied with her child," Mrs. Lawton's report states. "She has been freed of a lot of the drudgery of domesticity and she concentrates upon her child to the incalculable injury of that hapless individual.

"Excess of mother love may result in domination of the child with the result that he is unhappy away from his mother's apron strings."

Clearing film from teeth whitens surprisingly

Quickly restores cloudy teeth to clearness

Please accept full 10-day tube of this new dental achievement, urged by world's authorities. Note the difference in the color of your teeth and health of your gums when film is cleared off in this new way.

THOUSANDS go through life with clouded teeth, needlessly. Dental science proves this true.

Cloudy teeth now are restored to sparkling clearness. A way found that clears the dingy film coats from teeth that old-time dentifrices failed to combat successfully. One's whole appearance is often changed.

Please accept 10-day tube to prove those results to yourself. You can work a transformation in your mouth. Can lighten your teeth remarkably, firm gums to healthy coral tint.

That stubborn film . . . enemy of pretty teeth and firm gums

Dental science now traces scores of tooth and gum troubles to a germ-laden film that forms on teeth. Run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel it—a slippery, viscous coating.

That film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. And that is why your teeth look "off color," dingy and unattractive.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack. Germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea and decay.

Old ways won't clear it off

Ordinary dentifrices and cleansing won't fight film successfully. Feel for it now with your tongue. Note how your present cleansing method is failing in its duty.

Now new methods are being used. A dentifrice called Pepsodent—different in formula, action and effect from any other known.

Largely on dental advice, the world has turned to this method.

Clears film off Firms the Gums

It accomplishes two important things at once: Removes that film, then firms the gums.

A few days' use will prove its power beyond all doubt. Send the coupon. Clip it now before you forget and mail at once.

FILM the worst enemy to teeth

You can feel it with your tongue

How to buy "B" batteries

THERE is a correct size "B" battery for every type of radio set. Follow these simple rules for longer "B" battery service and economy:

On 1 to 3 tubes—Use Eveready No. 772.

On 4 or more tubes—Use the Heavy Duty "B" Batteries, either No. 770, or the even longer-lived Eveready Layerbilt No. 486.

On all but single tube sets—Use a "C" battery.

When these rules are followed, the No. 772 will last for a year or more, and the Heavy Duties for eight months or longer, when listening at the year-round average of two hours a day.

NOTE: An Eveready "C" Battery not only increases the life of the "B" batteries, but adds a quality of reproduction unobtainable without it.

IDLE U. S. MARTS SLOW UP GRAIN TRADING ABROAD

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

With all United States markets closed in observance of Washington's birthday, interest in the grain trade was light, and even Winnipeg and Liverpool, which were open, felt the effect of limited trading and scarcity of news.

Liverpool opened 1@1⅛d higher and closed firmer at 1⅛@1⅜d net advance for the day.

Winnipeg wheat started with light offerings and a firm tone on buying by houses with continental connections more than offsetting selling by eastern interests, and prices moved up 1c. This increased selling pressure, and with early buyers filled up prices receded under light trading by local operators and closed unchanged for the day. Oats closed ⅛c higher. Rye advanced ½c and closed ⅛c higher. Barley, ⅛c higher to unchanged, and flax ⅛@½c higher after a good advance.

There was nothing in the trade at Winnipeg to indicate any export business.

Arizona Edison.

H. T.—Arizona Edison company does, without competition, the entire commercial electric light and power, gas and ice business in Bisbee and Douglas, Ariz., and surrounding communities and the entire commercial electric light and power, gas and water business in Yuma. It serves 11,581 customers. It is issuing $2,000,000 first mortgage twenty-year 6 per cent bonds, series A, secured by a direct first mortgage on the entire physical property, rights, privileges and franchises of the company in the United States. This property is appraised at a depreciated value substantially in excess of this issue of bonds, which constitutes the company's only funded debt. Net earnings of the properties now owned available for interest, before federal taxes and depreciation, for the twelve months ended June 30, 1925, were $276,537, or 2.3 times the annual interest requirements of $120,000 on these bonds. Later figures are not given. The company is controlled by General Power and Light company, which owns its capital stock. These bonds are a suitable investment for a business man's funds.

The National Bank of the Republic, Trustee.

PLEDGED COLLATERAL

There shall be deposited with the Trustee collateral securities consisting of 150% of customers' notes, and/or 105% of U. S. Government Bonds, and/or 100% of cash for each 100% of this issue outstanding; such collateral to be held as specific security for these 6½% Collateral Trust Gold Notes.

For detailed information regarding these notes, we refer to a letter of Mr. J. B. Greenwald, President of the Company, from which the following is summarized:

Business: The General Furniture Company owns one of the largest chains of retail house furnishing stores in Chicago. It has been in successful operation since 1898 and has made a profit each year since its establishment. From an original investment of $5,000 in capital stock, it has a present net worth of over $5,000,000 (exclusive of this issue) without the addition of outside capital. From one original store, the Company has extended its business to eleven stores and a warehouse for storage and distributing, all located in well developed business sections, and in thus diversifying its locations has been able to share the prosperity of each of these industrial centers without being dependent upon any one of them for its continued patronage. With one exception, the Company owns the land and buildings at all of its locations.

Security: These notes are a direct obligation of The General Furniture Company, an Illinois Corporation, and will be issued under a Trust Agreement whereby the Company will assign and transfer to the Trustee:

1. Customers' notes secured by chattel mortgages, conditional sales contracts or other instruments which are issued against merchandise sold in the ordinary course of business at the rate of $150.00 of such customers' notes against the issuance of each $100.00 note of this issue, and/or
2. United States Government obligations—$105.00 of market value against the issuance of each $100.00 note of this issue, and/or
3. Cash—$100.00 against the issuance of each $100.00 note of this issue.

The balance sheet of the Company, after giving effect to this financing, shows current assets of $4,710,554, against current liabilities of $808,385, a ratio of over 5 to 1; the net current assets are therefore $3,902,168, equivalent to over $3,000 for each $1,000 6½% Gold Note. Total net worth excluding this issue is $5,553,721, equivalent to over $4,400 for each $1,000 6½% Gold Note of this issue.

Earnings: The Company's earnings for the 6 year period ending December 31, 1925, after depreciation, and reserve for bad debts, etc., totaled $2,769,193, applicable to interest, Federal Taxes, etc., a yearly average of $461,532, or over 5.6 times maximum annual interest requirements on this entire issue.

Purpose: The proceeds of this issue will be used to reduce current loans of the Company and provide funds for the purpose of extending its operations.

Management: The business of the Company will remain in the hands of the present management which has successfully conducted its affairs for more than twenty-five years.

Mr. Clement Studebaker, Jr., President, summarizes his letter as follows:

Illinois Power and Light Corporation owns and operates or controls electric power and light, gas, heat and city railway properties in a large number of the most populous and prosperous municipalities in Illinois. The Corporation also controls, through ownership of the entire capital stock, Illinois Traction, Inc.—which owns an extensive and profitable system of trunk line electric railroads in Illinois—and other utilities of which the most important are: Des Moines Electric Light Co. and the Kansas Public Service Co.

The business of the Corporation includes service rendered to more than four hundred and forty municipalities. The electric power and light properties serve, without competition, over 232,000 customers in a business field of more than 800,000 population—the gas properties serve, also without competition, over 83,750 customers in a business field of more than 390,000 population.

Earnings

Consolidated Statement for 12 months ended December 31

	1925	1924
Gross Earnings from Operations	$31,648,398.58	$28,683,702.61
Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes	21,039,059.11	19,576,322.17
Net Earnings from Operations	$10,609,339.47	$ 9,107,380.44
Other Income	203,445.31	500,585.65
Net Earnings	$10,812,784.78	$ 9,607,966.09
Interest on Bonds and other Indebtedness and Dividends on Underlying Preferred Stock	5,409,483.59	4,986,865.79
Balance for Bond Discount, Depreciation and Dividends	$ 5,403,301.19	$ 4,621,100.30

The balance of earnings, after payment of prior charges, available for bond discount, depreciation and preferred stock dividends, was, for the twelve months ended December 31, 1925, over 2.78 times the dividend requirements of $27,761,050 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock outstanding.

After providing for maintenance and depreciation of 14% of the total gross earnings, in accordance with the charter provisions, and for bond discount, the balance available for preferred stock dividends was over 2.40 times dividend requirements of the outstanding 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock. In accordance with provisions of Deed of Trust of the Corporation's First and Refunding Mortgage, a greater amount than is required in the Charter is being appropriated for depreciation.

Over 70% of the net earnings are derived from electric light and power, gas and miscellaneous sources other than transportation.

For over twenty-one years the principal companies constituting this system have steadily increased in earning power and have paid dividends on their preferred stocks without interruption.

Valuation: The properties, based on an appraisal as of December 31, 1922, by Messrs. Day & Zimmermann with allowance for subsequent additions and development, less deductions and depreciation, are conservatively estimated to have a value, exclusive of working capital and other assets, of $155,468,014 as of December 31, 1925. Based on the above valuation and including other assets, and after deducting liabilities, there remain assets equivalent to over $190 per share of 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock outstanding.

Charter of the Corporation contains strong provisions for safeguarding the 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock.

Price $100 per share and accrued dividends to yield 7%

Yesterday's receipts of hogs were the smallest for Monday in more than four months at 40,000, including 3,400 direct to packers from relatively lower outside markets. Arrivals a year ago were 76,315. Big shipping orders and free buying on speculative account advanced the early market 15@50c, but after urgent outside orders were filled trade weakened some, with part of the advance lost. Big packers transacted little business up to noon, yet only 8,000 remained in the pens. Practical top was $13.75, yet 140 lb shippers reached $14.00. Day's average was $12.90, against $12.60 Saturday, $12.15 a week ago, and $11.55 a year ago.

Although cattle receipts at 12,000 were only moderate for Monday, they were fully equal to trade requirements, and the upward movement of prices was checked. Weakness appeared on closing rounds, due to an advanced estimate of 12,000 for today, although no decided downturn occurred. In between and lower priced steers coming under competition of stocker and feeder buyers sold to best advantage. Prime 1,530 lb Nebraska steers topped at $11.85, with 1,461 lb averages up to $11.25 and 1,250 lb averages at $11.15. Best yearlings offered averaged 881@971 lbs, and sold at $10.85. Butcher stock held firm at last week's advance. Bulls sold steady to strong. Calves slumped 50c@$1.00.

Lamb Prices Boost.

A substantial decrease in receipts, coupled with an expansion in eastern demand, enabled salesmen to raise lamb quotations mostly 25c, with spots up 50c on medium and weighty offerings, which suffered most in last week's slashing of prices. Receipts at 15,000 were second smallest of the year for Monday and less than half of last Monday's arrivals. Fancy 83 lb averages topped at $13.35 to shippers, with packers paying upward to $13.25 for handy weights and $13.00 for 90@94 lb Colorados. Choice 110 lb averages brought $11.50, and 99 lb lambs up to $12.00. Aged sheep advanced 10@15c and yearlings 25c. Light ewes were $8.60, wethers $9.75, and 100 lb yearlings $10.50. Shearing lambs jumped 50c in value, fancy 59 lb averages bringing $14.25

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 12,000 cattle, 28,000 hogs, and 16,000 sheep, against 11,736 cattle, 31,219 hogs, and 13,085 sheep the corresponding Tuesday a year ago

German Consolidated Municipal Loan of German Savings Banks and Clearing Association
(Deutscher Sparkassen und Giroverband)

7% Sinking Fund Secured Gold Bonds
Due February 1, 1947

Price 94¾ and Interest, Yielding 7½ Per Cent

Principal and Interest Payable in United States Gold Coin.

Reichskredit Gesellschaft Aktiengesellschaft, Berlin, Germany, Trustee. Harris Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, Ill., Co-Trustee.

The following information is taken from official sources:

The German Savings Banks and Clearing Association comprises fifteen district associations, which have as members over 3,000 cities, towns and municipal districts, with a population estimated at 56,000,000, or approximately 90 per cent of the total population of Germany. Among the cities are: Berlin, Bremen, Breslau, Cologne, Dresden, Essen, Frankfort, Hannover, Munich and Nuremberg. The council of foreign loans of the German government has authorized the association to do the present financing for the member municipalities.

The proceeds of these bonds must be used only for gas and electric plants, water works, and other revenue producing properties. Furthermore, it must be established that there is urgent need for the work contemplated and that the income will provide for interest and amortization requirements.

These bonds, in the opinion of counsel, will be direct obligations of the association. The municipalities, which in practically every case own their own gas, water, electrical and other public works, are ultimately liable with their entire property and taxing power for the obligations of the Association. In addition, the bonds will be specifically secured by a pledge with the trustee of an equal principal amount of bonds of about 120 municipalities. The pledged bonds are in all essential respects similar to the bonds of this issue; interest and sinking fund will be payable in dollars to the trustee and used to satisfy interest and sinking fund requirements of this issue. A sinking fund is provided, calculated to retire all bonds by maturity.

We recommend these bonds for investment and shall be pleased to send circulars describing the issue in detail.

Salient features as summarized by Mr. Richard B. Kahle, President of the Corporation:

BUSINESS: Louisiana Oil Refining Corporation was incorporated in Virginia in April 1917 and is engaged in the producing, transporting and marketing of petroleum and its products, principally in Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

PROPERTY: The Corporation has approximately 85,000 acres of land—15,000 acres fee and 70,000 acres lease land. It has production in the Louann, Smackover, Eldorado, Haynesville, Homer, Bellevue, Caddo, Urania and Cotton Valley fields in Arkansas and Louisiana and in the Humble field in Texas. The total daily production is approximately 7,000 barrels settled production. The Corporation has two refineries in Shreveport, Louisiana, with a total daily refining capacity of 17,000 barrels. The Corporation also has over 1,600,000 barrels of steel field storage in addition to 750,000 barrels of earthen storage pits, exclusive of storage for refined products at refineries, service stations, etc.

The Corporation has leases totaling over 6,400 acres in the new Urania field, La Salle Parish, Louisiana, and is now engaged in intensive drilling operations on this property. The Corporation is also actively drilling on its acreage in the new field north of Stephens, Arkansas. Considerable production is expected from these two operations.

The North Louisiana fields are now being intensively tested for deep sand production. Deep sand at Pine Island has been proven and operations are now under way to test this sand at Cotton Valley and Haynesville. In all three of these fields the Corporation owns considerable well-located acreage from which it is expected that deep sand oil will be produced in the near future.

During 1925, the cracking plant at Bossier City (Shreveport) was completed and is now operating very profitably.

INVESTMENT IN BEACON OIL COMPANY: The Corporation has recently acquired a substantial interest in the common stock of the Beacon Oil Company, a refining and marketing concern with a large refinery at Everett, Massachusetts, and retail distribution throughout New England. Both as an outlet for surplus petroleum products and as a profitable investment, this acquisition of an interest in the Beacon Oil Company should prove of considerable value to Louisiana Oil Refining Corporation.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds from the sale of this Preferred Stock will be used to retire the outstanding $2,800,000 5½% Serial Debenture Bonds and for general corporate purposes.

EARNINGS: The net earnings of the Corporation and its subsidiaries for the six years ended December 31, 1925, after eliminating from the 1924 and 1925 figures the interest and discount on the 5½% Serial Debenture Gold Bonds so as to give effect to the retirement of that issue of bonds with part of the proceeds from the sale of the 6½% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock and after deducting depletion and depreciation and allowing for Federal income taxes at the current rate of 12½%, as certified by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., Accountants and Auditors, averaged $1,653,415.99 per annum or SIX AND THREE-EIGHTHS TIMES the annual dividend requirements of the $4,000,000 6½% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock. For the year 1925 such net earnings were equal to approximately FOUR TIMES the annual requirements of the issue.

Having made all adjustments and written off all losses due to operations of prior years, and with the cracking plant completed and in profitable operation, the earnings should henceforth reflect the full effect of the many economies in operation introduced by the present management, and under normal conditions in the oil industry the profits for the year 1926 should be materially greater than those of the previous year.

ASSETS: The consolidated balance sheet, based on the audited accounts as of December 31, 1925, and after giving effect to the sale of the $4,000,000 6½% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock and the retirement of the $2,800,000 5½% Serial Debenture Gold Bonds, shows net tangible assets of $18,801,858.73, equivalent to $470 for each share of 6½% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock.

MARKET EQUITY: The Preferred Stock will be followed by 1,140,063 shares of no par value Common Stock. Based on New York Stock Exchange quotations, the Common Stock has a present market value in excess of $19,000,000.

All legal details in connection with this issue of 6½% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock will be passed upon by Messrs. Masten & Nichols, of New York. The accounts of Louisiana Oil Refining Corporation for the six years ended December 31, 1925, have been audited by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., Accountants and Auditors. We offer the unsold portion of this 6½% Cumulative Convertible Preferred Stock, if, when and as issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Trading in butter, eggs, and poultry was light, with supplies ample. Buyers were not disposed to branch out to any extent owing to the holiday, and values were unchanged.

Arrivals of potatoes were 100 cars, against the same number a week ago and 108 cars a year ago. Local buyers took hold well and paid last week's closing prices.

Grapefruit and oranges sold well in a small way. Strawberries from Florida were taken moderately. Weather reports from Florida were more favorable for ripening fruit, and supplies are expected to increase. Arrivals were 60 pony freezers. Fancy sold at 55c and choice at 40@45c per qt.

ANNUAL MEETING OF EDISON STOCKHOLDERS BY RADIO—KYW

5 P. M. Today

For the fourth time, the regular annual stockholders' meeting of the Commonwealth Edison Company, to be held at 5 o'clock this afternoon in Customers' Hall of the Edison Building, will be broadcast over Radio Station KYW.

As no auditorium in Chicago, or even the city's three largest auditoriums combined, would hold our more than 42,000 stockholders, they are thus given an opportunity to hear the reports on the conduct of their business of the past year.

In addition to the reading of reports and the transaction of other business, Mr. Samuel Insull, President, will address the meeting. All of our 811,000 customers, as well as our 42,000 stockholders, are cordially invited to listen in.

K Y W broadcasts on 536 meters.

(Closed Mortgage)

Dated January 2, 1926 — Due January 1, 1951

Principal and semi-annual interest (January 1 and July 1) payable at the Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Company, New York, N. Y., and the First National Bank in Mobile, Alabama. Coupon bonds in denominations of $1,000 and $500; registerable as to principal only. Redeemable as a whole or in part on any interest date at 105 and accrued interest. Interest payable without deduction for any Federal Income Tax not in excess of 2%, which the Company or the Trustee may be required or permitted to pay thereon or retain therefrom. The Company agrees to refund to resident holders upon proper application certain state taxes as defined in the Mortgage. First National Bank in Mobile, Alabama, Trustee.

Bridge to Be Leased to Mobile and Baldwin Counties, Alabama

Mr. John T. Cochrane, President of the Mobile Bay Bridge Company, summarizes his letter to us as follows:

CAPITALIZATION:

	Authorized	Outstanding
First Mortgage 7% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds (This issue)	$1,420,000	$1,420,000
Second Mortgage 7% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds	1,280,000	1,280,000
Debenture Certificates (Non-interest bearing)	71,000	71,000
Capital Stock (Par Value $100)	2,000	1,000

Note: The proceeds of the First Mortgage 7% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds to be outstanding will represent two-thirds or less of the cost of construction of the bridge as defined in the Mortgage and/or unexpended cash in the hands of the Trustee, and the balance of such cost plus organization expense will be provided through the sale of Second Mortgage 7% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds. Said Second Mortgage Bonds have been underwritten by local banks and responsible investors. The principal of the non-interest bearing debenture certificates shall not be paid until all of the First and Second Mortgage bonds are retired.

GENERAL: The Mobile Bay Bridge Company was incorporated under the laws of Alabama in 1925 for the purpose of constructing and operating a highway bridge across the rivers, delta lands, and shallow waters at the head of Mobile Bay. The bridge will consist of a series of highway bridges and trestles which will be connected by causeways constructed on embankments. It is expected that the construction work will be completed and that the bridge will be opened for traffic about January 1, 1927.

The bridge will be located on the most direct highway route from New Orleans, Louisiana, to Pensacola, Florida, and in addition, will be the main artery for all traffic from the north and west which passes through Mobile to Florida points over the Gulf Shore routes. The Old Spanish Trail and the Florida Mid-West Highway will cross the bridge.

CONSTRUCTION: The construction of the main bridges and approaches and of the trestles over minor channels will be of steel and concrete. Embankments will be constructed over the lands, marshes and shallow waters, and the entire structure will support a paved roadway 20 feet wide throughout. The length of the project upon completion will be slightly in excess of 10 miles.

LEASE: The Company has entered into a favorable contract with Mobile and Baldwin Counties whereby said counties agree to lease the bridge, when constructed, for a period expiring thirty years after October 3, 1925. Under the terms of this contract Mobile County agrees to operate and maintain the bridge in a proper and efficient manner, to pay all costs of operation (including the collection of tolls) and maintenance, and to deposit daily (Sundays and banking holidays excepted) to the credit of the Company, the gross amount of tolls collected. Mobile County has the right to purchase the bridge at any time during the continuance of the lease at a sum which shall be sufficient to pay all bonds and debentures of the Company then outstanding at their respective call prices.

SECURITY: These bonds will be the direct obligation of the Company and, in the opinion of counsel, will be secured by a first lien on the rights of the Company under this contract and on all of the fixed assets of the Company now owned or hereafter acquired. The property will be adequately insured against fire, storm, lightning, collision, tornado, earthquake and other casualties.

EARNINGS: The average annual net income available for interest payments during the probable life of these bonds, based on estimates of Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., Engineers, should equal 4.6 times the maximum annual interest charges on this issue.

SINKING FUND: On the basis of earnings estimated by Messrs. Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., this entire issue will be retired within eleven years, in accordance with the Redemption and Sinking Fund Provisions in the Mortgage.

Legal proceedings in connection with this issue are being passed upon by Messrs. Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett, of New York, for the Bankers, and by Messrs. Armbrecht & Hand, of Mobile, for the Company. We offer these bonds when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel.

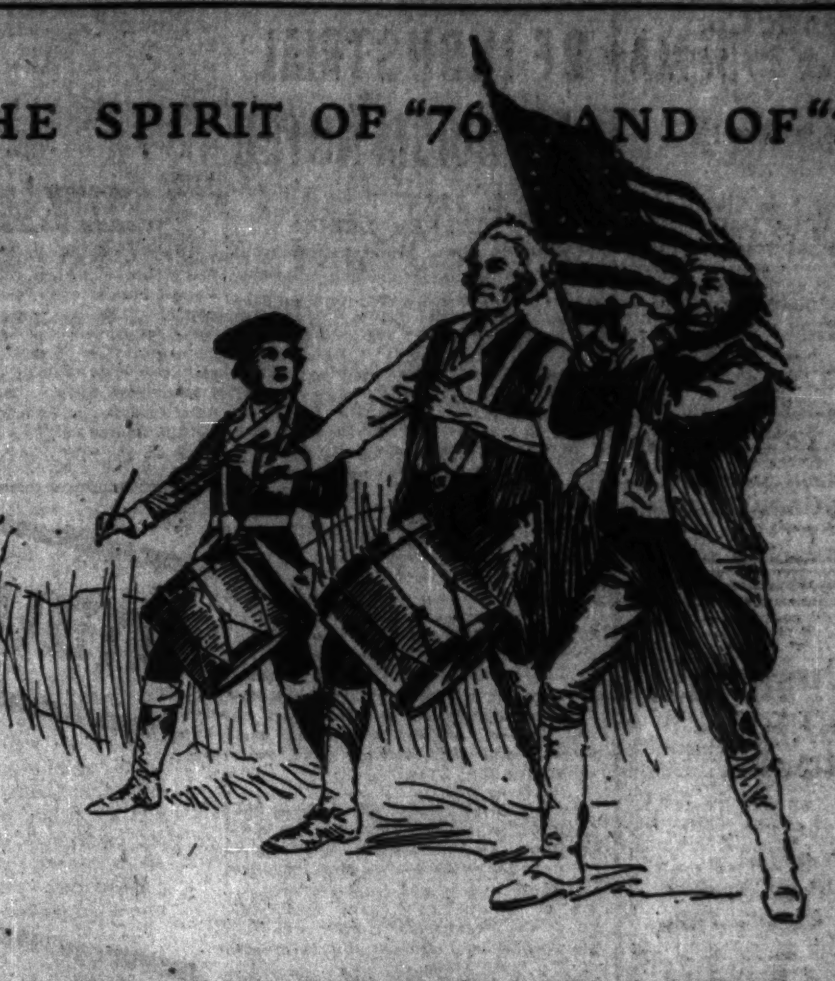
THE SPIRIT OF "76" AND OF "26"



THIS well known painting dramatizes the spirit of our colonial ancestors who fought for and won the independence we now enjoy as a nation.

Never again, it is hoped, will it be necessary to fight a war for national freedom. But, even in times of peace, battles must be fought for individual independence—independence of opposing circumstances, financial independence. The victors are those who manage themselves and their finances most efficiently. The old adage, "save and have" means in effect, "save, manage and have".

When you join the ranks of these peace time minute men of commerce, you find no martial music to encourage you, no cheering spectators. But victory is certain if you will keep your goal ever in view and will push on undaunted in the face of opposition. A sound, definite investment program is a powerful ally in the fight for personal independence.

As a first step toward financial independence, write for our list of offerings and our interesting illustrated booklet, "Electrified America, Your Opportunity as an Investor". No obligation.

DAILY GROWTH OF INDUSTRIAL ALTRUISM NOTED

BY HARPER LEECH.

Although there is no reflection of it in the tax bills, modern industry, as it becomes integrated into greater units and the perpetual corporation succeeds the individual owner and the partnership, assumes many of the duties formerly discharged either by the state or by religious bodies.

If one will close his ears to formulas and look at facts, modern capitalistic society, supposed to be "individualistic" and "acquisitive," appears to be the most socially minded and altruistic social system that ever existed on this globe. The real social problem is not as the professional uplifters have visioned it—a matter of more socialization. On the contrary the danger to western civilization is that it may become over socialized and suffer the fate of all other civilizations which have fallen into the hands of hierarchies, so intent upon social welfare that they have utterly suppressed individual capacity and initiative.

As one looks about and observes the manifold social activities of great corporations, the idea is born that many of them are evolving into self-sufficient bodies of leaders and employés partaking of the nature of the mediaeval guilds, the great monastic orders, the Roman legion or the great military orders of the later crusades.

Their social activities, their $30,000,000 per year disbursements of pensions, their medical services, assistance in home owning and all that sort of thing, are carried on amid a growth of other social activities, which have become so complicated and immense that the average American has real difficulty in carrying in his head his many affiliations and obligations.

From 50,000,000 or more policyholders and their invested money over $2,000,000,000 per year comes to the life insurance companies for primarily social and altruistic purposes. Casualty, fire and health insurance account for hundreds of millions devoted to social stabilization; and building and loan societies socialize the task of building homes. Fraternal orders and labor unions are collecting and disbursing scores of millions, while on every hand new modes of financing and credit become available to the humblest wage earner, by which he may improve his lot and secure the future of his dependents.

At the same time, the various government units are maintaining 500,000 wards in charitable and correctional institutions and paying pensions or other benefits to 900,000 persons. Over $2,000,000,000 of public money is spent for education, and free hospitalization and medical attention increase year by year. Over one-third of the births of one racial group in Chicago are at public expense.

Only in the mode of selecting its leaders and executives does modern capitalism now copy the Darwinian methods of selection to any important extent. Yet to that is due the efficiency and volume of production that makes all the altruism possible. That much conflict, struggle and survival enable modern capitalistic society to be in fact inconceivably more altruistic than any social system now existing or that ever existed, with an avowedly altruistic creed.

1925 Foreign Trade of U. S. Exceeds 93,250,000 Tons

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—(AP)—The water borne foreign commerce of the United States in the fiscal year 1925 exceeded 93,250,000 tons, more than 78 per cent of which passed through nineteen American ports, which handled in excess of 1,000,000 cargo tons of imports and exports each. The bureau of research of the shipping board, announcing the figures today, placed New York's total at 22,200,000 tons, an increase of 5 per cent over the previous year.

SEIBERLING SEES PROSPERITY FOR RUBBER INDUSTRY

Continued prosperity for the rubber industry is predicted by F. A. Seiberling, president of the Seiberling Rubber company, in the annual report.

"Net sales during 1925 were $10,549,582, an increase of 40.27 per cent over 1924," President Seiberling says. "Net profit amounted to $1,244,988, equivalent after preferred dividends to $6.00 a share on the outstanding common stock of $10 par value. All dividends accumulated on the preferred stock were paid, leaving $1,012,135 added to surplus.

"Within the year we have made additions to plant equipment, increasing capacity 50 per cent, necessary to provide for our steadily expanding business. Prospects for the coming year justify the belief that we will have a substantial increase both in volume of business and net profits."

Facts about the Savoy-Plaza and its Bonds

Type of Hotel
The Savoy-Plaza is intended to be New York's finest hotel of the semi-residential type now represented by the Plaza.

Design and Construction
The structure was designed by McKim, Mead and White and will be built by the Geo. A. Fuller Co. It will be twenty-nine stories in height, of fireproof construction, with outside elevations of light colored stone and faced brick.

The heavy traffic at this point on Fifth Avenue creates an exceptional location for the shops on the first and second floors. There will be about 878 guest rooms arranged in suites, storage vaults, private and public dining rooms, foyers, lounging rooms, etc.

Experienced Management
The Plaza Operating Company, which for years has made conspicuous successes of the Plaza of New York and the Copley-Plaza of Boston, will manage the Savoy-Plaza.

Sound Security
To be secured by a first closed mortgage on the land owned in fee, the leasehold estate and the building to be constructed thereon. The fee covers about two-thirds of the ground area. The value of the mortgaged properties, upon completion of the building, has been appraised at $15,060,000 by Albert B. Ashforth, Inc., and by Pease & Elliman. A sinking fund sufficient to retire half the issue at maturity has been provided.

Responsible Ownership
Controlling interest is held by the U. S. Realty and Improvement Co. and the Childs Co. The former's holdings in New York City, either directly owned or controlled through subsidiaries, include the Whitehall, Trinity and U. S. Realty and Improvement Buildings and the Plaza Hotel. The Childs Co. also has extensive real estate holdings, and owns the well-known chain of restaurants. The combined capital stock of the two companies, at prices quoted on the New York Stock Exchange, is worth in excess of $70,000,000.

Guarantee of Completion
Completion of the Savoy-Plaza, in accordance with the plans and specifications, is guaranteed by the United States Realty and Improvement Co., whose published net worth is about $33,000,000.

Earnings
The net earnings of the completed Savoy-Plaza are estimated by Mr. Sterry of the Plaza and Mr. Wilson of the Park Lane, at about 2½ times the annual interest charges on the bonds.

Unsurpassed Location

THE SAVOY-PLAZA will be situated on Fifth Avenue, one of the world's most famous boulevards, where property has constantly appreciated; diagonally opposite the entrance to Central Park, which because of its permanency assures stable values to adjoining property; facing the Hotel Plaza, one of New York's most successful realty enterprises.

Conservative investors consider this one of the appealing factors of

The trend toward stock ownership

The purchase of stocks for investment is constantly broadening in all lines of basic industry. For example, ten well established, diversified manufacturing and distributive companies, financed by a prominent industrial banking house had, on January 1, 1918, 25,002 stockholders. Seven years later, the total had grown to 44,339 stockholders—a gain of over 77%.

The best assurance of a safe and profitable stock investment is—(1) a basic industry, (2) capable and responsible management, (3) a record of growing earnings.

Our experience covers a period of nearly a quarter of a century. We shall be pleased to send you a list of current investment stocks.

Adverse Legislation

AMONG all the causes of corporation losses, none deserves more consideration than the possibility of adverse legislation of Federal, State or local authorities. Certainly none is more difficult to anticipate. Law, created by man for the protection of his life and property, seems strangely destructive of the latter at times.

This and many other considerations enter into all the calculations of Moody's in undertaking the task of analyzing security values for our clients.

"L" TELLS OF ITS GAIN IN EARNINGS, EXPANSION PLAN

BY O. A. MATHER.

Chicago's pressing need for a subway system to relieve traffic congestion in the downtown district and for extensions of the elevated lines is set forth in the annual report of the Chicago Rapid Transit company, made public last night.

"While the number of passengers carried on the elevated lines in 1925 showed an increase, the ill effects of the handicap of inadequate loop terminal facilities not only as respects ability to meet fully the rapid transportation needs but also on business and the city's general development, became increasingly apparent," President Britton I. Budd says. "The company put into effect the only remedy available to it in extending loop platforms to accommodate eight car trains. This has proved of considerable benefit in the rush hour periods, but far from meets the situation.

Extensions Are Planned.

"On Sept. 24, 1924, the company publicly announced its policy of extending and enlarging its service by formally requesting the city council for consent to construct about 40 miles of specified elevated extensions estimated to cost about $31,500,000. If such consent is obtained it is the company's intention to commence the work of constructing the extensions without delay and to complete them as soon as practicable.

"In addition, the company, in order to obtain much needed additional capacity for handling passengers in the central business district, has proposed to the city council that if the city would build and grant the company the use of a rapid transit subway the company stood ready to enter into an agreement to pay a fair compensation either by way of fixed rental or a division of earnings.

Would Double Capacity.

"The use of such a subway would enable the company during the rush periods to carry about twice the number of passengers it is now capable of carrying in such periods in and through the loop. The company is in no manner involved in the franchise problems of the street railway companies."

The elevated lines last year carried 216,045,875 revenue passengers, an increase of 3,144,851 over 1924. Car miles totaled 54,525,422 and 5,306 trains, or a total of 18,320 cars, were operated each 24 hours. The average ride by passengers was 5¾ miles. Efficiency in operation was shown by the fact that gross revenues were $19,381,355, an increase of $505,354, while total expenses were $14,967,509, a decrease of $199,600. Net income was $1,042,401, an increase of $242,025.

Dividends on Prior Preferred.

The company paid dividends on its $5,000,000 prior preferred stock, but nothing was paid on the $18,560,000 adjustment debentures or the $20,329,500 common stock. After payment of prior preferred dividends, the balance of $734,871 was carried to surplus, which now is $1,731,713. The company spent $3,322,062 for new cars and platform extension. It sold $2,212,000 of bonds and retired $1,117,000 of bonds and equipment obligations.

The balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1925, shows investments at $94,954,712, increase $3,327,221; current assets at $3,383,562, decrease $235,429; unadjusted debits at $1,456,254, increase $234,086; total assets at $99,944,530, increase $3,325,881; prior preferred stock at $5,000,000, increase $1,637,914; funded debt at $46,611,400, increase $1,063,400; current liabilities at $3,593,860, decrease $24,357; deferred liabilities at $521,136, decrease $61,000; unadjusted credits at $3,592,920, decrease $82,415.

RAILROAD NOTES

There were 150,160 freight cars in need of repair on Feb. 1, or 6.8 per cent of the total number on lines, according to reports received by the American Railway association. This is an increase of 2,397 cars over the number reported on Jan. 15, but a decrease of 28,370 cars compared with the corresponding date last year.

The Pennsylvania railroad plans the expenditure of $3,500,000 to double track forty-five miles of its St. Louis division west of Terre Haute, Ind. The double tracking project includes 10.3 miles between Altamont and Brownstown, 12.7 miles from Pierron to St. Jacob's, and 22 miles from Casey to Montrose, all in Illinois.

Cars handled by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad during the week ended Feb. 19, totaled 82,215, compared with 82,030 handled during the corresponding week last year.

The beginning of an extraordinary development—on the beautiful MISSISSIPPI GULF COAST

TO MEET the increasing demand for full information about Miramar, we have prepared an attractive folder descriptive in words and photographs of this choice section of Biloxi.

Your request for the folder will bring you only the folder and not a call from a salesman. You will not be followed nor will you be asked to buy property in Miramar unless you request us definitely to send a representative.

The Miramar folder explains why land values in Biloxi are rising rapidly. It tells about the great new development on the Mississippi Gulf Coast which has resulted from the improved and faster train service recently inaugurated.

Prices on Miramar home sites have been kept low. The property is selling rapidly because it represents a striking opportunity, either for investment or for a home site.

On Miramar there is a profusion of Live Oaks, Crepe Myrtle, Rose Bushes, Pecan, Camphor and Fig Trees. All improvements—paid for by us—are being made on a permanent and generous basis. They include wide concrete sidewalks and pavements, gas mains, water mains, electric lights, storm sewers, fire hydrants, and so forth.

The men back of Miramar are well known in American business and public life. The folder which will be sent you in answer to the coupon gives full details covering both the property and the Company responsible for its development.

Now Only 23 Hours from Chicago

Recent extension of Illinois Central direct fast service has brought the Mississippi Gulf Coast and Biloxi within 23 hours of Chicago, paving the way for important developments and a rapid advance in land values which is now taking place.

$2,750,000
The Arnold Print Works
First Mortgage 6% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

To be dated February 1, 1926. To mature February 1, 1941. Authorized and to be outstanding, $2,750,000. Redeemable as a whole or in part at the option of the Company on 60 days' notice on any interest date at 105 and accrued interest on or before February 1, 1936, and at ½ of 1% less for each year or part thereof elapsed since February 2, 1936. Principal and semi-annual interest (February 1 and August 1) payable in United States gold coin of the present standard of weight and fineness. Principal payable at the Mechanics and Metals National Bank, Trustee, and interest payable at the offices of Ames, Emerich & Co., New York and Chicago. Coupon bonds, $1,000, $500 and $100, interchangeable and registerable as to principal.

Interest Payable Without Deduction for Normal Income Tax Not In Excess of 2% Per Annum.

The Company will also agree to refund to holders of the bonds, resident in such states, respectively, upon application, as provided in the mortgage, the Pennsylvania 4 Mill Tax, the Connecticut Personal Property Tax not exceeding 4 Mills per dollar per annum, the Rhode Island 4 Mill Tax and the Massachusetts Income Tax on the interest not exceeding 6% of such interest per annum.

For further information we refer to a letter of Samuel M. Jones, Vice-President, which states that:

History and Business The Arnold Print Works, incorporated under the laws of Massachusetts, is the outgrowth of a business founded 65 years ago, and is now one of the leading companies in the United States engaged in the bleaching, dyeing, printing and finishing of textiles. Its customers are the large cotton converters who buy and own the unbleached fabrics known as grey goods, thus eliminating on its part the necessity and risk of an investment in inventories. Its attention is therefore devoted to the operation of a highly skilled service business, for which there has been a continuous demand in periods of depression as well as in times of prosperity. The Company owns a modern fully-equipped plant at North Adams, Massachusetts.

Security These First Mortgage 6% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds will be secured, in opinion of counsel, by a first mortgage on the real property, buildings, machinery, equipment and fixed assets comprising the entire plant of the Company now owned or hereafter acquired, except that the Company reserves the right to purchase hereafter acquired property subject to, or to issue in connection with the acquisition thereof, mortgages or loans not exceeding 60% of the cost or fair value of such property after acquired, whichever may be less.

Financial Statement The audited balance sheet as of December 31, 1925, adjusted to give effect to this financing, to appraisals and to the sale for cash of securities owned and payment of certain accounts left in trust, shows net tangible assets applicable to these bonds, after all other liabilities and reserves, of $6,563,861. Fixed assets subject to mortgage, including land, machinery and equipment, according to independent appraisals, plus the value of copper rollers, total $5,544,259, or $2,016 per $1,000 bond. Current assets total $1,141,039, or more than 5 times total current liabilities, including reserves for taxes, of $206,072.

Earnings Earnings have been consistent and substantial. The continuous need for draperies, dress and other wash goods, shirtings and similar textiles assures the Company of a steady business, while the fact that it owns no inventories eliminates losses due to market fluctuations.

Net earnings, after depreciation and all other deductions except Federal taxes, and after excluding certain non-recurrent charges, but without giving effect to income from outside investments, according to the audit of S. D. Leidesdorf & Co., Certified Public Accountants, have been as follows:

1922.......$479,065.93 1924.......$775,088.46
1923....... 939,223.34 1925....... 509,485.29

Net earnings as thus computed for the four years 1922 to 1925, inclusive, averaged $675,715.76, or over 4 times maximum annual interest charges of $165,000 on this issue. For the ten-year period, 1916 to 1925, inclusive, average annual net earnings, on the basis indicated above, were $555,657.80, or over 3.3 times the interest on these bonds. In every year out of the past ten, except one, net earnings before depreciation and Federal taxes have been substantially in excess of interest requirements on these bonds.

The 1925 decline in earnings was due to a temporary condition, resulting from a reduction in the size and increase in volume of individual orders, while at the same time, the Company made substantial expenditures for handling a new line of textiles. As a result, earnings to date in 1926 have been exceptionally good.

Purpose of Issue Proceeds of this financing will be used to retire the stock of several inactive owners, which will leave the control of the Company in the hands of the active management.

Sinking Fund The mortgage provides for an annual sinking fund to retire $2,065,000, or about 75% of this issue before maturity.

Price 99 and Interest, to Yield about 6.10 Per Cent.

We recommend these Bonds for investment and offer them, when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel. Delivery may be made in the first instance in the form of interim receipts, countersigned by the Mechanics and Metals National Bank, New York City.

HIGH POINT is located in Guilford County about 17 miles southeast of Winston-Salem in the heart of the Piedmont Section. It is primarily an industrial city, having over a hundred manufacturing plants forty or more of which are engaged in the production of furniture and furniture accessories. The Southern Furniture Exposition is held here twice a year and this trade has become so important a factor in the development of the city that it has been called the "Grand Rapids of the South." Other industrial activities include the manufacture of textiles, brick and foundry products. The city is surrounded by a rich agricultural country and serves as a shipping and trading center for a large and prosperous area. Transportation needs are adequately served by the Southern Railway and many miles of excellent highway.

THESE BONDS, ISSUED FOR WATER, SEWER AND STREET IMPROVEMENT PURPOSES, CONSTITUTE DIRECT GENERAL OBLIGATIONS OF THE ENTIRE CITY AND ARE PAYABLE, BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST, FROM UNLIMITED AD VALOREM TAXES LEVIED AGAINST ALL THE TAXABLE PROPERTY THEREIN.

Legality approved by MESSRS. REED, DOUGHERTY & HOYT, New York City.

A truck like men have never seen before

BIG BRUTE—General Motors' Contribution to American Industry; A Colossus Among The Giants of Modern Transportation

1,000 of the world's foremost automotive engineers are represented in General Motors newest transportation achievement . . . Big Brute, a truck such as the industrial world has never before known.

Over $500,000,000 in assets backs it.

What the gigantic General Motors Corporation has learned in the manufacture of more than 4,849,485 passenger and commercial cars, representing Billions of Dollars in sales to a satisfied public, is embodied in mechanical, structural and operating features far beyond the achievements of today in motor truck transportation. More than 71% of all General Motors vehicles ever produced, are still in constant and active use.

Big Brute lives up to its name. There is no truck fairly comparable to it in the world today. It is a mechanical brute. A brute to stand, with a smile, the most brutal requirements of men and industry.

Instantly you see it, you recognize it for what it is . . . a colossus among Giants; a mechanism to achieve economies, power and endurance in heavy duty transportation surpassing all previous conceptions of men.

It is literally, probably and unquestionably a motor truck without "bugs."

The motor trucks of the entire world were studied in developing this amazing industrial vehicle. Their weaknesses, through the last ten years—the experimental years in truck transportation—were weighed and analyzed. Countless millions of miles of service records were taken into count.

Then one by one, those weaknesses were corrected. Engineering mistakes were overcome. Found strengths were fortified. Economies were developed. Then, Big Brute conceived, perfected and put to the most brutal tests to which a man made achievement could be subjected . . . tests to level an ordinary mechanism.

From every detail, from tremendous material strength to the world's supreme engineering; from the Fisher Built cab that provides driver's comfort unknown before, to operating ease comparable only to the most tractable pleasure vehicle, to double transmission multiplying tractive power . . . Big Brute stands to change the industrial motor transportation of the world.

It must be considered first in considering fleets of trucks where the impossible must be achieved, day by day, without pause or interruption; where economical operation is paramount, where re-sale value is positive and certain . . . and where the finest modern motor engineering and manufacture alone will satisfy.

Big Brute is an institution . . . the contribution of a great industry to all industry.

SYNOPSIS.

Hilary Fraser a bachelor of thirty-eight, is surprised and considerably annoyed to learn that his late friend Gibbs, an artist, has bequeathed to him the care of his young daughter, Celia. Hilary's sister, Laura Eversham, agrees to take Celia to France and place her in a convent.

The first installment of this unusual story was published yesterday. Begin to read it today.

INSTALLMENT II.
AN ASTOUNDING CHANGE.

When Hilary spoke of her father Celia remained silent, but a curious, misty look came over her greenish eyes. "Perhaps this would mean tears in a more human sort of creature," Hilary thought. "Perhaps she loved her father after all. . . . and is suffering to recall how little he cared for her."

Before he realized it he had asked the question:

"You loved your father?"

"No," she answered, those green eyes, which had rested on his face for a second, sliding away as usual. And she did not temper this reply with any reason or excuse.

Hilary said good-by to her soon after, thinking that her chill, unresponsive hand went exactly with her evasive, slanting eyes.

He didn't see her again until she had been three years in the convent. No coaxing from Laura could induce him to come to Brittany during the summer holidays. He knew as little about young girls as some experienced horsemen knew about colts and felt less interest in them. The thought of being even for a week in the house with a long legged specimen to whom his relation was in some sort that of a parent was not alluring. In this time, however, Laura had become quite fond of Celia; Gracie also seemed to like her and called her "Clitch," a delicate abbreviation of "Clumdalclitch," the name of the young giantess in Gulliver's voyages.

It was on a summer day in Paris that Laura at last pronounced an ultimatum to her brother regarding his ward. She and Gracie were on their way to England for a yachting cruise with some friends, and Celia returned to spend the rest of the holidays at the convent.

"Hilary," said Laura in her firmest tone, "you must go to see your ward. You can't in decency put it off an longer. If Celia wasn't the sort of girl she is she'd have been deeply hurt by your avoidance of her long ago."

"What sort of girl is she then?" asked Hilary. "I've never been able to make out from your and Maudie's allusions to her. They've always seemed vague to me somehow."

"Go and see her for yourself," returned his sister. "She isn't an easy person to describe. Suppose we motor there tomorrow?"

Now, if there was one unalterable resolve in Hilary's mind it was that his first meeting with his ward should not be in the presence of Laura or Maudie. He decided to be outspoken.

He stared at her, now quite startled.

"That's most awfully kind of you, Lolly," he now said, "but if I've got to go through with it I'd rather go through with it alone. It's absolutely necessary, you think?"

"Ab-so-lute-ly," replied Laura.

He sighed, blinked out his monocle, wiped it carefully and readjusted it.

"Very well, I'll go tomorrow," he agreed, in the tone of one who decides to go to the dentist.

Hilary would have been amused and surprised by the impression he had left on Celia. The regard of those greenish eyes had seemed to glide away from him so persistently that had he thought of it at all, he would have been sure that she had no clear idea of what he looked like. In a way this was true, and yet she had in her mind a distinct impression of his general appearance, though details were lacking.

In the room she had shared with her nurse after her mother's death Donovan had hung a framed silhouette. This silhouette was not of a person, but of a dignified, impressive stork standing among some rushes; and it was the black, delicately sharp outline of the stork that Celia always saw when she recalled her one interview with Hilary.

The glass of her father's studio window had been behind him, and as he stood there speaking to her—for he had not once sat down—she had kept thinking: "He is just like the black stork. . . . He is exactly like the black stork."

This silhouette of the stork had always fascinated her, and now the recollection of Hilary's tall, slight figure, with its cap of thick black hair, as seen against the studio window had the same fascination for her whenever he was mentioned or the thought of him crossed her mind.

In her thought also he was ancient, like the gods in her mythology, but not old as men are old.

He had explained to her that day that he was her guardian, legally appointed by her father, and Mrs. Eversham had later on told her she must do as he wished, but, like the gods, he seemed to employ human agents—Mrs. Eversham chiefly—to work his will; and it had not occurred to her that she would see him again, except at long intervals, when he might wish to observe for himself how she was carrying out his orders.

Celia liked the holidays she spent inland with the tranquil nuns, although she missed the sea. She was of a still habit, even apathetic as a rule, but there were times when she would have liked to swim in and under the water always. As she came ashore in these moods she disliked the feeling of the earth under her feet, felt a repulsion for it almost as if when thirsty one should have offered her a goblet of dust.

Then again she could not walk enough even to feel tired, and she loved roaming the woods and fields that surrounded the convent, though she would have enjoyed these wanderings better had she been allowed to go alone. "Some day," she used to think, "some day . . . if I am ever free . . . I'll wander over the whole world by myself . . . and swim in strange seas and rivers."

When Hilary reached the convent the morning after his talk with Laura the nuns were preserving peaches in the south courtyard. A lovely fragrance, mingled with the warm, clean smell of the little charcoal oven on which the peaches were stewing, penetrated even into the bleak parlor where the mother superior received him, and Hilary, smiling to himself, thought that the odor of sanctity could not have bettered this earthly perfume.

The mother superior, not knowing the source of this smile, found it so frank and benevolent that she reproved herself inwardly for the startled doubt she had at first experienced at the idea of this still young and, to her mind, very "elegant man of the world" as guardian of one of her charges.

She sent Sœur Agathe with him to look for Celia, who, she said, was walking the wood with Sœur Marie Josephe.

As they approached its edge Celia came suddenly from it, her long, light legs taking her far ahead of Sœur Marie Josephe, whose habit and white [illegible] dress could be seen more soberly advancing among the poplar stems.

Hilary was surprised to find that the girl was a good three inches taller than when he had last seen her, and that her lank awkwardness had given place to a peculiar grace of gait. She set her narrow feet down straight and [illegible], as a red Indian does, and moved with as effortless a rhythm.

But his surprise increased to amazement as she came nearer and he saw what he considered the astounding change that her whole person had undergone. He had never been observant of young girls, and so was unaware that some such change takes place in most of them between the ages of fourteen and seventeen. It is true that Maudie had told him Celia wasn't "such an awful fright," as she had been, and that Laura had said her "good blood" was beginning to show, but these remarks hadn't made the least impression on him. He stared at her now quite startled.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

There comes one time in the affairs of "Sea Horses" when every mother in the optience says—to herself at least:

"O, no mother would EVER take her little girl into such surroundings as those!"—and be perfectly right—for no good mother WOULD, and Mrs. Salvia is an exceedingly good mother. However, the situation has a perfectly good "out." A man—Francis Brett Young—wrote the book from which the film was adapted. A woman would probably have worked the plot out a little differently.

With this small exception, "Sea Horses" is exceedingly easy to take. It is good melodrama presented by a most capable cast, boasting a beautiful and appealing heroine and a manly and likable hero. It is well staged and directed and there is quite a darb of a typhoon to whip things into shape for the grand finale, which is, by the way, a most satisfactory one.

The story is of an Englishwoman who with her tiny daughter takes passage on a freighter bound for the Island of Panda, where for a long time her Italian husband has buried himself. She has no idea what she will find him doing nor how he will receive her. But she must go to him, for his father and mother, who have always hated her, have turned her out and have tried to take their grandchild from her, preferring charges that she is not a fit person to care for Gilda.

The captain and crew of the freighter are much against her sailing with them, but before many hours have passed Mrs. Salvia and little Gilda have won their hearts and they are with her to a man during the heartbreaking events that follow her meeting with the horrible derelict that Salvia has become.

It is when she takes Gilda into the noisome filth of his jungle home where he lives with native women that the mothers of the optience get excited. No matter what the urge, mother love would refuse to subject a girl child to such danger.

There was something else I wanted to say—what was it—?—O yes——

Notice the work of George Bancroft—a roughneck officer of the freighter's crew. He's an awfully good actor anywhere you put him and as Cochran—he's immense.

This May Wise Up Some Wives: Anyhow It's Good

And from the drab cocoon of a despised stenographer burst the gorgeous butterfly who became "His Secretary."

There, in a nutshell, is the story of the picture the Chicago is so proudly featuring this week with lovely Norma Shearer in the title role.

"Lovely," did I say? Well, so far from that at the beginning of the film that it's almost impossible to believe you see before you the girl Antoinette Donnelly declared "the most beautiful" in Hollywood. A living object lesson surely for the dowdy woman. An object lesson and an inspiration.

What puts Ruth Lawrence wise to herself and what happens after she sees herself as others see her is for the picture to tell you. Clothes and a few visits to the beauty parlor may not make the woman, but there's not a doubt that they cause her to become visible to eyes that, looking in her direction before, have gazed and seen her not.

"His Secretary" is guaranteed to interest all women, wives not excepted. Far from excepted! For what femme, business or home, has not been agog at some time or other over the ways of the siren employed in the office of the business man who is not too tired?

As for the men—well, I know three who think "His Secretary" is one great picture.

It is entertaining, well acted and directed and sports some stunning clothes. And I do like Norma Shearer, don't you?

See you soon!

CLOSEUPS.

Maurice Costello, famous film idol of other days, will be seen as a district attorney in a couple of scenes of "Wild Oats Lane." This announcement should interest a lot of you.

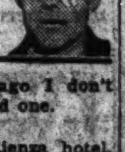
The Questions.

Should the Chicago park boards accept world war mementos?

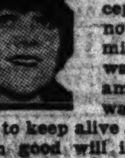
Where Asked.

Union Trust building.

The Answers.



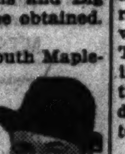
J. E. Goring, 2105 South 6th avenue, Maywood, salesman.—Yes, they should. They are war memorials in themselves, and very impressive ones at that. In the smaller towns of the country, I notice they have a couple of cannon properly placarded. In Chicago I don't know where you could find one.



Miss Claudia Krause, Rienzi hotel, advertising.—I believe it is best, for the present, that we do not accept them. We should not do anything that might interfere in any way with harmony among nations. World war mementos would tend to keep alive a spirit of animosity, when good will is the thing desired.

C. H. Allen, Allen apartments, engineer.—I think the mementos recently offered the city should be accepted. They are well earned relics of the war, and are emblematic of the sacrifice made by the boys. It would be something tangible that we could see as evidence of our success in that struggle.

Mrs. Patsy McKenney, 429 South Kedzie avenue, housewife.—I do not know why they should not be accepted. It would seem we owe it to the boys to have a few of them in Chicago. I would say, get us some of the largest and most historically interesting guns and Big Berthas that can possibly be obtained.



R. M. Manypenny, 5817 South Maplewood avenue, clerk.—I can't see why they shouldn't be accepted. We ought to be proud to have something to show for what our soldiers did for us. We have been forgetting, and will continue to do so unless something is done to keep them fresh in mind.

Winnie the Breadwinner Is Going Into the Movies

Another recruit to the movies!

Our own Winnie Winkle of The Tribune comic strip.

Martin M. Branner, who pens the famous cartoon series, announced yesterday that Winnie, while she'll stay right with us in the daily strip, will turn into human form and make movies.

In other words, Branner signed a contract with the George and Billy West Moving Picture corporation. This company will make a series of two reel comedies—real pictures, not animated cartoons—to be based on Winnie Winkle's antics and those of her many friends, including Mike Mulligan, the Tyler Twins, Old Man Ganzy, Kenneth Dare, and her own family, Ma and Pa Winkle, Perry Winkle, and Perry's friends, the Rinkydinks.

It is understood from Branner that Winnie, the Breadwinner, will display as gorgeous a wardrobe in the movies as she does in the comic strip.

THEATER

"THE VORTEX":

Play, in three acts, by Noël Coward; made known in Chicago (by Joseph P. Bickerton and Basil Dean) February 22, 1926, in the Selwyn Theater, with this cast:

Mr. Lancaster	David Glassford
Florence, his wife	Lilian Braithwaite
Nicky, their son	Noël Coward
Bunty, his fiancée	Rose Hobart
Tom Veryan, her lover	Alan Hollis
Helen Saville	Auriol Lee
Clara Hibbert	Jeannette Sherwin
Pauncefort Quentin	Leo G. Carroll
Bruce Fairlight	Thomas Braidon
Preston, butler	George Harcourt

Young Mr. Coward, sophisticated in the traffic of the stage, has pieced together an effective, shiny, and showy play in the form of what was once classified as drawing-room drama, and fitted it to his especial personality and to his easy talent for the piano. In the climax of Act II, after more than an hour of sedulous calculation and "planting," he incorporates this talent as a specialty. That is, if the actor of Mr. Coward's rôle were not a pianist, the climax of the play would have to be rewritten to accommodate that actor's particular gift—if any.

The episode is said to have astounded London and to have drawn the first-night New-York audience to its feet in high excitement; while George Jean Nathan avers that the approbative noise was such that actors in another theater, a mile distant, took ten curtain-calls. The scene has, at base, a tried and trustworthy theatrical boldness and bid; but Mr. Coward's version of it requires for complete clicking a nightly adjustment between him and his associates that isn't invariably attained. Thus, something missed last night—a tone, a gesture, a pause, or what not?—and the scene was a dud.

Young Lancaster, home from a long period devoted to music in Paris, brings with him Bunty, a brainy little pragmatist who admires him for his talent, and tells his parents he is to marry her. His mother, a vain and silly matron trying hard to hold the vestiges of her beauty, has a gigolo; and he and Bunty, who had been lovers, decide that each is the other's kind, and that their immediate business is to get out of their respective entanglements.

Bunty easily disposes of Nicky, already sick with jealousy and half-crazed with drugs. His mother surprises Tom with Bunty in his arms, and enters on a bitter tirade. Unable to quiet her, Nicky goes to the piano and plays jazz in a crescendo that rises with his mother's rage and fury, which disclose to the tortured son that Tom has been her lover. The music is in wild fortissimo as the bereaved turns from anger to piteous surrender and beseeches the departing lover to return.

What follows is Mr. Coward's variant of the closet-scene in "Hamlet." Nicky goes to his mother's room and tells her what he thinks of her, derides her besetting notion that she possesses charm and beauty, forces an admission that she has had other lovers, tells her he is a drug-user, blames her directly for all his vicissitudes and failings, and then damns the Vortex for the woes of both—the Vortex being the aimless, empty, insincere life of London society. And the end has them in a frightened embrace while they utter frenzied, earnest vows of helping each the other to decency and righteousness.

"The Vortex" is just a wise actor's frame-up, rather skillfully knocked together and joined; but it emerges as better drama in general kind than any of Oscar Wilde's three pieces, while it is immeasurably inferior to W. Somerset Maugham's "Our Betters"—a play which Chicago, in common with other American communities, passed up. Mr. Coward knew what he was doing, and made a pretty-good job of it; but "The Vortex" is, even when the second-act ending functions, nothing to warrant the agitation reported from London and New-York.

The play is acted by the author and his associates about as well as may be. He has taken his measure, and is just the fellow for the neurotic musician. Miss Braithwaite is competent and conventional as the decaying matron; Mr. Hollis is bully as the gigolo; and Miss Lee does well as a feminine equivalent of the raisonneur regarded by the French playwrights as essential in this type of play. If Mr. Carroll's performing as a falsetto flaneur be impersonation, it is overdone.

Mabel Normand Signs for Screen Comeback

Hollywood, Cal., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Mabel Normand will don the make-up of a moving picture star, after an absence of three years, in a comedy under the banner of Hal Roach, it was announced today. Miss Normand signed a contract in New York to resume her screen career in Hollywood on March 5, the Roach announcement stated.

Johns Hopkins to Return to Its First Aims

Will Devote Energies to Research Work.

Baltimore, Md., Feb. 22.—(AP)—Johns Hopkins university today celebrated its half century anniversary with an announcement of an impending "return to its first principles of graduate instruction and research." The alma mater of Rowland the physicist; Remsen the chemist; Osler the physician; Sylvester the mathematician; Morris the classicist; Martin the biologist, and Gildersleeve the Grecian, will abolish the purely undergraduate first two years of its present curriculum and devote itself to research and preparation for research.

When this vision of President Frank J. Goodnow and the board of trustees has been realized, Johns Hopkins will grant doctor of philosophy and master degrees only outside of its medical and engineering schools.

No date has been set for the change. It is estimated that an additional endowment of at least $6,000,000 will be required to put the plan into full effect, making available higher salaries "to enable the university to add to the faculty men of outstanding ability."

Fifty years ago, when the university's first president, Daniel Coit Gilman, was inaugurated, the trustees determined to devote the resources of Johns Hopkins to graduate education and research—at that time regarded as a new and important venture in American education.

"The results have exceeded the most optimistic hopes of fifty years ago," a statement issued today says, "a recent compilation of the leading men of science in the United States showing that 245 of them were trained at Johns Hopkins."

Research having enlarged the boundaries of knowledge, including in collegiate as well as graduate teaching much that was unknown fifty years ago," the statement continues, "curricula have been expanded and Johns Hopkins among other universities has extended its activities to include fields not associated with research and preparation for it, with the following results:

"Graduate schools which should emphasize freedom of teaching, personal contact between teacher and student, and stimulation of independent thought have been invaded by methods more appropriate to collegiate instruction.

"The student preparing for research work is required to spend too many years in general study before he begins to concentrate upon productive work.

"The increased number of students has required a more elaborate system of administrative organization, with the result that the professors and instructors find too little time available for their proper function—research and stimulation of research."

The Johns Hopkins plan contemplates that:

"Only such students will be attracted and selected as may possess the necessary mental endowment and equipment for research.

"More intensive training will be given such students, unhampered and unimpeded by the deadening weight of numbers."

Requirements for the two degrees to be granted—doctor of philosophy, which ordinarily requires four years of residence, and master, which ordinarily requires three years of residence—will be based on efficiency and achievement, rather than on years of residence. Present medical school and engineering school degrees will be continued, both of these being now on a graduate basis.

Unveiling of portraits and busts of living Hopkins men and faculty members was a feature of the anniversary ceremony.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York, Feb. 22.—[Special.]—There are so few events on the social calendar that society is largely interested these days in planning for future entertainments to be held following the end of the Lenten season. One of these is the butterfly ball, an annual affair given for the benefit of the House of Rest at Inwood-on-Hudson, which is to be an event of Easter week—April 8. Mrs. Leonard Cox is chairman of the dance committee.

Mr. and Mrs. John Henry Iselin Jr., who were married on Feb. 6, are at the Kirkwood at Camden on their wedding trip. Mrs. Iselin was Miss Lydia Merrill and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Merrill Jr. of 925 Park avenue.

Mrs. Douglas Campbell of 115 East 82d street gave a luncheon party Saturday at the Park Lane to announce the engagement of her daughter, Miss Mildred Mason Francis, to Arthur H. W. Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Lewis of Providence.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

A new little boy was visiting in our neighborhood. He stood around watching the boys play, but failing to observe any overtures from them. Finally he could not stand being ignored any longer, so he stepped bravely out and said, "If ony one wants to lick me let him come out and do it like a man." C. J. L.

Billy had been late to breakfast several mornings in succession. Finally, exasperated, his father exclaimed, "Billy, what ails you? Why are you late again this morning?"

"I dunno," replied the little chap with a sigh, "p'raps I overwashed myself." MRS. K. D. B.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Request Came Too Late.

"I would like to appeal to 'M. H. M.' who had a white bull terrier he wished to place in a good home. I am a young man, an invalid with one sister. Often have I wished that I had a good dog as a companion and a good watcher." "H. F. W."

The bull terrier has been given to an earlier applicant, but perhaps someone else is looking for a good home for a dog. One would certainly fill the lonely hours for this invalid.

Nurse's Uniform Needed.

"I wonder if any of your readers has one or more nurse girl's uniforms. My father has been out of work for six months. Every cent I earn I turn over to my family, so you see I haven't enough money to buy uniforms. B. G."

It's pretty hard to get along when one has to support the family on the small salary a nursemaid receives. This girl's burden will be lightened considerably with one or two of the uniforms mentioned above.

Convalescents' Home to Be Benefited by National Golf Show

Presently all commercial enterprises will be giving part of their proceeds to charity and will be having society women help sell their products or their tickets. The latest to realize the worth of this sort of management are the powers directing the National Golf show and Country club exposition. It is to take place from April 6 to 10 at the National Exposition palace of the Furniture Mart, and 50 per cent of the advance sale of tickets is to go to Grove House for Convalescents. Mrs. Hathaway Watson is chairman of the committee of prominent women in charge, with Mrs. Kent S. Clow and Mrs. James Lawrence Houghteling as vice chairmen; Mrs. Alexander Smith as treasurer, and Mrs. Robert A. Gardner as secretary. Mrs. Hubert Burnham, who received a telegraphic request to "take over" the publicity, wired from Palm Beach that she would be home by March 1 to help.

"Student steerage" seems to be all the rage now. The latest converts to this economical way of getting to Europe are Mrs. James Weber Linn of 1357 East 56th street and her two daughters, Jane, the debutante, and Miss Betty, the sub-deb. They are to sail on June 19 with a group of students and college folk from all over the country. Of course, the steerage has lost the aspect it bore when it housed immigrants, and has been made over into comfortable and clean quarters. On one boat which tried the plan last summer the good times had below deck were reported to be the envy of the first and second class passengers. Mrs. Linn and her daughters are to be abroad all summer.

Miss Jane Addams of Hull House is to sail for Europe on the same boat, but she will view the ocean from a higher altitude than her friends below.

Those friends of Mrs. Reimund Baumann, wife of the Danish consul at Chicago, have had no little amusement at the efforts of casual acquaintances of that charming person to put her at her ease. Possessed of great dignity and charm, but having quite a lilt, if hardly an accent, Mrs. Baumann gives the impression of being of the same nationality as her husband. Consternation has been spread upon more than one occasion when those solicitous ones have discovered she was born in the West Indies, of English parentage, and received her education in America. C'est la vie!

Mrs. Arthur G. Leonard Jr. is giving a little party this afternoon to "show off" her year old daughter, Jane, at the senior Leonards' residence at 4801 Woodlawn avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard departed yesterday morning for New York city to go to California by that delightful and roundabout route through the Panama canal. The young Leonards are making the best of small town life in Wilmington, Ill., where Mr. Leonard is running a paper mill, by coming to Chicago almost every weekend.

If Mrs. William H. Scriven and her two daughters, Jane and Betty, didn't possess immense amounts of resource and philosophy in their respective makeups, life now and during the past months would have been a drab proposition. When Mr. Scriven was killed in a motor accident last fall the hospitable house on Bellevue place had to be abandoned, and the Scriven belongings, many of them unique and beautiful things collected during travels abroad, were sold at public auction. Now Mrs. Scriven and the two girls have taken a tiny apartment on Oak street and are going about reconstructing their lives on a different pattern. Jane is finishing her business college course begun last year as a lark, and Betty is beginning one.

Miss Caroline Tyler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Monroe Tyler, has returned to St. Louis, Mo., after visiting Mr. and Mrs. O'Neill Ryan Jr. of 200 East Pearson street.

Mrs. Samuel Adams of 102 Bellevue place and Charles T. Adams are at French Lick Springs, Ind., for a fortnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Boynton, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Van Schaick, and Mr. and Mrs. Constant C. Hopkins are among the Highland Parkers who are to sail soon for European journeys.

Church Federation to Hold Good Friday Service

For the first time in the history of the Chicago Church federation, which represents 16 denominations and 700 churches, a three hour service will be held on Good Friday in the Chicago Temple, 77 West Washington street. There will be seven speakers among the leading Protestant ministers of Chicago, each of whom will speak on one of the so-called last seven words of Christ. "The Crucifixion" will be sung and every effort will be made to make a solemnly impressive service. The Church federation will hold a noonday Lenten service for Passion and Holy weeks, culminating on Good Friday with the three hour service. Dr. Ozora S. Davis, Bishop E. H. Hughes, Dr. John Thompson, Dr. C. W. Gilkey, Dr. H. L. Willett, Dr. S. P. Long, and Dr. Joshua Stansfield will be among the Lenten speakers.

Historical Society Opens Washingtonian Exhibit

The Historical society opened a special exhibition of papers and manuscripts relative to Washington and the revolution last evening. One group of interest to Chicago folk is the Henry C. Van Schaack papers, which constitute an autographic history of the revolution. These were given the society by the late Lydia Beekman Van Schaack Hibbard through her daughter, Mrs. Robert B. Gregory.

APRIL BRIDE

[Koehne Photo.]

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Ehlers of Oak Park announce the engagement of their daughter, Erna Elise, to Dr. Russell W. Goebel, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Goebel of Streator, Ill. The wedding is to take place in April.

Women Warned of Danger in Pursuit of Boyish Slimness

New York, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Thousands of women seeking fashionable slenderness throw away money on reduction treatments that are worthless and often dangerous, Dr. Arthur J. Cramp, director of the bureau of investigation of the American Medical association, said today.

Speaking at the adult weight conference being held by 25 leading physicians to fix proper weight standards, Dr. Cramp said the vogue of the boyish figure during the last few years has given tremendous impetus to this new form of quackery.

"Practically every 'fat cure,' no matter to what type it belongs," he said, "is exploited under two specific claims: First, that those who use it do not need to diet; second, that they need not exercise.

"Those who eat much and exercise little are likely to become obese, and no treatment that ignores the cause of the condition can or will be effective. The taking of drugs for the reduction of weight is a dangerous procedure at best and should never be done except under the personal supervision of a physician."

Trimness Knows Neither Changing Styles Nor Times

by Antoinette Donnelly

I was reading in an old book some advice to "Girls Who Come to Pieces in Public," and I couldn't help rejoice on the lucky day we find ourselves living in.

"As you walk down the aisle," be careful in grasping your skirt to do it at such an angle that the placket will not gape widely."

There was space given to the feature of belts that did not make connections, petticoats showing beneath the skirt hem, safety pins that protruded at the top.

"Be sure the hem of your skirt is even front, back, and sides," I read on.

The world rolls on, does it not? Girls do not come to pieces in public any more. The good old days are these present ones when you hop into a one piece frock and there you are, ready for any other fate than falling apart.

However, those old safety-pinned-down shirtwaist days had this advantage, you have to admit. You put on a fresh waist every time you went out. And petticoats protected dresses, in a measure, from clinging odors.

With so comparatively little between them and the one piece frock, it is a struggle to keep the modern dress free from taint. The only possible way it can be done is by fastidiousness about bathing, using a deodorant if there arises from the body any suspicion of odor, and airing the dress after each wearing. It is advisable to turn the dress inside out, put it on a hanger and within reach of the breezes from an open window.

Shields, however, can be disposed of if you use a solution to prevent excessive perspiration. A good one is 25 per cent of aluminum chloride in distilled water, which you can have made up inexpensively. There are a number of good deodorants on the market if you do not want to bother having this made. The thing to remember is that every age exacts its own toll. The one-piece-dress-age exacts this one of fastidious caution that you don't "go to pieces" in public, with an unpleasant odor clinging about you.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

E. D. G.: THERE IS IRON IN spinach, beans, cabbage, celery, tomatoes, carrots, potatoes, beets, turnips, eggs, raisins, figs, prunes, milk. A diet consisting of green vegetables, whole wheat bread, fruits, and some meats, eggs and milk will supply sufficient iron for the system.

G. W.: NO, IT IS NOT CORRECT to point the toes out, even a little. Toeing out makes the walk awkward and strains the arches. To correct it, toe in. Keep the toes pointed straight ahead and your feet will look neat and you will walk more gracefully.

WHAT'S WRONG HERE?

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 22.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dawes, wife of the Vice President, was the guest at luncheon today of Mrs. Robert Nelson Stanfield, wife of the senator from Oregon. The decorations of the house and the table all savored of the day which was being celebrated to honor the first President.

Mrs. Henry M. Dawes of Columbus, O., accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Curtis of Marietta, arrived here today to be at the Willard until Thursday evening. Mrs. Dawes is a sister-in-law of the Vice President.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schlesinger, who are staying in the Dupont circle home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Robert W. Patterson, had a dinner party last evening as a farewell to the retiring Roumanian minister, Prince Bibesco, and Princess Bibesco, who are returning shortly to their own country.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick F. Dumont, the former United States consul general at Frankfurt, Germany, arrived today at the Willard to spend several days.

The Congressional club, composed of the hostesses in official circles, have issued invitations for an evening reception in compliment to the Vice President and Mrs. Dawes on Friday evening of next week.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Two Favorite Corn Meal Recipes.

In the first place let me say in giving the following two of my favorite corn meal recipes that I did not originate the idea of starting corn meal to cook in cold water for mush. It is the easiest and simple way, however, to cook it, and so 'twas accepted gladly. Secondly, 15 minute mush requires a great deal more of the digestive power of a person than does mush cooked one hour and up, so I say, "Let the fire do it." Digestive labors, though unrecognized, mean genuine hard work for our abused red lane.

Corn meal mush cut up in blocks and baked with melted cheese is an excellent dish as well as economical; good enough for a party luncheon, and it is perfectly legitimate to call it by the Italian name of gnocchi. For four people make a mush of one-half cup of yellow corn meal, one tablespoon of white flour, a teaspoon of salt, and two cups of cold water. Have the water boiling when top kettle is set in; let it cook one hour, stir in water that may have collected on the cover and have dropped back, but otherwise do not stir. Rinse out the pan with cold water, pour in the mush, and when cold cut in blocks. Cut up one-half pound of cheese, melt it in one-half cup of milk, and when it is smooth and just before it is taken from the fire stir in two egg yolks. Put a little of it in a buttered baking dish, then a layer of mush, more of the sauce, more of the blocks, and have cheese on top. Bake in a hot oven until the cheese browns slightly at the edges.

The delicious little corn puffs, when a great success, do not tell that it was corn meal that you made them of. Scald one cup of milk and add to it a tablespoon of butter, a fourth of a teaspoon of salt, and half a cup of corn meal. Stir constantly over the fire until the whole is evenly thick, then cool and add to it two eggs beaten lightly and one-fourth cup of flour in which has been sifted two teaspons of baking powder and two tablespoons of sugar, or none, or more. Mix thoroughly, drop in hot gem pans—the tiny ones are best—and bake in a hot oven 15 or 20 minutes. You can make them without baking powder.

If You're Inclined to Be Self-Conscious, Try These Remedies

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"I am so self-conscious I am afraid to open my mouth when I am out with people for fear I'll say the wrong thing," confides B. D.

What difference would it make a week from now, a day or a year from now, if one did say the wrong thing? There lives no one so letter perfect that he can boast never to have blushed over some remark that got away from him uncensored. In fact, we all do so many things and say so many things we would not do or say, given time to think them over, that no self-conscious person need feel his faux pas is going to be registered against him.

The self-conscious persons suffer from such trivial causes—half the time purely imaginary. No one notices their errors because they are, as a rule, delivered in such a mild manner. It is the self-confident one whose ill chosen remarks are delivered in an opinionated way that suffers disfavor.

So, don't worry, B. D. Open your mouth every time you have that "skeer" about opening it, and say something. It is the only way to get over the trouble. If something slips out that shouldn't have come, cover it up quickly with a second remark. Just keep on talking until you get your balance.

The worst that can happen to you is that you might be laughed at. And that isn't such a dreadful thing, is it? Not if you learn, yourself, to join in the laughter at your own failures.

Self-conscious persons are usually limited in their friendships and social experience. Instead of trying to escape people, widen your social horizon. Lose no opportunity of widening it. Talk to every kind of person you meet, young, old, all kinds. Each experience will add just a little bit more to your power of direct speech. The weather is just as good a topic to start on as it ever was.

WEDDING

Announcement was made yesterday of the marriage of Margaret Kohl, daughter of Mrs. Charles E. Kohl of Chicago, to Walter Scott Leeds of Chicago, which took place at the Kohls' winter home on South Lake trail, Palm Beach. Only a few guests were present and the couple departed immediately for New York and will sail on Feb. 27 for Cherbourg, spending a few days in Paris before going to Egypt on their honeymoon. They will be at home after June 1 at the Blackstone hotel, and later will go to their country place at Oconomowoc, Wis.

WOMAN'S DRESS.

Here is a charming design for an afternoon frock. It is a slip-on dress, slashed down from the neck in the center front, underfaced and rolled with the collar. There is an inset shield; and the front and back of the dress are slashed and the lower edges of the openings gathered. The sleeves are slashed and gathered to correspond.

The pattern, 2675, comes in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 3½ yards of 40 inch material with ⅝ yard of 32 inch contrasting.

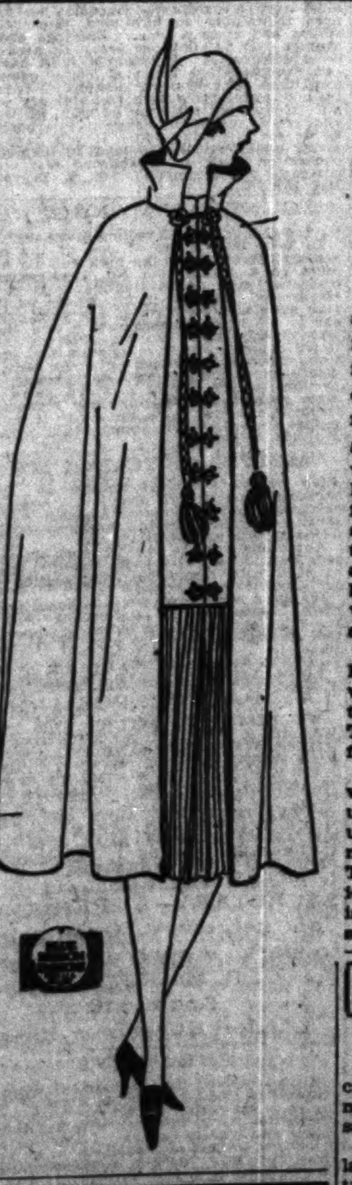
This Kasha Cape Wins Military Honors



by Corinne Lowe

New York.—[Special Correspondence.]—Here is a lady under martial law who gives no indication of longing for a return to peaceful conditions. Why should she when the military mood is expressed only in the wrap of an ensemble designed for southern wear?

The military cape is an occasional apparition in our present styles, but its effectiveness is in direct ratio to its infrequency. Behold the standing collar of this model, sufficiently remote from the throat to insure a becoming glimpse of that light blue crêpe with which the entire garment is lined; behold the jaunty waist coat with its frogs of gold braid reinforced by tasseled gold cord and, last of all, remark the close fitting of the shoulder line as compared with the generous flare below—when you have done this you will have admitted military honors are highly desirable for any cape.

This wrap is fashioned of white kasha and the two-piece frock worn with it is in blue crêpe of the same tone used for the lining of the cape. The skirt is knife-plaited, but only at front and sides.

As I have previously remarked, the wrap of the spring ensemble is often unlined. An extra grace is bestowed upon this system by the fact that many of the wraps are in bi-color. That is to say, the interior and exterior sides are of a different color. What is more, the garment is often made so it is reversible.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Pictures, Not Pence.

My most embarrassing moment occurred the other day while having my nephew's bank opened to deposit his savings.

Imagine how I felt when the clerk laughingly handed me two tiny pictures of myself, which had been taken quite a few years ago and, needless to say, are quite old fashioned.

The clerk, still laughing, said, "He is a good little saver," but I did not wait to reply—I made a hasty exit.

ANSWER TO WHAT'S WRONG HERE

A woman should be given the choice seat in a restaurant when dining with a man.—E. E. F.

Women Use

Then dispose of this new hygienic help easily as tissue—no laundry

WOMEN by the millions are discarding the old-time "sanitary pad" for a new and scientific way.

A way that offers protection unknown before. A way, too, that solves the old embarrassment of disposal.

It is called "KOTEX." Eight in 10 better-class women now employ it.

✓ Discards as easily as a piece of tissue. No laundry. No embarrassment.

It's five times as absorbent as ordinary cotton pads!

You dine, dance, motor for hours in sheerest frocks without a second's doubt or fear.

It deodorizes, too. And thus ends ALL danger of offending.

You ask for it at any drug or department store, without hesitancy, simply by saying "KOTEX."

Do as millions are doing. End old, insecure ways. Enjoy life every day. Package of twelve costs only a few cents.

KOTEX

MRS. BELASCO, WIFE OF STAGE PRODUCER, DIES

New York, Feb. 22.—(AP)—Mrs. David Belasco, wife of the theatrical producer, died today at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Morris Gest. She had been ill since last December.

Before her marriage Mrs. Belasco was Miss Celia Loverich. She was a native of California and met Mr. Belasco when he was a struggling actor in San Francisco. They were married at the home of his parents there. The first nine years of their married life were marked by many financial disappointments.

Twice Mr. Belasco brought plays to New York, but was unsuccessful in his efforts to dispose of them.

FUNERAL RITES TOMORROW FOR WILLIAM WEIL

Lodge No. 4 of Elks held services last night over the remains of William Weil, former leader of the Chicago band, in the undertaking rooms at 810 North Clark street. After the services the body was taken on a night train to St. Louis, where final funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon in Valhalla cemetery. Mrs. Alma Weil, his widow, and Emanuel Weil, a brother, accompanied the body to St. Louis. For fifteen years Mr. Weil was the leader of the Chicago band until it suspended activities in 1923.

J. W. Deegan, Bank's Chief of Police 38 Years, Dies

Funeral services were held yesterday for Capt. John W. Deegan, for thirty-eight years at the head of the First National bank police, from his home at 550 Surf street. A police escort to Calvary cemetery was furnished by courtesy of the Lincoln Park board. Capt. Deegan was a marksman of note and a member of the Lincoln Park Gun club. He is survived by three daughters and a son.

Hold Final Rites for S. D. Reeve, Oak Park Man

Funeral services for S. D. Reeve, 84, who died at Long Beach, Cal., Feb. 13, were held yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Baker, 618 North Ridgeland avenue, Oak Park. Burial followed. Mr. Reeves for twenty years was an official of the Chicago and Alton railroad here. He retired in 1902. He was 84 years old.

CASIMIR W. DYNIEWICZ, said to be the founder of the first Polish language newspaper in the United States, died suddenly last Friday at the age of 86 years. Mr. Dyniewicz lived at 4738 Milwaukee avenue. He came to Chicago in 1867, engaged in the printing business with his father, and established a newspaper. Later he engaged in the real estate business.

A NEW RECORD.

IN BONA FIDE SALES DURING PAST 30 DAYS.

STEADILY INCREASING BUSINESS NECESSITATES THE OPENING

SECOND ADDITION To GRENNAN HEIGHTS

Sunday, February 28.

OUR THIRD SUBDIVISION IN SIX MONTHS.

10 SALES MANAGERS,
20 EXP. SALESMEN,
40 INEXPERIENCED MEN.

BIGGER COMMISSION.
MONTHLY BONUS.
SIX MONTH BONUS.
CAR ALLOWANCE.

Get in before the opening and share in the big money our men are making. They aren't supersalesmen, but they have the fastest selling property in the city and a live wire organization be- hind them.

GRENNAN HEIGHTS has been able to achieve this re- markable record of almost a million dollars in sales in a single month because it has action-compelling selling Points. GRENNAN HEIGHTS is located in the beautiful Park Ridge District, only 24 minutes from the loop—is rigidly restricted, and has tremendous property im- provements, including sewer, water, gas, electricity, graded streets, sidewalks and lamp posts. This property, with all these advantages, sells for as low as $1,290 a lot — practically the price of undeveloped property far- ther out. These are some of the reasons why GRENNAN HEIGHTS is the fastest sell- ing property in the city.

No matter what your pres- ent occupation is, if you are making less than $10,000 a year, your own future de- mands that you give our proposition a trial. You have probably never given your- self a chance to make big money. You can do it now without interfering with your present work. We give our part time workers every assistance — we even sell for them.

We will immediately place ten sales managers in our or- ganization to handle crews. We have at the present time crews that will be turned over to live wire sales managers. This will place them in positions where they will be in immediate produc- tion. Our qualifications are initiative, good personality, topnotchers, and good refer- ences. We have the biggest proposition in the city, and have only started to make way. Our plans for 1926 will not only surprise but will please you. Our $10,- 000,000 development is be- ing whipped into shape and will be ready for the spring rush. Ten foot sidewalks on business streets, electric lamp posts, 800 ft. electric sign work with letters 10 feet high by 8 feet wide, etc., will con- vince you, when you hear our plan, that the heads of this organization are live wires and action is what we want and must have. Do you want to be connected with this kind of an organization? If you do, see us at once.

Our next subdivision will be sold in the next thirty days, but owing to the fact that we were fortunate enough to make an excep- tional acreage buy about a year ago we are in position to open one subdivision after another for some time to come. If you want to make a connection with a new firm where you have a future you will make no mistake if you take the time to investigate our proposition.

Remember that the Euchar- istic Congress will be held June 17th to 24th a few miles north of us, and we will have millions of people pass our property during the months of May and June.

We have thousands of resi- dential and apartment lots and also miles upon miles of business lots on Milwaukee, Oakton, Harlem, and Main- sts. We are only thirteen miles from the loop. Our de- velopment is rigidly zoned and restricted. Our men and women are making a clean- up and this will continue for the next three years. $1,000 per month is nothing unusual for some of them to make.

You are cordially invited to attend our Wednesday Eve- ning Meetings, which are held in our suite at 8 o'clock every Wednesday evening.

ARNUM, Room 1207, 5 S. Wabash-av.

ATTENTION, SALESMEN.

If you are looking for a big chance, your real opportunity, this is it. There is a big demand for these lots priced at about $1,100 to $1,300. We have them: 19 min- utes to loop, 7½c fare; school on property; sidewalks, sewer, and water now in; big bldg. and adv. campaign; big cash commissions. Why work your head off on property too far out at double the price? We finance you if you can prove you are a salesman. See Daddy Hobbs, R. 353, 111 W. Washington.

ATTENTION, SALESMEN!

Can you sell direct to consumer a house- hold necessity used 3 times a day? If so, clip this advertisement. It represents money to you. Have it cashed on the dot Tuesday, 1 p. m. Room 1300, 5 N. Wabash. Mr. Tuesburg.

I WANT 40 SMITHS.

Young Smith never sold a dollar's worth of anything in his life, he told me frankly, but I employed him for a client firm. One of the firm's sales managers said Smith should never have been hired.

However, I believed in Smith—the slow talker, the self-conscious greenhorn—because Smith had the one ingredient of ability that forecasts success in salesmanship.

Smith had the ability to work; he had the courage to smile at "No!" Smith was sincere; he was honest—in short, he was and is a man. All Mr. Smith needed was in- telligent, patient sales direction. He got it— he says so himself.

Well, Smith made good and will continue to make good. He talks just right now and he has lost the self-consciousness that caused a certain sales manager to turn "thumbs down" on him.

Now, I want forty Smiths; men without experience, who are sincere and honest and who have the ability to do a man's work in a day's time under proper sales direction.

If you are a man of the Smith type I want to talk to you. I can and will direct you to sales success. I have a wonderful proposi- tion to make you. Write and tell me all about yourself. I will treat your letter in the strictest confidence.

will be the guests of a luncheon given on the date of the opening, at which time and place plat and price will be released and lectures given by the most prominent men in Chicago, also entertainments.

MR. SALESMAN:

This and ten other high grade prop- erties I own will be placed on the market for as low as 85% under ad- jacent plat prices, and build a home when purchaser makes first payment on the lot, with no further payments on the house, only small monthly payments like rent. It is made possible because I own all properties outright, bought years ago for less than one- half the price that acreage costs to- day. To build a clientele and the finest organization in the country I am not only giving value to the public but will give to salesmen hundreds of tes- timonial letters whereby our old cus- tomers have made from 100 to 1000% on the investment made with us, and will also give to salesmen all the leads, fullest co-operation, and the highest commission in the city of Chi- cago, if not DOUBLE.

"Write Your Own Ticket."

REMEMBER, applications for posi- tions for this great drive will be ac- cepted only until and including the 10th day of March, 1926. Positively no salesmen will be accepted after the 10th day of March. Apply at once from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. See Director of Personnel.

SALESMEN AND SALES MANAGERS,

Experienced, Inexperienced. Also Those Who Speak Foreign Languages.

If you make a neat appearance and can bring one reference I will appoint you as a salesman or sales manager directly under me to sell property that I personally own, which means that you get all of the com- mission involved yourself. For twenty years I have been buying and selling Chicago real estate. I own millions of dollars' worth of it now, so ideally situated that the property does more to sell itself than the salesman can do, yet you get top commissions for full or part time work. You do not have to solicit. We show you every point of selling and then send you to interested prospects direct. You could not help but make money with me.

WE APOLOGIZE

We advertised a new Gary because JONES & LAUGHLIN purchased 1,200 acres in HAM- MOND to build a 75 Mil- lion Dollar Steel Plant to employ 25,000 men. It is under construction.

Here is profit from STEEL.

We should also have added the following:

ROXANA REFINERIES just purchased 500 acres in HAMMOND to build a mammoth 35 Million Dollar Refinery to em- ploy 10,000 men.

Here is profit from OIL.

HENRY FORD just pur- chased 1,400 acres in HAMMOND for aviation purposes. Hello, air- planes!

Here is profit from FORD.

Profit from STEEL!
Profit from OIL!
Profit from FORD!

This all means profits from HAMMOND REAL ESTATE. Follow the captains of industry.

FREE—FREE—FREE
SALESMANSHIP.

There are thousands of men in Chicago now earning from $30 to $50 a week who have the ability to earn $100 a week. We teach you how to find yourself; how to get into the best paid profession in Chicago. You earn while you learn. You must sacrifice two or three evenings a week, but it is worth your while, for you can double your present salary and it will not interfere with your present employment. We will soon have you in our organization, where you work on leads only.

Are you willing to spend Tuesday and Friday evenings this week with us?

Our second class starts Tuesday evening at 7:30

PROF. MICHAEL LEWIS,
CHARACTER ANALYST,
Rm. 408, 77 W. Washington.

HAVE YOU FOUND YOURSELF?
WHAT CAN YOU DO BEST?
WHAT ARE YOUR LATENT FORCES?

Don't waste time. Come in and get a character analysis free. Have your strong powers pointed out to you by a man of 22 years' experience. At a glance he will tell you what is in the way that keeps you from success and will tell you your weaknesses and how to overcome them. You cannot determine your earning power; the best you can do is guess.

Prof. Lewis has been engaged by some of the large corporations in the United States. Many people owe their success to him. His marvelous and wonderful delineations in public and private place him in a class by himself. Consult him absolutely free from 10 o'clock to 3 and from 7 to 8. Those selected by Prof. Lewis will be given positions by large Chicago corporation.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

Will what you are doing today with your spare hours make you richer or wiser or nearer success a week from today? If not, come to Rm. 1805, 11 S. La Salle-st., Tuesday eve. at 8:30, Feb. 23, and you will be astounded at the amounts of extra money you can earn for a few hours' spare time work. For the first time in months we can use a few inexperienced men part time during this, our busiest season. You will be paid from the start and taught a profession that will lead to lifelong success. Guaranteed positions with substantial earnings to those who take up this work. YOU BE AMONG THEM. Remember Tues. eve. at 8:30 P. M. Promptly!

YOU MAY BE THE MAN

GENTLEMEN,
Can You Tell Gold from Silver?

Of all the ads that ever appeared in Chicago newspapers, and some of which no doubt have been read by you, which stated that you can earn various sums with your spare time, you would be surprised to find our proposition to be an entirely different one.

When you call at my office, I will show you a diploma that I have graduated from the school of hard knocks, no less than yours are today, to a point that I am known as a national genius salesman, owning several millions of dollars' worth of property, enjoying the best reputation with Chicago's leading business institutions.

I WILL GUARANTEE

to work with you, for you, and I have a record of never averaging less than $500.00 PER WEEK.

I will give you an Iron Clad contract, backed by a million dollar institution, that I will split with you no matter what I earn, resulting from your assistance of an hour or two of your spare time, either during the day or night. No matter what your occupation may be, Physician, Business Man, School Teacher, Engineer, Foreman, Superintendent, etc., our association will not interfere with your occupation, nor will it jeopardize your standing.

You will also find you will be mighty happy to meet me, thus educating you in a profession that will make you in a very short time (it's up to you) rich and independent, and possibly have an opening for you with this great institution, to become in the very near future an executive like many we have here now, who started on a part time basis, and are now earning as high as $20,000 A YEAR.

Ladies and Gentlemen are cordially invited to attend a very interesting and practical lecture which I will give at our headquarters, Tuesday, February 23rd, at 8 p. m. This is the first of a series of lectures to be given weekly, and we want you to enroll. You will not obligate yourself in any way. Do not wait for another day. Come Tuesday night and let me show you how I can help you.

NEW WAY TO MAKE MONEY AT HOME.

Would you like to make money at home and have fun doing it? Would you like to earn an extra pay check every week for delightful adventure with a nationally famous institution; financially rewarded while enjoying a beautiful, cultural experience?

Absolutely no selling! No experience!

A simple and most fascinating way to earn an extra income in your spare time. Will in no way intrude upon your present occupation. It is so wonderful that members say it seems too good to be true—but hundreds know it is true and more are joining every day.

$35-$50 WEEKLY.

Whether you merely wish to devote your spare time, and add to your present income, or wish to leave your present occupation for a larger income, or both, your success is positively assured if you are really sincere. We do not believe that a more genuine opportunity exists in Chicago today for the self-supporting lady, but you must act promptly, as we have an exact number to employ and when the quota is filled we will engage no more.

Call promptly at 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening, Feb. 24th, 4th floor, 360 N. Michigan-av. [London Guarantee and Accident Bldg.]. Don't forget Wednesday evening only.

A BETTER OPPORTUNITY to the woman with real ability, who is anxious to become a MASTER saleswoman. THE AQUITANIA

"DISTINCTIVE"

This single word expresses a woman's preference for the Aquitania Apartments. A preference so firmly established that the Aquitania, although a comparatively new building, is today Chicago's outstanding fine apartment residence.

The apartments in this palatial 15 story building are distinctive, not merely because they have one or two outstanding features, but because they have been definitely and carefully planned for those who realize that the time spent in their home is so large a portion of their existence that it should contribute largely to their physical comfort and mental contentment.

The Aquitania contains unfurnished apartments of from three to six rooms, with one and two baths. High speed electric elevators; modulating vapor heating system; garage chutes to incinerators; electric fireplaces; electric refrigeration; water filtering system; are part of the equipment provided.

CLOSE IN BUSINESS PROPERTY.
59TH-ST. AND KEDZIE-AV. DISTRICT, and take advantage of the present low prevailing prices.
There are today approximately 75,000 people living in that territory between Western and Central Park-avs. and 51st and 67th-sts. 59th-ST. and KEDZIE-AV., on account of its central location is rapidly developing into the chief business center for this entire district.
Ascher Bros. new Colony Theater, one of the most beautiful in the outlying districts, with its large, modern, fully equipped stage, will be the show place of the Southwest Side. The Gage Park State Bank is also locating here. These two enterprises indicate the high type of the other improvements which will soon take place.

"THE HOUSE THAT SERVICE BUILT."

LINCOLN 5 PASS. SEDAN. THIS 1925 model positively appears and operates the same as new. Every detail, including the tires, upholstery, and appointments throughout will carry a high appeal to the most discriminating buyer of a high grade motor car. Equipment is complete. Fully guaranteed the same as new. Unusual saving at our attractive price.

CADILLAC V 63 7 PASS. SEDAN. Here is a car that is practically new in every respect. Has had very low mileage and the best of care; motor has been carefully broken in and is very smooth and quiet; tires are A-1; upholstery shows no sign of use; fully equipped; anyone in the market for a new car of this type will find this a rare opportunity to realize new car service and appearance at a substantial reduction in price.

BUICK COUPE, LATE 1925. THE original finish and perfect mechanical and coach condition strongly attest to the low mileage and careful attention this car has had. Tires are in A-1 condition; equipped with front and rear heavy duty bumpers, 2 windshield wipers, winter front, motometer, etc. Inspect this splendid value at once, as our low price warrants an immediate sale.

NASH 1925 7 PASS. SEDAN. THIS car has had very low mileage and is virtually in new car condition throughout. The perfection of every detail will pass the most critical examination. Equipment is complete. Unmatched value is offered at our today's special price.

CHANDLER 7 PASS. 1925 SEDAN. If you are in the market for a new car of this type we urge your inspection of this offering before buying. Every detail, including the motor, finish, upholstery, tires, etc., are positively in 100% condition. Fully equipped. The shrewdest automobile buyer will quickly realize the unmatched value this car offers.

Pierce-Arrow

LINCOLN—Enclosed Drive Limousine. Here is a car that really has to be seen to be appreciated. It received a complete burnt-off paint job by Kimball less than 60 days ago and the entire interior of the car is as immaculately clean as a new automobile. The tires are good and the mechanical condition excellent. Price $2,450.

PACKARD—Straight 8 Sedan Limousine. If you are looking for a car of this type, here is one that will give you excellent service at a substantial saving. The coach condition is very good and the car mechanically should give many thousands of miles of good service. Price $2,750.

PIERCE-ARROW—Series 80 Sedan. This current model sedan, refinished in a beautiful maroon can hardly be distinguished from a new car. It is equipped with balloon tires, Pierce-Arrow 4 wheel brakes, seat covers and many extras. This is the best value we have ever had to offer in a 5 pass. sedan and a saving of over $1,300 can be effected on this car at our specially reduced price of $2,900.

PAIGE—4 Door Brougham. Refinished a dust proof gray with vermilion wheels and striping, this car presents a beautiful appearance and can hardly be distinguished from new. Full equipment including 5 excellent Firestone balloon tires, bumpers, windshield wiper, heater, trunk and spotlight. A very desirable closed car bargain at $1,100.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

"FLORIDA IN FACT AND FICTION."
EVERYBODY INVITED.

[A special invitation to everybody to see the greatest motion pictures of Florida that have ever been shown in America. They are attracting thousands of people. A great big show and entertainment free of charge. See these marvelous Florida pictures. They are the talk of the town. A special invitation to everybody Tuesday evening, February 23, 8 o'clock sharp, 11th floor, Lake View Building, 116 S. Michigan-av.]

See these Motion Pictures of Florida—see the wonderful attractions that are taking hundreds of thousands to Florida—hear the story first hand from a man who knows—come and hear the TRUTH about Florida. See with your own eyes—hear the story of fortune making from men who have studied the situation at first hand—see the tropical paradise and that Magic Land which has no equal elsewhere in the world. Look down from an airplane upon the skyscrapers of Miami, on the dazzling beauties of Miami, Palm Beach, and the fascinating East Coast of Florida with its beautiful Bays, Beaches, Waterways, and hundreds of Palaces that line the Ocean front—see the Sports, the Fun, the Bathing Reviews, and the pleasure-seeking thousands who go there annually to enjoy themselves. Come and hear the lecture by a man who knows Florida—who can tell you everything about Florida—the wealth that is being made—the activities that are there—he can tell you about the climate, building operations, agricultural situation, and can answer every question that one can possibly ask about this marvelous State. He will give you the truth about Florida in his wonderful lecture.

"FLORIDA IN FACT AND FICTION."

It is educational and convincing, and will make you feel that you are living in the land of Sunshine, Palms, and in that happy land that is bringing health and wealth to millions of Americans.

The entire program is absolutely free. This lecture and exhibit are part of an educational campaign to enlighten Chicagoans on the marvelous growth and possibilities of Florida. Program starts promptly at 8 o'clock, Tuesday evening, February 23, 11th floor, Lake View Bldg., 116 S. Michigan-av. Our seating capacity is limited; come early and be assured of a comfortable seat. EVERYBODY IN CHICAGO INVITED.

DON'T FORGET THE PLACE AND DATE. NO ADMISSION.

SEE THE MAGIC LAND OF YOUR DREAMS
In motion pictures; a marvelous exhibit. "FLORIDA IN FACTS AND FICTION" is the title of a lecture to be given by a man who has studied Florida at first hand.
